

CHILDREN'S HOME WILL BE ENCOURAGED

Exposition of Work Done by Junior Pupils to Be Held in Library for Nine Days.

SCOPE TO BE EXTENSIVE

Everything That Tends to Interest
Youngsters Will Be Admitted and Parents Are Urged to Give Proper Encouragement.

A state-wide "back-to-the-home" campaign for children, launched by the Mothers' Congress and Parent-Teacher Association, will focus in October in a junior exposition, to be held at the Central Library, where all articles made by children in their leisure time in the home environment, from the age of babyhood to 18 years, will be exhibited. This exhibit is scheduled to begin on October 23 and to continue to November 6.

Junior exhibits in schools of the city will be held from now on until the time of the central exposition at the library. These local exhibits will not occur upon the same dates, in order that all may have an opportunity of visiting as many exhibits as they may desire.

One hundred and fifty women from more than 100 parent-teacher circles were present at a meeting at the library last week, presided over by O. M. Plummer, Mr. Plummer, who had been appointed chairman of the "back-to-the-home" committee by the president of the Council of Parent-Teacher Associations, called the meeting that the committee of the various circles might confer with the council committee with regard to the exposition plans.

Scope is Unlimited. Any and everything that shows a child's interest and plans will be accepted for the exhibit, whether it be a work of art, or crude attempt at creation. This covers a wide scope, for it includes what the boy or girl under 16 years has learned to do because he or she liked to do it, either alone or with the help of another, such as building automobiles, airplanes, wireless stations, birdhouses, boats, cooking, baking, canning fruits or vegetables, sewing, embroidery, crocheting, etc.

The school children already are showing an enthusiastic interest in the campaign, and are busy engaged during their leisure hours in making articles for the exhibit. Parents have been urged to manifest active interest along whatever line the child wishes to demonstrate his skill. Entry blanks will be sent to all the schools for distribution among the children. The local school exhibits will be for the purpose of enabling judges to select the best articles for the central exposition.

Home Benefit Expected. This campaign is expected to mean more contentment at home, more abilities for the children, more independence and reliance on their own ability. The work of the "back-to-the-home" committee will continue with the exhibit, but will continue active in this campaign for as long a period as will be necessary to accomplish the desired result—which is the realization by the child that the proper home environment and constructive use of leisure time are the two best agencies for true happiness.

Dr. Anna Louise Strong, who has spoken before many of the schools of the city, came to Portland from Washington, D. C., sent by the Educational Bureau, to study and report what the junior exhibits and the "back-to-the-home" campaign are doing in all the various organizations, have perfected their plans for the season.

