PARADE IMPRESSIVE OF FIRE PREVENTION

Cost of Useless Blazes Last Year Averages $6.67 to Each Person in City.

CAMPAIGN BROUGHT TO END

Organizations, City Officials, Stndents Unite in Spectacular Demonstration to Bring Home Importance of Early Action.

Every man, woman and child in Portland lost $6.57 through useless fires last year, and a formidable street parade yesterday morning sought to impress the significance of this fact upon the public.

Doubtless the parade made a decided impression. Those who were responsi-ble for it hope it will be a lasting im-pression.

feature of the "fire-prevention" cam-paign which had raged here all week maigh which had raged here all week, it marked the cilmax of the campaign and was followed by a luncheon at the Chamber of Commerce, at which the business people of Portland gave sincere recognition of the zervices rendered here in the last year or so by Jay W. Stevens, fire markhal, who has reduced the fire losses here materially.

Credit Given Marshal Stevens. The business men and the insurance underwriters who attended the lunch underwriters who attended the lunchcon insisted that Marshal Stevens, single-handed has been responsible for the improvement in Portland's frightful fire record. Mr. Stevens modestly protested, though, that his co-workers in the Portland Fire Department have done all the creditable work.

Anyway, it was a day of education and inspiration for the people of Portland and should have been one of joy and gratification for Marshal Stevens.
The parade was the big event. It

Followed then a long automobile line containing representatives of the Chamber of Commerce, the Credit Men's Association, the Underwriters' Equitable Rating Bureau, the Progressive Business Men's Club and other organizations. McElroy's band furnished the music for this section.

Attached to some of these vehicles were banners proclaiming the startling information that 16 lives were lost in Porlland last year through fires that could have been prevented and that the per capita economic loss was $6.67, while the per capita loss in Europe was 33 cents.

A whole volume of advice was con-

An attractive display was that of the United States Forestry Service in which a pair of uniformed foresters rode with some of the equipment used in checking fires in the forests. Banners appeared for extending the fire prevention movement to the forests.

County officials and their deputies rode in machines immediately preceding a long section representing the Portland Fire Department, headed by the departmental band. Scores of pieces of apparatus and hundreds of individual firemen—in uniform—were in line. Some of the men rode in private automobiles but most of them manned the engines, trucks and other vehicles used in fighting fires. used in fighting fires.

At the conclusion of the initiatory rites, a monster banquet will be held in the hall and members of the Ladles' Auxiliary will attend, as well as the Hibernians. A literary and musical programme also has been arranged and the state, county and division officers are expected to give talks. Among those who will give short addresses who will give short addresses are P. E. Sullivan, state president; Dan Currin, county president and E. H. Deery, past state president.

F. A. McMenamin has been named the chairman of the day's festivities and Rev. Hugh Gallagher, of Columbia liniversity, will say grace. J. Noonan is the chairman of the committee on arrangements and D. W. Lane has charge of furnishing the 'edibles' for the banquet. Mr. Lane premises that "everything will be palatable."

* On one of these occasional gusty, dusty days of ours, riding along in your open car, hasn't it struck you that it would be a fine idea to have a Sedan Top, a top that would let in all the scenery and the sunlight, and keep out all the blow and bluster?

* On the other hand, if you already use a Sedan, hasn't there been more than one occasion, when friend sun is not burning things up, and lungsful of air and breezes on the brow are the things you're after, when you have voted the Sedan oppressive?

* If this dilemma has troubled you, you'll be interested in the KisselKar, for its Detachable Top arrangement enables you to have a closed car when it's chilly or rainy, and an open one when it's warm and pleasant; and you can secure the two bodies at a price very little in excess of the touring car alone.

* The top is fastened by means of six small inside bolts and the same top irons used to carry the "Summer" top and windshield. You and one assistant, a wrench, and twenty minutes' work, and the deed is done.

KISSELKAR ALL-YEAR CAR

* An open car today, a closed car tomorrow—why not look further into this Detachable Top proposition? The ALL-YEAR Coupe, a Detachable Top mounted on the Four-Passenger Roadster model of the new 32-Four, priced at $1450, is the latest development of the Kissel ALL-YEAR Car. This new Coupe Top, as well as the Sedan, is also available on the 36-Four and the 42-Six chassis.

* The complete KisselKar line - including the new 32-Four (Five-Passenger Touring, $1050, Four-Passenger Roadster, $1150), a 36-Four Roadster at $1250, a 42-Six, Five-Passenger Touring at $1485, Coupe Top, as well as the Sedan for the new ALL-YEAR Cars, besides all the standard Kissel models-is now ready for your inspection; also the line of commercial cars-the Kissel Trucks - which range from the 1000-lb, capacity model at $950 to the 6-ton capacity at $4350.
