With State-Wide Primaries Year Away Political Pot Is Beginning to Boil.

TACOMA OFFICES DESIRED

Several Already Announced as Active Candidates for Governorship While City Posts May Attract Field of 40 to 50.

TACOMA, Wash., Sept. 25 .- (Special.) -With the state-wide primary a year away and the city election in April, the political pot is beginning to boil right merrily. In the city there are two commissioners to be elected in April and present indications are for a field of 50 contenders for the two jobs. In state affairs, the governorship ones that have come into the foreand legislative candidates are the only Pierce County will have candidates In the primary race on both party tickets, Governor Lister, of Tacoma, Democrat, undoubtedly will seek re-election; James McNeely, of Buckley, prominent lumberman and former member of the Legislature, has announced himself in the field for the Republican nomination and included the back of the Westernam and the second to the second the second to the tion and is already hard at work. W. H. Paulhamus, of Sumner, has been urged by friends to make the race and is at least in a receptive mood. Mr. McNeely and George A. Lee, the latter former Assistant Attorney-General and later chairman of the State Industrial Insurance Commission, are the two most active candidates in the field yet, closely followed by Roland Hartley, State Representative from Whatcom County, J. E. Frost, former member of the State Tax Commission, and ex-Governor McBride are said also to be working culetly. W. W. Conner to Be in Race.

W. W. Conner, of Skagit County, Speaker of the last House of Represen-Tailves, says he expects to be out next year for his place in the Legislature. The Young Men's Republican Club came to life the other day and at a meeting attended by about 200 formally indorsed Mr. McNeely for Governor, despite protests of friends of Mr. Paulhamus. The club also named a committee to get after the County Commissioners to urge them to ur the 1915. tatives, says he expects to be out next missioners to urge them to cut the 1916 budget and help carry out the campaign promises of the Republicans last elec-

There is no dearth of candidates for the two city commissionerships. Com-missioner of Public Safety A. U. Mills and Commissioner of Public Works Owen Woods are the two officials whose terms expire. Both will likely be candidates for re-election. Mr. Woods has held office at the head of the public works department even incomthe public works department ever since the commission form of government was established in Tacoma, winning each time by tremendous majorities. ### HUSBAND LONG MISSING

Elma Woman Loses All Trace of Spouse After Leaving Minneapolis.

ELMA, Wish, Sept. 25.—(Special.)— Lee Mattox, of this city, is believed to have met with foul play while on his way from Minneapolis to Kansas to look over some real estate, as no word or trace of him can be found since the day he kissed his wife and 4-months-old child goodby at the Minnespolis depot. Two months ago Mr. and Mrs. Les Matiox and child left this city for Attica, Ind., where they passed the time visiting with relatives.

On their return trip the husband decided to let his wife come on to Elma and he would go down into Kansas and look over some land, telling his wife he would telegraph as soon as he arrived at his destination, though this was more than three weeks ago since the arrival of Mrs. Mattox in this city. Telegrams received say that Mr. Mattox neither has arrived nor been heard from since his departure at Minneapolis.

E. H. DEWEY SEEKS IDAHO HONORS

Ex-Mayor of Nampa Causes Surprise by Refusal to Try for Governor.

NORTH WANTS ITS TURN

Corner on Executives Maintained for 12 Years by South Disliked and Candidates Appear-Two Federal Places Open.

BOISE, Idaho, Sept. 25 .- (Special.)-That E. H. Dewey will not be a candidate for Governor in the Republican primaries in 1916 was the interesting development in political circles here this week. It came as a surprise to party leaders, many of whom had counted on the ex-Mayor of Nampa as one of the strongest men mentioned for gubernatorial honors,

There had also been some talk that United States Senator Borah favored him. It is generally believed here that

him. It is generally believed here that if Senator Borah had a favorite he never let it become known and that because of his stand for the direct primary he would not attempt to interfere in a free-for-all race.

The first intimation the party leaders here had Mr. Dewey would not be in the race was received during the week from Southwestern Idaho leaders, following a political meeting at Pocatello while Senator Borah was there. There was a lot of political talk at the time and numerous candidates were mentioned but no hats were thrown mentioned but no hats were thrown in the gubernatorial ring. Captain E. G. Davis, ex-assistant attorney-general. is the only announced candidate

Many From North Suggested. The northern part of the state will nake a strong bid for the Governorship because the honor has gone to the South for several terms, Governors Frank R. Gooding, James H. Brady, James H. Hawley, John M. Haines and the present chief executive, Governor Moses Alexander, all hall from Southern Idaho. The same thing is true of ex-Governor John M. Morrison, now resident of Bolse.

resident of Bolse.

In the past 10 or 12 years, then, the south has had a corner on the Governorship, which the north is inclined to resent. The result is that there has been a lot of grooming of candidates in the panhandle.

Such men as George Crum, of Lewis-ton, James H. Allshie, of Coeur d' Alene, and Herman H. Taylor, Lieutenant-Governor C. W. Heitman, of Rathdrum, and E. E. Elliott, of Romers Forty and E. E. Elliott, of Bonners Ferry, have been prominently mentioned.

When Mr. Alishie, ex-Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, now engaged in a the Supreme Court, now engaged in a heavy law practice, was asked recently if the reports were true that he would be in the race for the nomination of Governor he would neither deny nor affirm them. His evasive answers have lead many of the leaders here to believe that he may get into the race. He ran for United States Senator at the last primary and was defeated. It is, therefore, problematical among leaders as to what his strength would be ers as to what his strength would be i a gubernatorial fight. But the South is prepared to harvest its usually heavy crop of candidates. Besides Captain Davis, ex-Governor John M. Haines, defeated by Governor Alexander, believes that he can come back and his friends say he will be in