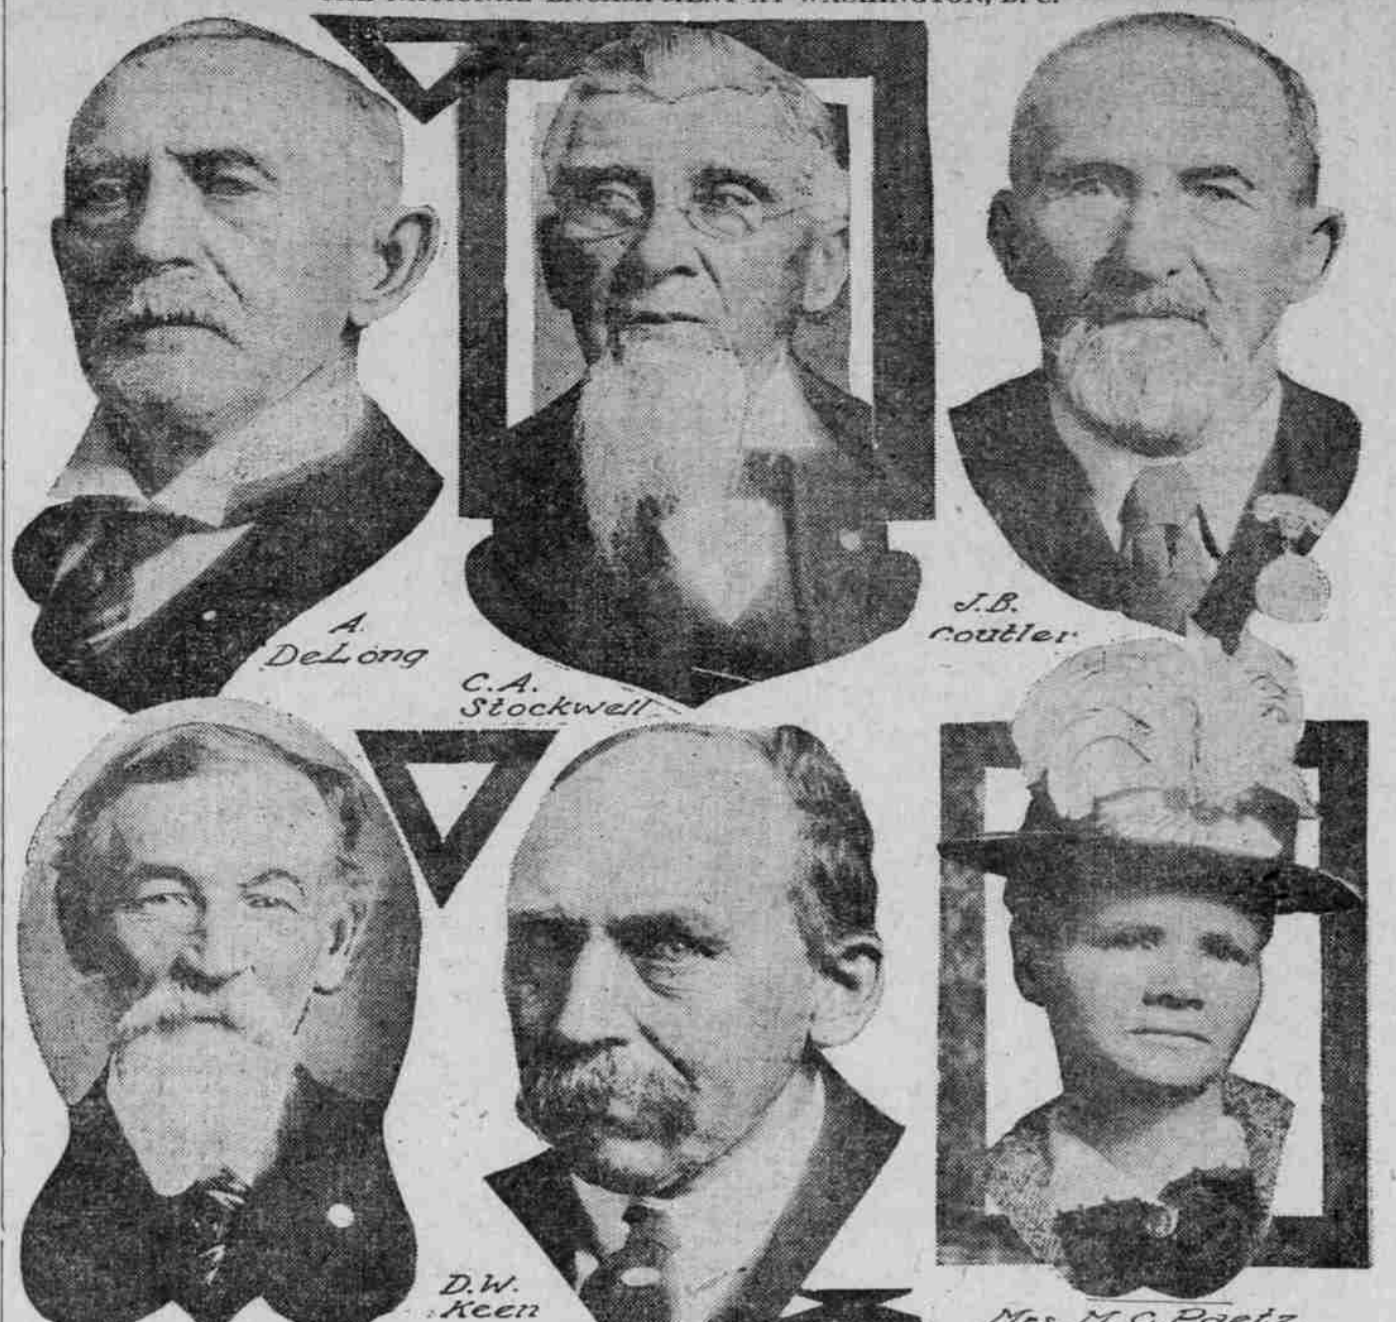

The summer session of the Sunday school has closed with a record-breaking history, showing an average of nearly 300 present every Sunday of the session. An exhibit of 65 scholars has made a record of perfect attendance for the entire session and prizes will be awarded. Three of these—Misses Kate Protzman and Margaret Ewing and E. D. Eddy, have missed only one Sunday in two years, and they will receive a beautiful silver medal with an embossed monogram on the face. Vera Boynton, Adrian Davis, Douglas Kirk and Frederick Sturm, have been absent only once during the past year and they will receive bronze medals. The honor roll for the summer includes the following:

Folk Plans State Fair Exhibit. MONMOUTH, Or., Sept. 25.—(Special.)—Folk plans to be fully represented at the Oregon State Fair this fall. Five goats and sheep, two thoroughbred Jersey cows from the farms around Monmouth, and in the Luckiamute Valley, will constitute the livestock exhibits, while samples of the county's best in grains and grasses, dried prunes, hops and new features will be sent. DELEGATES FROM THE DEPARTMENT OF OREGON, GRAND ARMY OF THE REPUBLIC, ATTENDING THE NATIONAL ENCAMPMENT AT WASHINGTON, D. C.

VETERANS IN CAMP

Grand Army Sessions Open at Capital Tomorrow.

170,000 ARE EXPECTED

Seven Official Delegates Are Sent From Oregon and Most Will Prolong Visits in East—Old
Scenes to Be Reviewed.

The 49th annual encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic will open tomorrow at Washington, D. C., and will draw delegates from every state in the Union. There are more than 170,000 members of the G. A. R. scattered throughout the United States and delegates will be sent from every state. The number of delegates is determined on a ratio basis, one delegate being allowed for every 250 members. With its 170,000 odd members, the department of Oregon sent seven official delegates, and others who were able to go were made delegates, although the voting strength of the Oregon delegation will be only seven.

