OR several years it has been the ambition of the different business manager. managers of the Lens, the school publication, to devise a plan whereby the advertising merchants would be as. sured of the students' patronage and where the students could depend upon where the students could depend upon the merchants' support.

Different plans and schemes have been tried repeatedly but with only partial success, so at last Business Manager Gerald Stevens, with the cooperation of other students, has drawn up a plan which he and the students believe will be a material success.

Following is the accepted plan:

"We, the students of Washington High School, in order to prove our school loyalty and advance the interests of our school paper, the Lens, hereby pledge ourselves faithfully to support by our trade the advertisers who patronize the Lens.
