Berlin Said to Have Explained Attempt to Sink Orduna, but This Is Not Likely to Become Subject of Controversy.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—The issue with Germany has been turned to a less acute stage in the last 24 hours through consideration of the proposal to take the dispute in the questions of fact in the Arabic case to The Hague. One set of officials believes to do so would amount to arbitrating the principles for which the United States has been contending and would open the way practically to unlimited submarine operations, with disputed questions of fact and arbitration in each case as a result.

Another set of officials believes that Another set of officials believes that without taking in the principles involved. The Hague might properly be allowed to decide, not whether the submarine commander thought he was justified in sinking the Arabic because he believed she was about to ram him, but whether the liner actually was attempting to resist or escape, and if mander's act in international law, property.

"The fence was not designed to keep out bathers during ordinary bathing hours. That is the reason the gates were constructed.

"I merely desire to prevent men and wemen from loitering there until 2 or 3 o'clock in the morning, as they did before the fence was built."

Mr. Reynolds asserts that personal grievance enters into the enthusiasm of some of the neighbors opposing his fence.

Record time was made by Municipal Judge Stevenson in disposing of the daily grist in Municipal Court yesterday morning, 37 minutes being the time necessary to clear the docket of cases.

H. A. Stiles, real estate man, was the defendant in six separate cases, all of which charged the defrauding of a taxical driver by failure to pay a bill, lie pleaded not guilty, but received the alternative of paying the debts or being fined the amounts of each bill, and "settled up."

CURB ON MARRIAGE ASKED

Governor Digresses in Picnic Speech Before Indiana Crowd.

GREENCASTLE, Ind. Aug. 31,—"One of the greatest misfortunes that has overtaken this country is the movement of farm boys to the city," said Governor Samuel M. Raiston in an address at the first annual Putnam County pionic and homecoming near here. "Not that I would argue that all boys should be farmers," added the Governor, "for not every boy has brains enough to make a good farmer."

The Governor's speech was largely a eulogy of Putnam County and its citizenship, the greatest factor in which he declared to be DePauw University. He laughingly declared that Putnam County also was held high in his esteem because it was the third county in the state in the production of mules, the emblem of his political party.

Part of his address was devoted to a discussion of a few of the problems before the state today. He declared himself strongly in favor of a law prohibiting the intermarriage of diseased and mentally deficient persons, asserting that such a law would do much toward decreasing the number of wards received at state institutions. The war in Europe was referred to when he paid a eulogy to President Wilson for his peace policy and to former President in his stand.

Governor Raiston arrived here at noon and was entertained by a committee, consisting of James L. Randel, the Rev. Demetrius Tiliotson, J. N. Holloway and Ferd Lucas. More than 2000 persons attended the picnic. Judge Joseph Williams, of Martinsville, was another speaker. The picnic was held in S. A. Hazelett's grove, a mile cast of the city.

OPERATIVE PLAN'S WORTH.

Many Records Broken During Week Vote of Visitors Decides That County Will Continue Show.

BAKER, Or., Sept. II .- (Special.) --That the co-operative plan of conducting a county fair is a success was proved tonight beyond a doubt, when Secretary Walter E. Meacham, of the Baker County Fair board, announced that more than 13,000 people attended the "people's fair of Baker County" this week and that the receipts would not only pay all expenses, but that a sub-stantial sum would be left to put into the surplus fund for the fair next year. The decision to have a fair next year areame when Announcer S. O. Correll asked for a rising vote from the more than 3000 who attended the last day's event as to whether a fair should be held or not. With rousing cheers every person arose and waved hats, handker-chiefs or anything handy.

Records of all kinds were broken during the week. The opening day's

RUSSIAN PLAN MAKES GULF OF RIGA FIRST LINE OF PETROGRAD'S DEFENSE; GUARDED COAST OF FINLAND IS SECOND BASE OF FLEET'S OPERATIONS.

The holding of the Gulf of Riga has constituted Russia's first line of defense for Petrograd. Russia always has planned a retreat through Moon Sound into the Gulf of Finland in case of a defeat in the Gulf of Riga. This is what the Russian gunboats that battled the Germans recently appear to have done. The channel is narrow and crooked and a danger to all who are not used to it. This passage might also be used to cut the enemy from his base by a fleet operating from the Finland coast.

"They'll be bethered down below to know the meaning of our single shot. We don't give them one dose at time, as a rule."

Somebody laughed. We waited in the fragrant silence. Nothing came back from the mist over that clogged lower ground, though no shell of this war was ever launched with more earnest prayers that it might do harm.