Old Memories to Be Revived. The first two days of the encampment will be devoted to sightseeing and reunions, and the third day, Wednesday, will be the "big day" of the 49th encampment. On that day the veterans will march down the same street that they traveled just 50 years ago, when, as members of the victorious armies of the North, they were reviewed by Federal officials.

Pennsylvania avenue will appear new to the veterans, but they will see again the comrades that have not been seen for half a century and old memories will be revived and old acquaintanceships will be renewed.

The regular business sessions of the Grand Army Encampment will begin Thursday and continue until Friday. That day and Friday. Besides the regular business sessions there will be reunions of the armies of the Potomac, Cumberland and Tennessee. Companies who fought side by side 50 years ago will gather again by the campfires and the stories of hardship that resulted in the cementing of the American people, despite the views they entertained.

Many of the members of the Oregon delegation will remain in the East for weeks and some for months to visit different parts of the United States that are familiar to them. Most of them obtained tickets that allow for trips that cover a period of nine months, and only a few will return as soon as the encampment is concluded.

The Oregon delegation is composed of C. W. Keene, senior vice department commander, of McMinnville; A. J. Hobbie, of Oregon City; A. DeLong, J. B. Coulter, A. C. Sloan, C. A. Stockwell, all of Portland; S. A. Pursell, of Union; C. H. Welch and E. D. Heinicke, of Portland.

Phil Lawton will attend the encampment from Portland and he has been in the East for a number of weeks. Four members of the Oregon delegation are commanders, and Mrs. Peetz, daughter of A. J. Hobbie, also will attend the encampment at Washington. The special that carries the veterans and members of the Women's Relief Corps left Portland Wednesday night at 7:30 and made the trip clear through to Washington.

2 PROPERTY OWNERS HIT

Proposed Extension of Madrona Street to Cost Little in Damage.

