

E. H. WHITNEY OUT FOR SCHOOL POST

Principal of Oakley Green Aspires to Superintendency of County as Republican.

WIDE EXPERIENCE GAINED

Specialty Made of Pre-Industrial Training and Nomination Asked on Pledge of Introducing This in Elementary Schools.

On a platform urging pre-industrial training in elementary and secondary schools of the smaller cities of the state, also gaining experience as City Superintendent of Schools. For the past eight years he has been a grammar school principal in Portland.

times, over the Santiam route, the Barlow route and the old military road, from Eugene and rode horseback from Albany to Sacramento, Cal. In the days of the Oregon and California stage line, I was a cowboy in the Ochoco Valley away back in 1872 when Prineville, now a prosperous little city had but one store, one hotel, a mill and two saloons. I taught school in Benton County, nine miles from Corvallis in the Winter of 1873. Portland then had a population of 15,000 people of which 4,000 were Chinese. Men 30 years of age were living in Oregon in those days who had never seen a railroad.

"Things have changed, myself included, during the 43 years since that time. I passed over the old stamping ground three years ago. Dear old Mount Hood, Mount Jefferson, the Three Waters were about the only things unchanged, standing like sentinels on guard, marking time and noting the changing panorama that lies at their feet. Do I know Oregon? Yes, the Oregon of old, not the new Oregon."

E. H. Whitney, Principal of Oakley Green School, Candidate for Republican Nomination for County School Superintendent.

Empire Thought Best. Yuan Shi Kai Is Declared Strongest Man in Country; Revolt Closed as Half-Order Affair.

It would be the best thing for China if Yuan Shi Kai were made Emperor, in the opinion of Mrs. Carl Crow, ex-Portland girl and now authoress and resident of Shanghai, China.

Announcing his candidacy yesterday, Mr. Whitney made the following statement of his platform:

In asking for the support of the voters of Multnomah County for the Republican nomination for County Superintendent of Schools in the May primary, it is in order that a brief statement of my attitude toward the educational problem of the county be demanded. To sum up briefly, I believe:

That the public schools should give equal opportunity to all children.

That the boy who is to become the farmer, the carpenter, or tradesman of whatever calling, requires as essential preparatory training in the elementary and secondary schools as does the boy who is to become a lawyer, the lawyer, or man of other professional calling.

That our girls should be given thorough training in household economics and home building, especially, and in addition should have equal chance with the boys in becoming skilled in the trades and professions if so desired.

That grades in school should be discarded when the age, environment, and needs of the pupil require special treatment.

That it is our duty to the normal child to maintain pre-industrial and vocational schools for the indigent and the feeble-minded and give him an opportunity to get the training that has been so successful in the cases above stated.

That the permanent development of the city rests in a great measure on the development of the rural industries.

That rural industries have always employed the great bulk of our laborers, and it is today, because of the neglect of these industries, that we have the greatest burden upon them of training the majority of our laborers and professions and should be equipped in the best possible manner to meet the task.

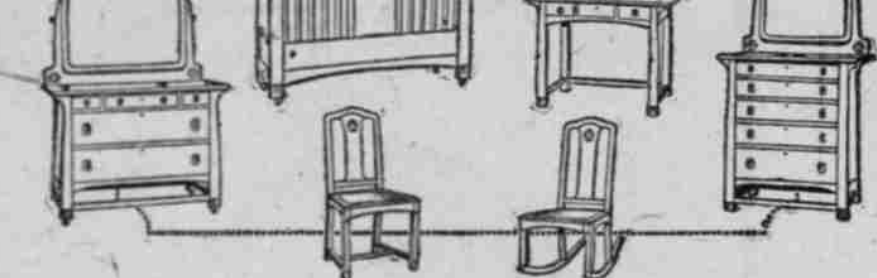

That the schools of Multnomah County can be so organized that they will meet the requirements of our changed and changing conditions.

That agriculture and kindred activities are the most important in our country, and that a new conception of business acumen is necessary to the successful farmer, or rancher.

That when the country school is developed to the point where it will administer to the needs of the rural population, the "back-to-the-farm" era will have its day, and the fields for his activity and enjoyment.

Humane Society Outlines Proposed Service to City.

MONTHLY COST $772.50

Free Veterinary Treatment of All City Animals and Those Picked Up Are Features—Modern Building Also Projected.

It will cost the city $772.50 to operate the pound under direction of the Oregon Humane Society, as proposed, but for the future, the society points out, the city will get much valuable service that it does not get under the present arrangement.

Officers of the Humane Society have prepared an estimate of the expense of administration and operation, and have briefly outlined precisely what services they propose to perform, which includes, in addition to the services now received by the city, the following:

- Free medical treatment for city horses.
- Care and treatment of all sick and disabled dumb animals, the owners of which are unable to provide for them.
- Calling for and destruction of small dead animals.
- Investigation of cases of cruelty and neglect of dumb animals.
- Investigation of violations of state and interstate transportation laws applicable to livestock.
- Enforcement of a vigorous policy against cruelty to animals.
- Regular systematic inspection of san-

BIG ARMY CAMP LIKELY

GENERAL WHITE HEARS OF PLANS FOR SEVEN STATES.

23,000 Men Would Be Assembled for Summer Instruction at Hands of Regular Army Officers.

The largest force of militiamen ever gathered in the Northwest will, if the plans of Congress and the War Department materialize, assemble in camp for the coming Summer in annual maneuvers.

Word was yesterday received from the War Department by Adjutant-General White, of the Oregon National Guard, to the effect that divisional camps were being contemplated for all guard units throughout the country.

The 16th division, which includes the Oregon National Guard, comprises the states of Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Montana, Utah, California and Nevada.

The strength of this division is an approximate 13,000 men in all branches of the service.

No details are mentioned in the message from the War Department as to the time for the encampment or the location, but it is thought that the camp will be held in some place central to all the states involved.

Either Northern California or Eastern Oregon are considered likely locations by officials of the Oregon National Guard.

Only the infantry forces will be included in the divisional encampment, other organizations engaging at the same time in maneuvers elsewhere. The total number of infantrymen in the 16th division of the guard is 13,028 men.

It is also the plan of the War Department for the other organizations in the states militia to engage in maneuvers with men from the regular service. The machine gun companies, cavalrymen and field artillerymen will be such organizations that will go into encampment with regular service men.

Indians Rich in Timber, but Are Starving.

Wenth of Quinaults, Though Estimated at $100,000 to $200,000, Besides Land, Not in Shape to Turn Into Needed Food.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, Feb. 12.—As showing one phase of the impracticability of the Government's Indian policy, Representative Johnson, of Washington, called attention to the plight of the Quinault Indians in Southwestern Washington.

"These Indians," he said, "have a vast reservation, but few allotments have been made, and the result is the Indians are timber rich and starvation poor. They have their reservation and the timber on it, but they cannot sell it. They are actually dependent on the Government for little supplies handed out from Government stations. Yet these Indians may be worth, in timber, from $100,000 to $200,000."

Mr. Johnson urged a change of policy that would permit these Indians to sell their own property and thus cease to be wards of the Government and become self-supporting.
