SEATTLE SLEUTH BUSY

PIER FIRE CAUSES ACTIVITY TO HALT ARSON WORK.

Lessee Knew of Threats to Fire Property and Arrested Man's Movements Are Investigated.

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 30.—(Special.)—Working on the theory that the attempted destruction Thursday night of Pier 14, used by the Blue Funnel Line, one of the largest British carriers in the overseas trade, was the work of a ring sworn to prevent shipment of munitions to foreign governments, and that if such activities are not nipped in the bud there will be other waterfront fires, the detectives are centralizing their efforts in an endeavor to catch the conspirators.

That Dodwell & Co., lessees of the pier, had warning of a plot to destroy the pier is evidenced by the fact that an employe of the company went to Prosecuting Attorney Lundin several days ago and reported that efforts would be made to destroy the pier, at the same time asking for advice how to proceed to obtain protection.

Immediately afterward the two incendiary fires were discovered in the early morning hours and three days later damage amounting to more than $1,000,000 was done by an incendiary fire.

D. Wilmann, the dock worker who was arrested on suspicion of having knowledge of the plot to destroy the pier, is still held at police headquarters and his movements during the entire period of his residence in Seattle are being investigated. Wilmann has been identified positively as the man who was seen acting suspiciously about Pier 14 in the last few weeks by half a dozen dock workers. The prisoner has given several conflicting statements.

The facts leading up to the fire have been unofficially presented to United States District Attorney Allen. Practically the combined Federal, county and city machinery in Seattle has been brought to bear on the case.

MOSIER APPLES SOLD

New York Firm Buys Entire Crop of Fancy Grades.

ASSOCIATION MAKES DEAL

Shipments of Spitzenbergs and Yellow Newtons Will Approximate 25 Cars—Price Not Revealed. Total Is About $20,000.

MOSIER, Or., Oct. 30.—(Special.)—Steinhardt & Kelly, of New York, have purchased from the Mosier Fruitgrowers' Association the entire crop of Spitzenberg and Yellow Newtown apples, which includes the grades of extra fancy, fancy and special. Twenty-five cars will probably be shipped, divided about equally between the two varieties. According to the wishes of the buyers, who have other deals pending and do not desire to have the price paid to one district affect that of another, detailed returns will be withheld for at least a month, said Manager Chatfield.

"However," he added, "the prices were very satisfactory to the board of directors and certainly very encouraging. The sale was made cash, freight on board Mosier, and the gross amount will be in the neighborhood of $20,000. All sizes were taken according to our grading rules, from 200's and larger. This disposes of the entire crop of apples of the Mosier district with the exception of the choice grade and a few miscellaneous varieties of apples."

The shipping of this recently purchased fruit is ging on daily at the rate of one to two cars. At the present time enough apples to make 15 cars have been delivered at the warehouse. Towards the windup of the hauling the shipments will not be made so fast, so that teams will be busy for the next three weeks hauling the apples from the apple-houses of the growers to the association warehouse.

At the beginning of the season the estimate of tonnage was placed at 55 carloads, whereas it will actually reach somewhat over 30 carloads. The extra fancy grade will average only 20 per cent of the entire crop. Due to the extremely dry weather, this class of apples throughout the Northwest is eagerly sought on account of the scarcity.

For a number of years the apple buying firm of Steinhardt & Kelly has purchased the Mosier crop. The sale this year was made through the Northwest Fruit Exchange, with which the Mosier Fruitgrowers' Association is affiliated.

PASTOR TO ARBITRATE

DR. HILLIS WILL ADJUST LITIGATION OUT OF COURT.

Amicable Methods Adopted After Persuasion by Clergymen Who Have Been Close Friends.

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—Dr. Newell Dwight Hillis, of Plymouth Church, Brooklyn, the pulpit which was once occupied by Henry Ward Beecher, and Frank L. Ferguson, ex-president of the board of trustees of the church, today signed a binding agreement to submit to arbitration all matters at issue between them.

Chief of these matters was a demand by Dr. Hillis for an accounting of his business adventures for several years, the books and papers relating to which, it was charged, had been retained by Mr. Ferguson, who was Dr. Hillis' business manager for several years.

Discussion over this has resulted in the filing of a libel suit for $50,000 damages against Dr. Hillis by his nephew, Percy D. Hillis, and legal action to have Mr. Ferguson examined prior to the contemplated filing of an action of some sort against him by Dr. Hillis.

