forth an unusually large number of society weddings.

In the fashion of weddings there are many changes. Of course, the conventional white satin, so unbecomingly, is still the favorite material, although occasionally a bride with individuality and sufficient courage to stand by her choice in the matter of raiment blossoms forth in a daring gown showing a splash of pretty coloring. Most of them depend upon their bouquets for the necessary bit of coloring to relieve their monotonous white garb, and upon the costumes of the bridesmaids. Yellow rapidly is growing in favor with the bridal parties for the attendants this season, and as it lights up well, it is desirable especially for evening functions.

Bridesmaids' costumes are far more up-to-date than in past years, and are indicative fairly of the times. For instance, one attendant at a large and fashionable wedding in New York wore a short, full skirt of light yellow satin edged with fur, a shirred eon jacket, fur trimmed, and a small, high brown plush hat, with silver plastron on one side, mixed with yellow flowers. Her bouquet, too, was unusual, being of marigolds, shaded, combined with purple pansies and yellow orchids.

Again, the bride frequently chooses a draped and voluminous skirt, worn over a lacy underskirt, with a suggestion of pastel coloring in the trimming, as well as silver embellishments, glistening through the filmy fabric of the gown. It is a pretty and becoming model.

Many of the buds are planning to devote their spare time to ice skating and already are preparing a line of support togs. One of the leading magazines of the East comments on the possibility of ice skating eventually succeeding the dance as the ruling craze. At least, elaborate experiments at Castles-in-the-Air foretell such a possibility, as the wonderful skating stunts are much more exciting than the eternal one-step and fox-trot.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Pratt (Caroline Ames Ladd) and their daughter, Miss Carrie May Pratt, of Brooklyn, N. Y., are due to arrive here Tuesday. They will visit Mrs. Pratt's sister, Mrs. Helen Ladd Corbett, who has planned a large dance to honor Miss Pratt and Miss Helen Ladd. Preceding the dance there will be a number of dinner parties, including that for which Miss Felling and Miss Mary F. Felling will be hostesses: Mr. and Mrs. David C. Lewis and Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Leslie Warren's diners. Mrs. Corbett's guests to be at the various dinners.

Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Wilcox and Miss Wilcox also are planning a social affair to compliment the Pratts, and Mrs. J. Wesley Ladd has asked guests for luncheon Friday in honor of Mrs. Pratt.

Miss Jean Morrison returned home Friday after a six weeks' visit at her brother-in-law and sister's ranch in Prineville, where she has been convalescing from a recent illness.

Honoring Mrs. Edmund A. de Schweinitz and Mrs. Stanley Jewett, of New York, who is visiting her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley G. Jewett, the latter entertained with a delightful tea on Wednesday afternoon. About 75 guests called during the afternoon to greet the visitor and bid adieu to Mrs. De Schweinitz, who, with her husband and children, will leave the latter part of this month for Florence, Or., to make their home.

The rooms were decked attractively with pink gladioli and viole marie. The tea table was presided over by Mrs. John Kerr, Mrs. Erskine Wood, Miss Hazel Weidner and Mrs. Gilbert Durham.

Mr. and Mrs. James F. Cooke left Thursday afternoon for a visit to San Francisco to attend the Fair.

Honoring Miss Grace Peters, Miss Mary Stuart Smith entertained a luncheon Monday, and on Tuesday Miss Sara McCully was hostess for a charming informal bridge-tee in her honor. Miss Peters also will be honored for a number of other affairs which the younger contingent will give this week.

Mr. and Mrs. James G. Gault left Tuesday evening for Battle Creek, Mich., to be gone for a few weeks. Miss Isabella Gault will remain here, visiting friends for a few weeks, and then join her parents in the West. Together they will attend the Fair in San Francisco and motor through California for the winter. Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Forbes will occupy their handsome home during their absence.

Mrs. S. Rosenfeld and daughter, Mrs. I. N. Lipman and Miss Ruth Rosenfeld, and son, Dr. Arthur Rosenfeld, left Wednesday for a visit of several weeks in San Francisco.

Mrs. H. C. Wortman's musicale on Thursday afternoon was one of the most artistic and interesting events of the week. Dont Mowrey gave the charming programme, playing several of his own compositions never before heard here. Half a hundred women were asked to enjoy this rare treat, and a delightful informal tea followed. The hostess was assisted in serving by several prominent matrons.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Adams and daughter, Miss Anne, are passing a few weeks in San Francisco attending the fair and visiting relatives.

Miss Helen Uraula Gorman, of Seattle, whose wedding to Joseph P. Cronin will take place November 10 in Seattle, will arrive Tuesday, with her sister, Miss Frances Gorman, for a visit with Mrs. P. J. Cronin at Garden Home. On Wednesday Mrs. Cronin and Mrs. Ambrose M. Cronin will be hostesses for a large tea honoring the bride-elect at their home.

Mrs. Frank Fey was the honored guest at a pretty bridge party for which Mrs. J. Wesley Ladd was hostess Friday afternoon. Five tables were arranged for the players, and card novelties fell to Mrs. Walter F. Burrell, Mrs. Elizabeth Gault, Miss Elsie, Mrs. Bert C. Ball and Mrs. Gay Lombard.

The tea table, adorned with an artistic arrangement of Ophelia roses and ferns, was presided over by Mrs. Wells Gilbert and Mrs. Herbert S. Nichols.

Mr. and Mrs. Fey have recently returned from their wedding trip in the South, and they are being delightfully entertained.

