Importance of Supplies Shut Off by European Conflict Explained by Dealer.

Before the war the retail dealer could My exchelic and at a assistal price of 25 cents a pound. The price today a $2.25 a pound.

he $5.15 a pound. This, amoreting to it, G. Persell, the New sales manager for the Blumauer-Frank Drug Co. is a fair sample of the way in which the prices of many of the drugs it most comman use have gene no since the beginning of the war awing to the inability of the United States to import them from European countries which was the principal source of supply.

condition which was the principal source of supply.

The war, Mr. Permil says, has also becreased the consumption of nome varieties of drugs, thus giving another dame for the advanced prices.

Substantiating his declaration that the advances made in the prices of drugs are consest by the diminishing supply and the increasing demand, Mr. Permil said:

Price-Increase Austrand. "Many drugs and chemicals which are in daily demand have advanced essentiately, and we are interested in anowing whether the present-day cost hnowing whether the present-day cost is caused by speculation or that the supply is inadequate to the demand. A chemical with which we are all familiar is carbolic acid. We shall proceed to determine whether the advance in price is justified or has a fictilious value. First, this country preduces little or no carbolic acid, and our supplies were drawn from the nations now at war, principally England. Our importations, accounding to Government stattetion, from 1909 to 1913, inclusive, were as follows:

"From the foregoing, you will see that our consumption in normal times is constantly on the increase, and conthat our consumption in normal times is constantly on the increase, and con-sequently the demand greater. Car-bells acid is recognized by the medical profession as the most efficacious of all antiseptics, therefore the consumption in Europe, osused by the war, has increased a thousand fold, and what we naturally would have imported has been kept at home: the English government bus gene so far as to place at embargo on its exportation.

"Quinine, the alkaloid of cinchona hark, has advanced as sensationally as has carbolic acid. Few people realized its emormous gensumption in this country. According to Government statistion, in the year 1915 we imported 2,227,394 contest, which, according to the tabulations of the Government, in the tabulations of the Government, in the country 23 to 25 doses a year. "Quining has reached today the maximum price since the Civil War, and we are in the midat of the Winter season when it is lotat in demand. What the price will be in the Spring and Summer no one can foretell. Censumption Not Realized.

The high price of soids, such as fitric and invitario, which we import from Southern Italy, is due from the fact that the laborers are all in the army. There is no one left to gather the crope and convert them into the finished product. This also is the reason for the advanced cost for many convential offs.

Opium Supply Shut Off By War.

"Opium and its derivations, such as marphine and codeins, have materially advanced, and the reason is easily found. China, some time and placed an enharge on the cultivation of the puppy plant, which left Turkey as our only source of supply for opium of the madisipal quality. Now that her ports are blackeded and she is shut out from intercaurs with the autside world, our importations have dwindled and prices have accordingly stapped, supplies have dwindled and prices have accordingly stapped, supplies have fived on-mated with the Biumaust-Frank Drug-Ca, since October I. Henry Milier, producer and manager of "Daddy Long-Lega," made his first New York appearance in a famous stock company operated by Mr. and Mrs. Eberle. When he gathered together his own cast for Jean Webster's play, he saw an opportunity to give his old friends engagements in the same company, an arrangement the Eberles had been unable to effect during the last 20 years. Mr. Miller made the statement a few weeks ago that he was less proud of the phenomenal success of "Daddy Long-Lega" than of the fact that both Mr. and Mrs. Eugene A.
