UNIVERSITY ADDS WORK

COMMERCIAL STUDIES INCREASE GREATLY AT EUGENE.

Business Careers Are Chosen by Ma jority of Students and More Courses Are Instituted.

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, Jan. 29.—(Special.)—Not less than one new course in every department has been added to the schedule of classes for the atudent who will enter the university at mid-way. Commercial studversity at mid-year. Commercial stud-les are offered in the greatest number with English and music a close second Among the courses are many new types of commercial subjects brought from the East, and are open to men and women who wish to take up com-mercial work with a view to teaching these subjects in the high schools of the state.

The work of the school of commerce is assuming large proportions. The choice of the incoming students at the university last Fall was largely in some form of commercial subjects, either in the school of commerce or the department of economics.

The number of students who have expressed their intention of following some line of business after graduation is by far larger than the students' choices in other channels.

Women of the university have been urged by Dean Morton to take up com-

HOQUIAM PIONEER DIES

S. S. Dunlap, 1858, and Steve Grover, 1873, Pass Away.

HOQUIAM, Wash., Jan. 29 .- (Special.) This week two of the Hoquiam district's earliest residents died, S. S. Dunlap, who homesteaded in the East Hoquiam River Valley about three miles north of the present city limits in 1858, and Steve Grover, one of the earliest sea-otter hunters on the north beach, who came here in 1873, attracted by stories of the wealth to be made by hunting otter.

Dunlap for the past 25 years had lived the life of a hermit on his ranch. He was past 80 years of age and died alone in his cabin.

Grover, who died in Seattle Tuesday, where he had been under the care of a specialist since November, was the last of the original sea-otter hunters on the north beach between the Grays Harbor entrance and the Moclips River. He came West following the Civil War, in which he served three years, with a cattle train, which he drove overland to Montana. This week two of the Hoquiam dis-

The Search for Wedding Gifts Again Ends at Jaeger Bros.

It Was Silverware They Bought-A Sane, Sensible and Appropriate Gift Always

A COUPLE A-SHOPPING WENT. They visited many stores—because they were unacquainted in Portland—but they finally reached the quality jewelry establishment of Jaeger Bros.

THEY TOLD US of a wedding, which was to be held at a palatial a country home out from Hood River. They stated they wanted something sensible and appropriate as a gift, but feared that Sterling silver might be too expensive.

AND, LIKE MANY PEOPLE, they were surprised that Jasger Bros.' A prices were so low. NATURALLY, THEY PURCHASED. ---In speaking of the wedding a Portland person in attendance said:—

"THERE WERE MANY GIFTS. They were all beautiful, but THE LARGE CHEST OF SILVER THAT BORE THE NAME JAEGER BROS. EXCITED THE ADMIRATION OF ALL.

IN SELECTING WEDDING GIFTS you, too, should choose silverware, but be sure it is good silverware. There is a vast difference, even in Sterling.

SO LET YOUR FOOTSTEPS LEAD YOU TO THE STORE OF JAEGER BROS, WHERE STOCKS ARE COMPOSED ONLY OF SILVERWARE OF MERIT (THE STRONG, STURDY, HEAVY KIND-NOT THE LIGHT-WEIGHT KIND). All of the very newest patterns in single pieces or sets are here, many of them being sold