Frederick A. Forster was host for a merry dinner party preceding the supper dance at Benson Hotel Wednesday evening. Covers were placed for Miss Claire Wilcox, Miss Margaretta Brooke, Mrs. Buehner and her daughter, Mrs. Young, of Vancouver Barracks; Harold Sooy-Smith, Henry Reed and Charles Miller.

Colonel and Mrs. Cornelius Gardener entertained at dinner at their home on Portland Heights on Friday evening in honor of General and Mrs. Charles F. Beebe and Colonel and Mrs. Henry C. Cabell.

Madame Jacob Kamm, accompanied by her granddaughter-in-law, Mrs. Jacob Gray Kamm, left Wednesday for San Francisco. They were accompanied by Philip S. Kamm, who had been passing a few days in town on business. The Messdames Kamm will visit with the Philip and Walker Kamms for several weeks.

Mrs. Charles T. Kamm and daughter, Mrs. James A. McKinnon, returned last week from a month's sojourn at Lake Crescent, in the Olympic Mountains.

The farewell reception to be given honoring Colonel and Mrs. Young and their daughter, Miss Polly Young, on Friday evening at the officers' hop room in Vancouver Barracks will attract many Portland folk with whom the Young family is popular. It bids fair to be a brilliant event and is anticipated eagerly by the dancing contingent.

Miss Myrtle Brix' engagement to Henry Philip Buehner was quite the surprise of the week. The news was told at the pretty tea for which Mrs. Buehner and her daughter, Mrs. Charles Thornton Ladd, Mrs. Robert P. Noble and Mrs. George Sailer, were hostesses on Thursday. The Buehner residence was thronged with callers all afternoon. Beautiful blossoms, combined with lacy ferns and palms, decked the rooms, fragrant Killarney roses adorning the tea table over which Mrs. William Ladd, Miss Mary F. Felling, Mrs. Elliott R. Corbett and Mrs. George A. Warren presided. Mrs. Carl L. Wernicke and Mrs. Donald R. Munro served tea in the library and a group of attractive young girls assisted about the rooms.

Miss Brix is a charming girl, the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Brix. She recently returned from finishing her education at La Salle Seminary. She also graduated from Portland Academy. The wedding will take place before the holidays in December, and the young folk will be feted extensively with pre-nuptial functions.

Waverly Country Club members have planned and arranged an old-fashioned Halloween party for Saturday, October 23, at the club when all the old-time holiday games will be played and prizes awarded for the different events. Dancing and supper also will be features of the evening. A festive supper being served in the men's grill as a novelty for the women.

A charming informal tea was given by Mrs. Victor A. Johnson Wednesday afternoon honoring her cousin and house guest, Miss Tannis Griffith, of Spokane.

Mr. and Mrs. Wells Gilbert were hosts for a pretty, informal Friday evening at their suburban home in Rivera.

Mrs. John McCracken left on Sunday for San Francisco to stay in company with her son, Robert McCracken. She will visit the exposition, Del Monte and other southern resorts while in California.

Trinity Women's Guild entertained Tuesday night with one of the most successful dinners for which they have ever been hostesses. The affair was held in Trinity Parish house, and the delicious dinner was served by members of the Guild. Mrs. Warren Keeler, ably assisted by the various committees, worked faithfully to make the

The farewell reception to be given honoring Colonel and Mrs. Young and their daughter, Miss Polly Young, on Friday evening at the officers' hop room in Vancouver Barracks will attract many Portland folk with whom the Young family is popular. It bids fair to be a brilliant event and is anticipated eagerly by the dancing contingent.

Miss Myrtle Brix' engagement to Henry Philip Buehner was quite the surprise of the week. The news was told at the pretty tea for which Mrs. Buehner and her daughter, Mrs. Charles Thornton Ladd, Mrs. Robert P. Noble and Mrs. George Sailer, were hostesses on Thursday. The Buehner residence was thronged with callers all afternoon. Beautiful blossoms, combined with lacy ferns and palms, decked the rooms, fragrant Killarney roses adorning the tea table over which Mrs. William Ladd, Miss Mary F. Felling, Mrs. Elliott R. Corbett and Mrs. George A. Warren presided. Mrs. Carl L. Wernicke and Mrs. Donald R. Munro served tea in the library and a group of attractive young girls assisted about the rooms.

Miss Brix is a charming girl, the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Brix. She recently returned from finishing her education at La Salle Seminary. She also graduated from Portland Academy. The wedding will take place before the holidays in December, and the young folk will be feted extensively with pre-nuptial functions.

Waverly Country Club members have planned and arranged an old-fashioned Halloween party for Saturday, October 23, at the club when all the old-time holiday games will be played and prizes awarded for the different events. Dancing and supper also will be features of the evening. A festive supper being served in the men's grill as a novelty for the women.

A charming informal tea was given by Mrs. Victor A. Johnson Wednesday afternoon honoring her cousin and house guest, Miss Tannis Griffith, of Spokane.

Mr. and Mrs. Wells Gilbert were hosts for a pretty, informal Friday evening at their suburban home in Rivera.

Mrs. John McCracken left on Sunday for San Francisco to stay in company with her son, Robert McCracken. She will visit the exposition, Del Monte and other southern resorts while in California.

Trinity Women's Guild entertained Tuesday night with one of the most successful dinners for which they have ever been hostesses. The affair was held in Trinity Parish house, and the delicious dinner was served by members of the Guild. Mrs. Warren Keeler, ably assisted by the various committees, worked faithfully to make the
