Club's big football team ran roughshod over the lighter Washington Park' Athletic Club, of Scattle, yesterday on Multhomah Field, the bulletin board showing 32-0 at the final whistle. The crimson and white could easily have doubled the score had Captain Rupert so desired.

Johnny Parsons and Wallace de Witt tore off huge chunks of yardage every time they were sent around ends, but Captain Rupert didn't want a big score and he tried out all his line bucks, off tackle smashes and forward passes.

Os Day's line plunging was a feature.
About 1000 fans witnessed the game and considerable criticism was voiced as a result of an altercation between Det lit and George Wagner, 152-pound Scattle center, who was easily the star for the visitors. Wagner applied some short and ugly term to De Witt in the fourth quarter and the Princeton star hit him open-handed across the ear, Crawd Booes De Witt. Crawd Booes De Witt.

None of the officials saw the tilt and when DeWitt was not ruled off the field, the crowd took sides with Wagner and booed both De Witt and the officials. As soon as the contest was over the Multnoman Club halfback went over and shook hands with the visitor and everything was at ease again.

Scoring started in the first quarter when De Witt made a touchdown followed by a goal kick by Len Streibig. Nothing more happened until Os Day uncorked a forward pass to Alex Donaldson, who ran 18 yards for a touchdown two minutes after the second quarter started. Streibig again, kicked quarter started. Streibig again kicked goal.

Then Os Day came through with a line plunge soon after Donaldson's score, and this netted 8 more points, bringing the total to 20 to 0 at the end of the first haif.

After the rest both teams seemed refreshed, and no counts were made during the third quarter. The fourth stanza was featured by a 52-yard run around his own left end by Johnny Parson. The same old wizardry of evading tacklers he had for the University of Oregon in 1913 and 1914 was with Johnny yesterday when he had his hands on the pigskin.

WOODBURN, Or., Oct., 16.—(Special.)—Woodburn High School continued its winning streak today by defeating the fast Camby High team by the score of 47 to 9. The one-sided score does not mean that the game was uninteresting, but was featured by the fast play and teamwork of the home team. Last Saturday Coach Pfaffs to me defeated Silverton High, 58 to 9. Pfaff, the former Willamette star tackle, is rounding out a good team here.

Few Rule Changes in 1915 Football.

THE changes in the football rules this year are very simple. The following are the principal alterations lowing are the principal alterations which spectators should bear in mind: First.—There must be four officials instead of three, the use of the field Judge house obligatory. The field Judge instead of livesman is now the limekeeper. Second—Resulstitutions are allowed only should be about the first of a period.

Third Blocking of a period.
Third Blocking and intercring wherein players throw their legs up in the air, is forbliden, and a Leyara penalty inflicted for hiden, and a leyara penalty inflicted for hiden. Second—Results of the first of the first of the first of the first penaltied, by a loss of 15 yards and disqualification.

Sixth—The forward pass, when thrown out of bounds as a substitute for a punt, is declared an incompleted forward pass.

Seventh—If a second eligible man touches the forward pass after it has first been touched by an eligible player it becomes an incompleted forward pass.

Michigan College Turns Attention to Oregon.

East Lansing Contest Absorbing Attention of Eastern Eleven, but Coach Foresees Hard Fight and Is Filling Up Old Gaps.

LANSING, Mich., Oct. 16 .- (Special.) With all of its preliminary games —With all of its preliminary games practically over, the Michigan Agricultural College football team is rapidly being pointed for the big games of the season, one of which is the contest here on October 30 with the Oregon Agricultural College.

Following as it does the biggest game the East Lansing boys have—the game with the University of Michigan—the Oregon contest has been to some extent overlooked by everybody with the exception of the coach, John Farrell Macklin.

"Be sure and beat Michigan" has always been the cry at the Aggie college. The Ann Arbor institution is its natural and only rival in the state, and in the past all of the teams have been prepared with extra care for that contest. Last year Michigan was almost played to a standstill, and then there was a slump which brought disaster. Flushed with the fact that Yost's men had barely come through with a 3-to-0 victory Michigan Agricultural College on the Saturday following we have a contest with the Oregon Aggies which is just as much of a contest, if not more from one angle, than the game with Michigan. We are called upon to defend Eastern football, or, rather, Middle West football, as we have never been before.

"Whatever we do we must not underestimate the boys from the Pacific Coast. I know something about the game they played last year and I have received a few tips on their work so far this Fail. They are foemen worthy of our best endeavor. Remember Nebraska and fear Oregon."

The Michigan Aggles so far have been a puzzle to the dopesters. Graduation last June robbed it of two important players, a quarterback and a
