

Society

Miss Margaret Voorhes and Miss Marion Kerkie, members of the Younger Exclusive Set.

Mrs. John L. Burke, Honored at Henry Social Functions.

Mrs. Bruce Stewart, who will visit in San Francisco.

September 1 will be marked by two or three weddings of interest. One of the most important weddings of Wednesday will be that of Miss Althea Moore, of Salem, and Robert Kinney, of Astoria. Several Portlanders will attend and the nuptials will be of interest to society all over the state.

Kester Mendenhall and Miss Berrie Lester will wed on the same day in this city.

Mrs. C. A. Dolph and Miss Hazel Dolph left Friday for New York City. Before returning they will go to New York City and other Eastern points.

The entertaining of the Oregon and Washington State Bar associations formed an important part of the week's social activities. Among the functions of importance was the reception given on Monday night in the University Club. Gay gladioli and other flowers were mingled with palms and ferns, affording an attractive decoration. The judiciary committee, including R. A. Leiter, M. E. Crumacker, Benjamin C. Day, A. A. Hampson and Harry Rafferty, assisted in receiving the many distinguished judges and men of prominence, as well as a large representation of handsomely gowned and charming women, attended. Assisting about the rooms in the dispensation of hospitalities were Mrs. Joseph Nathan Teal, Mrs. George N. Davis, Mrs. Wallace McCann, Mrs. Sanderson Reed, Mrs. Forrest Fisher, Mrs. C. A. Hart, Mrs. S. B. Huston, Mrs. Walter Evans and Mrs. R. A. Leiter. About 200 guests attended. Dainty refreshments were served. Music throughout the receiving hours added an air of festivity.

On Tuesday night the Waverley Country Club was the scene of the second important function. The night was ideal for an out-of-doors affair. The guests went to the club by way of a boat ride on the river. The grounds of the Country Club were gayly lighted with hundreds of electric lights, each shaded with a Japanese lantern. Frederick H. Behrens, who had charge of the programme, had planned the festivity in a thorough manner. The entertainment provided included specialties by Joe Flynn and minstrels from Fantages; David Roth, the memory expert, and features by the Ad Club quartet. A supper was served at small tables arranged about the terrace. Dancing was enjoyed in the ballroom, and music by an orchestra was an attraction all the evening. Mr. and Mrs. Roger E. Slinn, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph A. Coan and Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Hogue received, and assisting were Mr. and Mrs. G. N. Woodley, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Hart, Mr. and Mrs. Ben C. Day, Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Fisher, Mr. and Mrs. Omar C. Spencer, A. A. Hampson and Audrey Watsek.

Miss Marie Hertenstein, a gifted pianist, who has played with several symphony orchestras, has arrived from Vienna and is the guest of Mrs. Susie Pennell Pipes. The visitor, although quite young, has already won high praise from the critics. She was honored guest on Wednesday at an informal musical which Mrs. Pipes entertained a few friends. Tom Dodson sang. Mrs. Pipes played violin selections and Miss Hertenstein contributed piano numbers.

The special Horse Show to be given from September 30 to October 13 by the Panama-Pacific International Exposition at San Francisco promises to be a social event of country-wide interest. Not only does the list of patrons and patronesses contain the names of many leaders of the fashionable world, but numerous members of the smart sets of the East and West will be represented by horses and vehicles in the judging forum.

Among those who already have promised to be patrons and patronesses of the show are: Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Stotesbury, of Philadelphia; General and Mrs. J. B. Castleman, of Louisville, Ky.; J. Campbell Thompson, of New York; Joseph K. Maddux, of Warrenton, Ore.; John D. Grimmins, of New York; Mr. and Mrs. George Wingfield, of Reno, Nev.; Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Stanton, of Chicago; A. G. Leonard, of Chicago; Major J. G. Harbord, United States Army; and Mrs. Harbord; Fred Webb, of Wisconsin; Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Farrell, of Portland, Ore.; Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Treat, of Seattle, Wash.; and John L. Bushnell, of Springfield, Ohio. Besides many prominent Californians. Among others who are expected to act as patrons and patronesses are Messrs. and Mrs. Peter C. Edwards, Edward McLean, William Hitt and Richard Wallach, all of Washington, D. C.; Joseph Widener, of Philadelphia; Joseph Leiter, of Washington, D. C.; and Mrs. James H. Haggis, of New York.

Cash prizes aggregating $16,975 and trophies of a total value of $2500 will be awarded at this show, which will be confined to horses of the performance classes, such as roadsters, carriage horses, harness and saddle ponies, hunters and jumpers and gallopers.