Only two property owners will be damaged by the proposed extension of Madrona street from the southwest corner of block 1, Woodlawn, to the northeast corner of block 4 of the Southern Pacific, and Special Agents Lillis, of the Portland Railway, Light & Power Company, are carefully going through the phase of the case. The small caliber revolver, which Taylor is alleged to have used in the three car robberies and later given to a Milwaukee man, was a pair of overalls and held by the Sheriff. None of the trainmen was able to say definitely that this was the gun used.

Information received today has more strongly convinced the special agents and the Sheriff that Taylor was preparing for a "job" when arrested last night. He was wearing a dark slouch hat and a black handkerchief around his neck, taken by Sheriff Wilson and Special Agent Cutler near the river bank.

Mixture of "Soup" Reported. William Doyle, an employee of the Silver Falls Times, who kept a watch on Taylor's shanty for weeks preceding his arrest, is said to have seen him mix a quantity of "soup" in a ten-ounce bottle of glycerine was found under a rock near Taylor's shanty.

When Taylor gave the 22-caliber revolver to the Milwaukee man, whose name is withheld, he is said to have remarked that he was through with it in this part of the country for a while and that he was going north and would return late in the summer. When arrested Taylor was asked where he had spent the summer and he is said to have replied that he was in the Puget Sound country. Officials believe that he may have been responsible for several "jobs" near Seattle and Tacoma in August.

Taylor smiles almost continuously and is willing to talk about his subject, except the charges against him.

MOLALLA STUDENTS MANY

High School Attendance Jumps From 27 to 65 in Two Years.

MOLALLA, Or., Sept. 25.—(Special.)—Molalla High School has opened its third year and shows considerable growth. Two years ago there were 27 enrolled; last year there were 45 pupils. This year it starts off with 65, and others are to start next week. The school term commenced. Professor Rose was principal last year. Last year the high school ball team won the championship of Clackamas County. This year they are preparing to give much attention to athletics.

IDENTITY IS LACKING

Trainmen Cannot Say Taylor
Held Them Up.

HEIGHT DOES NOT TALLY

Evidence Against Suspect Received
From Outside Sources and Man
Who Has Kept Watch Reports
Seeing "Soup" Mixed Up.

OREGON CITY, Sept. 25.—(Special.)—Four trainmen that James Taylor, now held in the Clackamas County Jail, is alleged to have held up, came to Oregon City today but were unable positively to identify the prisoner as the man who looted the three cars. The trainmen are Conductors Reed, of the Mount Tabor line, Kaiser, of the Woodstock line, and Moore of the Oregon City line, and Motorman Cooper, of the Oregon City line.

Taylor took the entire proceeding quietly and asked many questions about the crimes he is supposed to have committed. Mr. Cooper declared that the highwayman was so completely masked that all he could see was the light-colored coat and the white spot on the black mask, the tips of the man's fingers and his eyes. Taylor held out his hands. "Did his hands look like these?" he asked.

Mr. Cooper said after surveying Taylor carefully that he thought Taylor was taller than the holdup man. The Portland carmen came to the same conclusion. They were unable to identify Taylor by his voice.

Taylor to Be Held. Taylor will be held in the County Jail without a charge, being made against him until Monday. In the meantime Sheriff Wilson, working with Special Agents McShane and Cutler, of the Southern Pacific, and Special Agent Lillis, of the Portland Railway, Light & Power Company, are carefully going through the phase of the case. The small caliber revolver, which Taylor is alleged to have used in the three car robberies and later given to a Milwaukee man, was a pair of overalls and held by the Sheriff. ## J. L. MEIER CHOSEN

State Fair Good Roads Day
Chairman Fixes Plans.

TUESDAY IS TIME SET

Members of Highway Commission and Advisory Board Invited as Honor Guests—Principles of Procedure Are Set Forth.

Julius L. Meier, president of the Columbia Highway Association, has been chosen chairman of Good Roads day at the Oregon State Fair September 28. Invitations have been sent to Governor Withycombe, Secretary of State Olcott and Secretary of the Treasury Kay, constituting the Highway Commission, and to S. Benson, L. Butler and J. H. Albert, members of the advisory board, to be among the honored guests on the platform the day of the meeting.

Samuel Lancaster, who laid out the Columbia Highway from Portland to the eastern line of Multnomah County, and J. B. Yoon's Multnomah Roadmaster, have both agreed to be among the speakers at the conference. Invitations have been sent to many others interested in good roads development work in Oregon.

