

CHEERING
THE GRIDIRON WARRIORS

THE dull thud of the booted pigskin now becomes the dominant note in interscholastic and college football circles. Everywhere young America from the grammar grades up is daily donning his khaki trousers, his head gear, his shin guards for a chance to shine on the lime-lined field of glory. Young America, however, doesn't "make" football the great college and high school sport it is! To pretty Miss Angievie and enthusiastic Miss Geraldine belongs this distinction. A football game without its babble of feminine voices, or its waving of feminine pennants, would be no football game at all.