Carriage horses will be driven to runabout, gig, victoria, women's phaeton, tandem and four-in-hand. Some of the most stylish turnouts in the United States will take part in the show, which it is confidently believed will demonstrate to the world that the horse is as popular as ever—some say more so than ever—in the minds of fashionable people, who may use their motor cars for rapid travel, pure and simple, but prefer the luxurious ease and comfort of the family carriage, the exercise and sport of a spirited saddle horse, or the stylish tandem, four-in-hand coach or jaunting car to the touring car, the limousine or the runabout. Already there have been applications in great quantities for reservations of boxes, and the sale of them will begin at an early date. Society gives evidence of being present in force at the Exposition Horse Show.

The many friends of Consul and Mrs. Thomas Erskine among the smart set are regretting that the new appointment will take them from Portland to live. Mrs. Erskine has endeavored herself to a wide circle of friends. Miss Diana and Miss Violet Erskine are both popular and will be missed when they leave here for the south.

Portland is justly proud of its roses. Its beautiful environments and its many other attractions, but its greatest asset is its beautiful, healthy, happy children. In the ranks of the smartest society and in the ordinary, everyday homes these bright-eyed, ruddy-cheeked boys and girls are found. One of the brightest, who is the comfort and joy of his mother and is popular among his many friends, is Richard Nunn, son of Dr. and Mrs. Richard Nunn.

Edward Louis Prudhomme, the 15-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Prudhomme, is an unusually bright baby. He is now at Gearhart with his mother and is enjoying the making of forts and sand pies with the other little people at the fashionable resort.

Charles and Margaret Cartwright are attractive children of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Cartwright.

Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Williams have a bonny little son, Morris, who is of a sunny disposition and beloved by all his friends.

Little Frances Healy gave a party recently for a number of her smart set friends and proved herself an ideal young hostess and a really, truly lady.

Alvin Anderson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Anderson and is well liked by all his playmates and grown-up friends.

One of the most interesting weddings of the week was that of Miss Jean Katherine Allison and Homer B. Jamison, which took place Tuesday at 6 o'clock in the White Temple. The auditorium was beautifully decorated with golden glow and other yellow blossoms and the nuptials were a most charming affair. Miss Fay Ball, of Astoria, presided at the organ.

AUTUMN in all its beauty of soft tones of brown is cleverly exemplified in the Eastern's newly decorated display windows. From the rich brown background to the elegant display of Suits, Waists, Dresses, Coats and Millinery there is a charming look and feel of Fall that makes one long to discard Summer apparel.

Beautiful Fur-Trimmed Suits $30

Fur on everything seems to be the call for Fall. We are showing several stunning fur-trimmed models of rich broadcloth, priced at $30 and $32.50. One especially charming model is of brown broadcloth. The coat is a plain box model, has black ball buttons down the front and cuffs and collar of black fur. The skirt is plain, of moderate fullness. We have many other new Fall suits, in tweed, serge, whipcord and poplin, priced as low as $22.50.

Stunning Fall Waists

displayed in the windows
$5, $6 and $7.50
New silk fishnet, combined with chiffon and lace. Smart striped taffetas with high novelty collars, and exquisite lace models touched with delicately-tinted messaline.

Chic Millinery

Becoming Fall models for every taste. Large, droopy hats for young, pretty faces; small turbans for the matron. Every style for all occasions—street, work and dress wear.

Credit your privilege

Eastern Outfitting Co.

405 Washington St., at Tenth playing a prelude and the wedding march. The Rev. E. M. Bliss, pastor of the Berkeley Baptist Church, who is a life-long friend of the bride, read the service. Mrs. E. M. Bliss, of Hood River, was the best man, and Samuel Robinson directed the singing. Both young men are fraternity brothers of the same fraternity. Miss Mildred Simpson was maid of honor. The bride was attired in a modish tailored suit of blue gabardine. Her hat was a smart Fall model in black velvet. A corsage bouquet of Cecil Brunner roses mingled with lilies of the valley completed the bride's ensemble. Miss Simpson wore blue serge with Fall hat and a corsage bouquet of tiny pink roses. Mrs. Katherine Allison, mother of the bride, and Mrs. E. M. Jamison, mother of the bridegroom, were handsomely gowned, each wearing lace over silk.

The bride is an attractive girl and immensely popular. She is a member of Delta Delta Delta sorority, and both she and Mr. Jamison are graduates of the University of Oregon in the class of 1912. Mr. Jamison was an all-star athlete. He was captain of two teams and is now coach in athletics at Jefferson High School, where he is a member of the faculty in the department of English.

The bridegroom is a member of Sigma Chi fraternity. Mr. and Mrs. Jamison left Wednesday for San Francisco. They will visit the exposition and various points of interest and on their return will be at home at their new residence, 1230 Commercial street, Piedmont.

