Jawn McGraw is now telling what he would have none in the National League had not the 21-player rule been in vogue. Now that the ban is lifted and Jawn can carry as many as 25 players, he should show some stuff in the last few weeks' onslaught.

The real reason Marquard did not want to go to the minors was because it would hart his vaudeville drawing power in the Winter. Rube doesn't seem to consider that Philippines and 19,000 in Russia, Al Bartholemy.

When the Beavers leave for the south next Sunday night Al Bartholemy, the young catcher secured from the Piedmont Club, of the City League, in all prob-ability will be taken along. Man-ager McCredie was greatly pleased by the youngster's show-ing in the exhibition game at Se-attle last Monday. Bartholemy is 20 years old and this is his first trial in fast company. He played for four years with the Piedmont club and was ac-credited the best catcher in the City League for the season just closed. He always has hit well in the bushes, although his bat-ting average in the City League was not much. He bats and throws right-handed, but switched to hit-ting left-handed during the fagend of the City League season in an effort to change his luck.

KENNETH WILLIAMS HAS NORTHWESTERN HONORS

Spokane Player Now With Cincinnati Leads in Batting - Smith and Haworth, Also Sold to Majors, Are Near Indian's Record.

S POKANE, Sept. 25.—(Special.)—; The batting honors of the Northwestern league for 1915 belong to western league for 1915 belong to Kenneth Williams, the big Spokane outfielder, who was sold in midseason to the Cincinnati Nationals. Jack Smith, the Seattle outfielder, who will next year wear a St. Louis National League uniform, tried desperately during the last 10 weeks of the season to overhaul Williams mark of 340, but his best was 337. Homer Haworth, the injured Cleveland American, takes the last to have a chance to play the boys from the big brush and incidentally to gather a little money for themselves.

Henry Berry is behind the project.

prospect of promotion. The three league leaders all earned major league jobs by their ability to slam the of-ferings of Northwestern League pitch-vet" as it were. He agrees that possibly they have a kick coming and wants to remedy the evil. Therefore, he has suggested that say three games, be arranged in which the Coasters can and bases stolen. He did not average the control of the coasters of the coaster o Smith led the league in many totals, which include runs scored, hits made and bases stolen. He did not average more runs scored a game, or more bases stolen a game, than other Northwestern League players, but in totals he is first. Everything considered, the record set by Williams, of Spokane, up to the time he left this league, is by far the most impressive of any player that ever wore a Northwestern League uniform. He did not approach the league's long-standing home-run record made by Swain; nor did he equal Myers' phenomenal heavestelling total of 1812 nomenal base-stealing total of 1912. His batting average has been excelled before. But no other Northwestern player has done all the things that Williams did this year. At the time he left he was leading this league in batting average in bases stellar and in ting average, in bases stolen and in Carlisle says he cannot stand criticism, being of a sensitive nature, and it is believed that he and the big manager came to a disagreement following last Tuesday's 15-inning game. Weish had no sooner left than Battiling Nelson, who held the same lightweight crown not so many years ago, put in an appearance. The Durable Dane came here from Los Angeles, where he stopped off to renew old acquaintance. He fought Bobby Waugh in Juarez (the bull ring) on Labor day and since then has been doing some little vaudeville work. His trip to San Francisco is primarily to see the exposition with his brother, Art, who was once upon a time a student at the Unionce upon a time a student at the University of California.

Bat Is Same Old Boy, In many ways the Battler is the same old boy he was when his name was so frequently in the sporting columns. Of frequently in the sporting columns. Of course, he looks a bit more battered about, as would naturally be the case. And what do you think is Nelson's ambition? He wants to take on Ad Wolgasi, who lifted Nelson's title in that battle over in Richmond one stormy afternoon. There is one fighter in the world a champion never forgives and never forgets—that is the fellow who takes away his title. So perhaps, it is natural that the Dane does not think kindly of the Michigander.