Dr. Hillis and Dr. Ferguson were persuaded to adjust their differences by amicable methods by clergymen who have long been close friends of the Plymouth Church pastor.

BOY SHOT BY MAN

Clayton Davolt, 16, Victim of Eugene Rhodes, Near Kelso.

INJURIES ARE SERIOUS

Youth Is Returning From Masquerade With Companions When Attack Occurs—Shooter, in Jail, Avers He Fired to Frighten.

KELSO, Wash., Oct. 30.(Special.)—Clayton Davolt, 16-year-old son of G. F. Davolt, of Freeport, was shot and seriously wounded Friday night by Eugene Rhodes, former inmate of the Oregon Insane Asylum, in front of the latter's home near Freeport Hall, south of West Kelso. The boy was sent yesterday to a hospital in Portland. Rhodes is in jail at Kalama.

According to the story told by young Davolt, he and a number of youthful companions had walked from their homes in Freeport to Kelso to witness the Kelso High School junior-sophomore masquerade on Friday night. About 10 o'clock they started to walk home. When about a mile from Kelso two little girls were missed, and several members of the party went back after them.

Clayton Davolt, with Irene Baxter, 12 years old, and Olaf Longman, 15, stood in the road awaiting the return of the others. The boy says that a man came out on the porch of a nearby house, shouted something unintelligible, raised a shotgun and fired.

Rhodes was arrested and given a hearing this morning. He admits firing his shotgun, but disclaims any intention of hitting anyone. He avers that he fired to frighten the party. After the shooting he took the injured youth into his house and summoned medical assistance from this city.

The man has some wood piled along the road, which was shoved over by boys some days ago, according to report. He is said to have threatened to shoot if the wood was again disturbed. Evidence at the hearing showed that the boys on Friday night were clear across the road and not molesting the wood. He is held to await action of the Superior Court.

Rhodes was discharged as cured from the Salem Insane Asylum in Oregon in 1912. His sanity will be tested.

BOY IS IN HOSPITAL HERE

Clayton Davolt Probably Will Lose His Left Eye.

With two shot penetrating his left eyeball, 12 more imbedded in his neck and head, and 20 more in his body and limbs, Clayton Davolt lies at St. Vincent's Hospital in a serious condition, as a result of being shot Friday night near Kelso, Wash., by a man found to be Eugene Rhodes.

It was stated yesterday at the hospital that the boy probably will lose the sight of his left eye, but his other injuries may not prove serious unless complications set in.

CHEHALIS, Wash., Oct. 30.—(Special.)—The long drawn out dispute between the City of Chehalis and W. J. Murphy, a Tacoma contractor, who built a sewer system here about four years ago, is possibly further from settlement now than ever before.

The original price on the sewer job waproximately $56,000. Dispute as to legal acceptance of the work by the city authorities who retired when Chehalis changed to the commission form of government, and damage to the outlet of the trunk sewer built by Murphy owing to a flood in the Chehalis river, destroying a portion of the of the work, together with alleged faulty construction, caused the litigation, which has kept Mr. Murphy out of his money.

IRRIGATION IS SOUGHT

CAMPAIGN LAUNCHED TO CREATE DISTRICT NEAR CULVER.

Meetings Held Throughout North Unit of Deschutes Project to Promote Land Development.

CULVER, Or., Oct. 30.—(Special.)—A campaign is on to create an irrigation district out of the north unit of the Deschutes project. Meetings were held this week within the proposed unit at Opal City, Culver, Mud Springs, Madras, Gateway and Metolius. Many signed the petition to the Jefferson County Court asking that a district be created.

The north unit is that portion of the Deschutes project within Jefferson County and extends nearly 30 miles from near the south border of the county to near the south line of Wasco County. It contains nearly 100,000 acres of irrigable land.

The Jefferson County Irrigation Club has been active during the past two years in advancing irrigation. An organization committee will have charge of the organization of the district. A finance committee will raise the necessary funds so that the district, if created, will be debt-free.

This land is ideal for irrigation because of the quality of the soil and is comparatively level with sufficient slope to insure proper drainage. During a wet season a few years since the wheat yield ran as high as 40 bushels an acre.

Little of the proposed project lies more than five miles from a railroad. In spite of dry seasons, isolated stalks of alfalfa grow to huge proportions, especially on north slopes where there is more moisture.

New Industrial Teachers Named.

OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, Corvallis, Oct. 30.—(Special.)—Although the school year is well advanced, Professor E. D. Miss Winnie Shields, of the 1914 class, has been appointed teacher of home economics at Falls City.
