Miss Floretta Valouth, who also entertained last week

Miss Maxine Hembree, who left Monday for Los Angeles

Harrington, Edward Coughlin, Walter E. Galbraith, Dan E. Hughes, Robert Graham and Frank J. McHugh. William Healey, of Portland, acted as best man, and the bride's attendants were her sister, Miss Frances Gorman, as maid of honor, and flower girls, Mary Gorman, another sister of the bride, and her little cousin, Alice Gorman.

The bride, who is a handsome brunette, wore a Lucille gown of white satin and tulle embroidered in pearls and crystal, with short-length skirt. A court train extended from the shoulders, over which hung a filmy white veil, held to the coiffure with a spray of orange blossoms. The bridal bouquet was a shower of orchids, lilies of the valley and bride roses.

The little flower girls wore frocks of batiste with pink sashes, and they carried baskets of Cecil Bruner buds.

Mrs. Gorman, mother of the bride, was admired in a handsome gown of three-piece suit, a Paquin model French blue velvet, trimmed with ermine and a hat of velvet, adorned with white paradise feathers.

Mrs. P. J. Cronin, of this city, mother of the bridegroom, was in a gown of black imported tulle, with a long coat of corded silk, trimmed with broadtail fur. Her hat was a small black velvet toque.

Following the ceremony, a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents, in Seventeenth avenue, covers being placed for 100 relatives and intimate friends.

The rooms were decked with pink roses and other seasonable flowers, similar blossoms adorning the table.

Mr. and Mrs. Cronin left for a wedding trip in California, and they will be at home after December 1 at 4 Hunt Club road, Garden Home.

The bride's going-away suit was a chic tulle of navy blue gabardine, worn with a tulle de negre hat.

Mrs. Cronin is the first bride among the graduates of the Sacred Heart convent of Seattle.

Among the Portland folk who attended the ceremony in the northern city were Mrs. Cronin, mother of the bridegroom; his sister, Miss Katherine Cronin; Mr. and Mrs. Ambrose M. Cronin, and A. M. Cronin, Jr., and Miss Mary M. Wolf. Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Bern, of Vancouver, B. C., also journeyed to Seattle for the function.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Biddle are occupying apartments in the Stelwyn for the winter.

wedding will be an event of December 16 in the Underwood chapel. The bride, an unusually attractive girl, is the daughter of Mrs. H. K. Weber, and she is a graduate of the Bellevue College, of Nashville, and of Notre Dame, Cal. She has traveled extensively and is most interesting and charming.

Mr. Childs is a Stanford man, formerly living in Redlands, Cal. and he is a popular member of the Phi Delta Theta.

At present he is acting superintendent of the Hood River experiment station, and the young folks will make their home in that city.

Both Miss Holmes and Mr. Childs are well known in this city, where they have many friends. The bride-elect formerly came from Lansing, Mich., where she also was popular socially.

Mrs. Fletcher Linn entertained with a charming musical Friday night honoring Mrs. Walter Kendall, recently from Honolulu, who has come to make her home in Portland. An artistic programme was given by the honor guest, who is a charming vocalist, accompanied by Miss Constance Piper. The rooms were prettily decorated with seasonable blossoms, and the supper table was presided over by Mrs. H. C. Wortman and Mrs. Harold Sawyer. About 45 of the hostess' close friends were asked to meet the interesting guest.

Dean Thomas F. Holgate and Mrs. Holgate were the guests of honor for the motor trip on the Columbia Highway Friday afternoon, followed by a dinner at Crown Point, for which Dr. and Mrs. W. F. Fleibig were hosts.

Dr. Holgate is attending a meeting in Spokane over the week-end, and Mrs. Holgate is visiting Mr. and Mrs. George N. Woodley.

The introduction of dinner dances at the Hotel Multnomah Tuesday evening was quite a delightful innovation in Portland. Dozens of the dance devotees made up dinner parties and enjoyed the premier of the series. The event was also to celebrate the opening of the new gold dining-room, formerly the blue room. Dinner tables were placed around the sides of a pretty white and gold ballroom, which was most attractive with cherry blossoms, chrysanthemums, wisteria and other blossoms of the Flowery Kingdom in compliment to the coronation of the Mikado. American and Japanese flags were gracefully draped across the panels of the walls, and the ceiling was festooned with the Japanese blossoms.

Among the diners, who later were joined by a merry throng of dancers, were: Mr. and Mrs. Everett Ames, Mr. and Mrs. Alma D. Katz, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Francis Adams, Miss Daisy Adams, and Mrs. Adams' sister-in-law, Mrs. Van L. Eichbaum; Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Mearns, Mr. and Mrs. Whitney L. Boise, Major and Mrs. H. C. Jewett, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar R. Menefee, Miss Antoinette Mearns, Clarence R. Sewall, E. W. Ortman, Stanley Adams, Mr. and Mrs. Julius L. Meier, Mr. and Mrs. Abe Meier, Judge and Mrs. George N. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. L. N. Lipman, Will Lipman, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. Sanford Lowenkart, Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Fleischer, Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Metzger, Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Ayer, Mr. and Mrs. J. Sherman O'Gorman, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Neustadter, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Berg, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Blumauer, and Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Mack. Hereafter dinner dances will be given at the Multnomah every Tuesday and Friday evening with dinner served from 6 to 8 o'clock in the ballroom and gold room.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Myers have arrived from their home in the Hawaiian Islands. They are the guests of Mrs. Myers' sister, Mrs. John Gill, on Vista avenue, Portland Heights.