Many Portlanders will be interested in several of the debutantes of the Fall in San Francisco. One of the loveliest of the buds will be Miss Josephine Grant, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph D. Grant. The lovely young girl's mother was Miss Edith Macleay of this city. It is probable that Miss Josephine will make her debut at one of the big balls of the season. The Grants have a magnificent new home one Broadway in San Francisco.

The Daughters of the American Revolution, who will attend the general conference, in San Francisco next month will have some splendid social entertainments planned for their guests. One of the treats, which, by the way, is only for regents and officers, will be the reception at the Hacienda, Mrs. Phoebe Hearst's beautiful country home, near Pleasanton. Mrs. Hearst is extremely hospitable. She typifies the best of the true spirit of Californian hospitality and has the wealth to carry out her generous impulses and kind thoughtfulness. An addition to the beautiful place she built about three seasons ago, is a dining room fashioned along Norman lines. She can entertain here between 200 and 300 guests at a time. Mrs. Isaac Lee Patterson, regent of the Oregon state chapters, will attend the conference and will be an honorary hostess at the Oregon building during the national gathering of the daughters.

Riding has been quite popular this summer. Many who wanted exercise and fresh air and to see the delightful places where an auto cannot go have made trips on horseback. Among the enthusiasts in this form of diversion are the Blaine Smiths, who have just returned from a trip of 325 miles in the Cascade Mountains. Mr. and Mrs. Smith and their four children, the youngest but 5 years of age, made the entire trip without any accidents or delays. The family was accompanied by Howard Strowbridge, a nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Clark have been entertaining their daughter, Mrs. Carl Byron Tuttle, for several weeks and have planned many informal parties for her. Today Mr. Tuttle will arrive in Portland to join his wife and son and the Tuttle and Clark will leave late in the week for San Francisco, where they will visit the Exposition.

Last Wednesday Mrs. Clark entertained at a luncheon and motor trip for C. E. Eden and Carl and Olga Eden, of Providence, R. I., who were among the

The W. S. Settle Shop

PITCOCK BLOCK, 383 WASHINGTON ST. PORTLAND
Exclusive Apparel for Women

Announces a Display of Latest Autumn Models

In Suits, Blouses, Gowns
Street and Dancing Frocks
Motor and Street Coats

More beautiful than ever are the models this season in all lines. Suits—superb suits—in endless variety of styles, produced in materials which are wonderfully attractive.

CONFINE TO THE SETTLE SHOP.

Tailored Blouses

In all Newest Fabrics and Colorings

SEE WINDOW DISPLAY.

An invisible aid to beauty

CARMEN HAIR NET 5c

for that fashionable, neat, well-dressed appearance—wear Carmen, the Quality Hair Net. A style for every coiffure—a shade for any hair.

Ask your dealer for the "Carmen Booklet"—Latest Styles in Hairdressing—it's free. Style 4 Carmen Net is 36 inches long with knotted ends.

Look for the Carmen envelope 5c each at YOUR dealer's

We show above the Carmen envelope—for your guidance in buying hair nets SOCIETY this past week was something like Mount Hood—not in evidence. We knew it was here or there or somewhere, but it did not make itself manifest. At this time of the year but little is expected of society in the way of formal entertaining. Informal parties and outings, dinners and picnics and many impromptu affairs have been numerous.

Mrs. C. H. Carey entertained Mrs. Taft, Miss Maria Herron, Miss Helen Taft and Miss Louise Taft on Thursday, when they were here for a few hours' visit. There was an auto trip and a luncheon at the Carey residence. Miss Helen Taft visited Miss Helen Harber for an hour or more. The girls were friends at Bryn Mawr. Miss Louise Taft is a daughter of Charles F. Taft, of Cincinnati, and Miss Herron is Mrs. Taft's sister. The visitors were here merely as tourists. Like so many who have been in the West this summer they were seeing America.

Miss Martha Van Rensselaer, of Ithaca, N. Y., who represents one of the oldest families in the United States, was here last Sunday. She was one of the most charming of the women who have stopped in Portland this season. She doesn't go about talking about her ancestors. It takes much cross-questioning to get her to admit that she is of the "Van Rensselaers" and that her people at one time owned a large part of the present state of New York. She is the type of the finest of American womanhood. Aside from the entertaining of visitors and the announcement of a few engagements, there is but little to record. Society was at Gearhart and Seaside and the other resorts, but this week will see many of the smart set returning. School begins a little earlier than usual this year and the wardrobe for the young people will have to be replenished. After the first plans for the early Fall are made a number of parties no doubt will be given and then we may expect several engagement announcements and a number of parties for the brides-to-be.