Leading Workers Are Invited. "In accepting the chairmanship of Good Roads day at the Fair," said President Meier, of the Highway Association, yesterday, "I did so with the purpose of trying to develop the best possible thought for procedure in Oregon. It is the type of roadway which workers from different parts of the state to meet."

There are two principles for proceeding before the state in good roads work. One contemplates the trunk line, that will serve through traffic, and accommodate the traveler who seeks to enter or leave the state on long drives. Under this head is found the scenic argument.

The second and greatest thought is in providing the means for moving the farm product, and getting to the farm its requirements at the lowest possible cost. No state can progress without furnishing this facility.

Propaganda Spread Is Sought. "In meeting this requirement, the roads will have to extend from the producing center to the trunk highway, railway, river, or large marketing center. It is this type of roadway which the Grange has stood for, as distinguished from the trunk line. It seems clear to me that the farmer and the advocate of the trunk line will have to get together and agree upon that plan of procedure which a majority will all agree to think best. And when we have agreed upon plan, endorsed by a majority, then it is time to do something."

"Under the doctrine of good roads takes more rapidly than in the past years, I believe some pronounced plan for spreading the propaganda will have to be evolved. At our conference trust that ideas covering all these points will be presented."

One of the big attractions for Good Roads day at the Fair Tuesday will be the beautiful natural color pictures of Henry Berger, Jr., as presented by himself and A. I. Jones.

WOODMEN SHOW SUCCESS

Awards Made for Entries of Flowers
Are Announced.

A profusion of carefully arranged flowers and a well balanced programme were responsible for the "big success" of the second annual flower show and entertainment given by the Sunnyside Camp No. 313, Woodmen of the World, held last Tuesday in the Sunnyside hall.

First, second and third prizes were awarded to exhibits of dahlias, roses and asters. All cut flowers and potted plants received special prizes. Among the prize winners were Multnomah Camp No. 7, the Jags, dahlia trophy; Arleta Camp No. 80, the large American flag, offered by Henry Jennings; Engine Company No. 9, the Firemen's trophy; and the Jags, dahlia trophy. The prize drill team of Portland Camp No. 197, under the direction of Captain Drake, gave an exhibition street drill between 7 and 8 o'clock at night.

Among the programme numbers, the address of Judge W. N. Gensens, who used "Our Future Citizens" as a subject, was loudly applauded.

GUARD IS TERMED LODGE

General White, at Smoker, Explains
New Aspect of Organization.

At a smoker given by Company E at the Armory Tuesday Night, Adjutant-General George A. White, who was one of the speakers, took occasion to score the old-style militiamen who thought that since he was in the military service he should be considered a martyr to the public service.

"The man who whines and continually complains as a member of the National Guard is obsolete," continued General White. "The men who are now in the National Guard are the sort that take up military service because they find it both pleasant and profitable. It is their lodge and hobby. In fact, there is no lodge or fraternal organization that offers as many compensations as does the National Guard."

The smoker was attended by 75 guests. The adjutant-general outlined the work that he intends his company shall take up during the winter.

Colonel James Jackson and Colonel C. McLaughlin were other speakers.

KELSO ROAD NEARLY READY

Speeders Said to Be Taking Advantage of Improvements.

KELSO, Wash., Sept. 25.—(Special.)—The first coating of bitumen hard-surface highway south of Kelso has been completed and part of the top layer laid, and the Boardman Road Company is laying the last coating of bitumen. Within a few days this work will be done and a hard-surfaced road will stretch for a distance of three and one-half miles south from Kelso. Further south to Carrols and over Carrols road will be completed by the end of the month. This summer, having been rock-surfaced.

Speeding has been done by auto-loists upon the newly-finished hard-surface road, and arrests are threatened.

A three-inch steel cable made for use in a Cuban mine withstood a pulling test of 750,000 pounds, which is said to be the record.

HEALTH LECTURER AIMS AT RECORD IN PORTLAND

W. Earl Flynn, Widely Recognized in Health Campaign, Seeking to Impart Message to 150,000 People Here—Ministers Back Work.