An engagement of interest to local residents as well as those in Hood River, White Salmon and Underwood is that of Miss Hazel Holmes, of Underwood, to Leroy Childs, of Hood River. The news was told last week at an attractive luncheon presided over by Miss Ruth Cooper in Underwood. A pretty color scheme of pink and white was developed with flowers, favors and novelties apropos of the event. The mother, Mrs. Anna Newman, in Fresno, Cal. for a few weeks, returned to Portland last week. Mrs. Louison was extensively entertained by prominent folk in and around San Francisco. Mr. and Mrs. William Heller Ehrman (Minnie Fleischer) also returned last week from a trip to San Francisco.

Miss Georgia Varnum returned last week from a visit in San Francisco, where she was charmingly entertained.

Additional box holders for the big skating party to be given Friday, November 26, for the Oregon Collegiate Alumnae at the Ice Hippodrome, for the benefit of the proposed women's memorial building at University of Oregon: President W. T. Foster, of Reed College; Mrs. James B. Kerr, Judge W. N. Gaten, Mrs. Thomas D. Honeyman, Mrs. George Gerlinger, Mrs. Vincent Cook, Miss Mal Hirsch, Dr. Wheeler, Dr. Ray Matson, Dr. Katherine Manion, of the Oregon University; Misses Wold, J. D. Farrell, William McMurray, J. P. O'Brien, representing the O. W. & N. Charles Herwig, W. Y. Masters, Rotary Club representatives; J. Shannon, Mr. De Varney, Frederick Holman, for the Zeta Psi, and the football teams, Oregon, U-Multnomah.

In honor of Lady Gregory, a reception will be held on Friday night in the Hotel Portland. The Portland Educational Association has planned the function, and its officers will be among those in the receiving line.

One of the most interesting musicals is that to be given by Madame L. Vealar this afternoon at the Heilig Theater. The affair has the patronage of prominent society women and promises to be a notable event.

Next Sunday the Symphony concert will attract a large following of music lovers to the Heilig, during which time a number of line and box parties will be given.

Mrs. S. D. Hollister, Jr., has been appointed chairman of the bazaar to be held afternoons and evenings of November 30, at St. David's Parish House, East Twelfth and East Morrison streets. Mrs. J. N. Graham has charge of the Home; Mrs. Arthur J. Vial, the aprons; Mrs. C. Mooney, the dolls and fancywork; bargain booth No. 1, Mrs. Hodson; No. 2, Mrs. R. W. Hastings; delicacies, Mrs. J. Hancock. A novel feature will be the parcel post booth, in charge of Mrs. A. L. Du Puy, assisted by Mrs. M. J. H. H. The Daughters of St. David's will have charge of the candy.

Dr. William A. Cumming, who left Portland in October to wed Miss Suzanne Quinn, of Brooklyn, N. Y., on Saturday, November 6, at the home of his bride, Mrs. Arthur J. Vial, in Seventh avenue, Brooklyn, is expected to reach this city with his bride about the end of this month. Dr. Cumming and his bride will be eagerly welcomed by a large coterie of friends, who will entertain them with numerous affairs.

Something new has been introduced in the way of entertaining society by the Ford Motor Car Company. Mrs. F. B. Norman, wife of the manager of the plant, assisted by Mrs. J. A. McCord, was hostess on Thursday for a group of prominent matrons, who were taken through the plant for a tour of inspection, and also given a demonstration of assembling a car. Later they were further entertained with a motor trip to the Waverley Country Club, where Mrs. Norman presided at the table. The guests were Mrs. F. G. Wheeler, Mrs. Robert W. Lewis, Mrs. W. D. Wheelwright, Mrs. W. C. Alvord, Miss Olga von Destinon, Miss Catherine Russell, Mrs. J. K. Kollock, Mrs. Robert T. Hill, Mrs. W. F. Fleibig, Mrs. W. O. Van Schuyver, Mrs. Donald Green, Mrs. J. Shepherd Eels and Mrs. J. A. McCord.

Mr. and Mrs. Wheelwright, Mrs. Robere W. Lewis and sons, Hunt and Bobbie, returned early in the week from a brief visit at the exposition in San Francisco.

The Monday Night Skating Club's opening, scheduled to take place tomorrow night, has been postponed indefinitely. The committee is making other plans, which will be announced at a later date.

A wedding of considerable interest to local people, as well as San Francisco and New York folk, is that of Miss Bertha Reinstein, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Reinstein, of this city, to Joseph Lee Jacobs, son of Mr. and Mrs. Isador Jacobs, of San Francisco. Mr. Jacobs also is a nephew of Oscar Straus, ex-Ambassador to Turkey, and of Nathan Straus, the well-known philanthropist of New York.

Both young people are graduates of the University of California. Miss Reinstein majored in English and music. She is very popular in social circles both in California and this city, as well as being a favorite in sorority circles.

The bride-elect will be attended by Miss Anita May and Miss Hanita Friedenthal. Roy Feidenheimer will act as best man, and the officiating services will be read by Dr. Jonah B. Wise. The ceremony will take place in the Tyrolean room of Hotel Benson at 8:30

Styles of the Moment

New Suits -- Stunning Coats
Exquisite Millinery

A Liebes Fur Coat

A Real Gift for "Her"

FURS have always been a royal gift, from the days when Roman consuls brought rare skins from the corners of the earth to the ladies of the imperial court. Today the Liebes Arctic stations and the Liebes factories combine in producing fur garments of princely quality, regal style and economic cost.

Because Liebes' Furs possess the elements of style, superiority and intrinsic worth, it does not follow that they are expensive. Quite the contrary obtains. Producing, manufacturing and selling direct permits a reduced production cost in which you share. A comparison will convince. Come in tomorrow; come in any day and prove this to your own satisfaction.