W. EARL FLYNN AND MRS. FLYNN EXERCISING TO STIMULATE BLOOD VESSELS OF HEART AND LUNGS.

W. EARL FLYNN, who has won wide recognition as a health lecturer, last night closed a successful two weeks' educational campaign. He starts tonight on his third week, and from every indication it will be hard work to get a seat any night this week, as his subjects are all new. Lectures are given every night at 8 o'clock and ever afternoon at 2:30, starting Tuesday.

Mr. Flynn's visit to Portland his tenth anniversary, as it was ten years ago that this movement was started in this city. "This club was first attractive to Mr. Flynn through his successful work in schools, universities and clubs. It was during his lecture engagements for the Y. M. C. A. and clubs in Portland many years ago that he was invited to lecture before the ministers of this city."

Educational Campaign Begins. It so impressed them that they were aroused to the importance of the church in the health of the community. To accomplish this, Mr. Flynn was asked to conduct a campaign under the auspices of the Ministerial Association. It proved a great success, 2,000 attending the first meeting.

Dr. J. Whitcomb Brougher, who was then the minister at the White Temple, was chairman of the committee. He became enthusiastic and conceived the plan of having Mr. Flynn give a great free educational movement on health through the church, and health on a ten years' campaign, covering all the largest cities of America.

Mr. Flynn declared that if a man can stop right up and take these tests the required number of times, which will show that he is in fit condition, the source of the disease, the kind of men they are looking for today. If the body is in this fine physical condition, the brain will be clear and active. Mr. Flynn claims this is as easy for the boy of 60 as it is for the boy of 20.

Mr. Flynn will lecture tonight at 8 o'clock on "Disease, a Crime." This will be free to all.

The meetings and subjects this week follow:

Sunday, 8 P. M.—"Disease a Crime." Monday, 8 P. M.—"Care of Face, Hair and Eyes." Tuesday, 2:30 P. M.—"Diseases: Their Causes and Cures." Wednesday, 8 P. M.—"The Cause and Cure of Indigestion, Constipation, Sleeplessness and Headaches." Thursday, 2:30 P. M.—"Food for Mother and Child." Friday, 8 P. M.—"Foods for the Fat and the Thin." Saturday, 2:30 P. M.—"A Sick Mind." Sunday, 8 P. M.—"How to Develop a Perfect Memory."

Friday, 2:30 P. M.—"Mistake." Friday, 8 P. M.—"How to Develop a Beautiful Body." Demonstrated by Mr. and Mrs. Flynn. Saturday, 2:30 P. M.—"Sick Blood." Saturday, 8 P. M.—"The Cause and Cure of Hardening of the Arteries and High Blood Pressure."

Statistics carefully tabulated, calls and complaints card-indexed and force enough to keep the machinery of the office working to the satisfaction of the public.

It is worth while to send men and women into the highways and byways to search out the source of the disease, and to insure a safe and clean food supply.

Were hundreds of diseases that died annually from polluted milk worth saving? Is it worth while to be able to recognize conclusively the source of the disease, and to control the proper periods for quarantine and other fifth diseases?

Does the prosperity of the city to be advertised as having the purest milk supply in the world? As a city worth living in whose population is rapidly increasing while its death rate more rapidly decreases?

If these questions can all be answered in the affirmative, the Portland Bureau of Health has attained an enviable place, and its 10 years of growth has not been in vain, and to have been even a small factor in its development has been a rich experience and a rare privilege.

NAVAL OFFICERS TO MEET

New Club, Yet Unnamed, Born at Luncheon Held at Hazelwood.

A new club, the exact name of which has been so far withheld, was born yesterday at a luncheon at the Hazelwood. Captain G. F. Blair, of the Oregon Naval Militia, is the authority for the statement that it has been decided to have the officers of the Oregon Naval Militia meet every Saturday noon and talk of matters of mutual interest, matters that will increase the number of recruits to the militia.

At the luncheon both the ship's surgeons, Dr. L. J. Wolfe and Dr. Ben L. Norden, were absent without excuse. As a result of their absence they were fined 25 cents each, the fine money—when collected—to go to a fund that will be used for the purchase of ammunition for the guns of the cruiser Boston.

It is understood that the officers pay for their meals from their salaries and not from state expense money.
