

Society

Mrs. Warren E. Thomas

Two of Portland's Prominent Matrons in Musical and Social Circles, Patrons of Juliet on Thursday Night

Taylor, of Los Angeles, who was visiting in this city for several days with her parents, Mrs. David C. Lewis entertained Monday with an informal luncheon, followed by an Orpheum party. Luncheon was served at Hotel Portland.

Mrs. Alfred A. Aya (Grace Honeyman), of Lapine, Or., and little daughter, Barbara, are house guests of the Thomas D. Honeymans at their residence for several weeks.

The popular Mrs. Fred H. Hopkins, of Medford, who is a frequent visitor in this city, is the house guest of her sister, Mrs. C. H. Noble. She came to Portland to attend a family reunion in celebration of the fifth birthday of her father, Judge J. H. Woodward, which was held Wednesday evening. Judge Woodward is a senior member of the Oregon Bar Association, and is the oldest practicing lawyer in Oregon.

Mrs. Hopkins will return in a day or two to her home in Southern Oregon.

Mrs. Henry W. Goodie, who has been absent from Portland for some time, is now domiciled in apartments at Hotel Nortonia.

Mrs. C. E. S. Wood left for the East last week for an extended visit with friends for several weeks, principally in New York City.

Miss Crystal Hyland, daughter of the former Oregon Commissioner at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition, George F. Hyland and Mrs. Hyland, whose engagement was announced during the fair to the attractive Bolivian, Luis Abell, is making plans for her wedding, which probably will take place this Spring. Mr. Abell plans to sail on February 28 for this country, and will reach here the early part of April. The wedding date will not be set until Mr. Abell's arrival, which will be the inspiration for many social affairs honoring the charming young couple.

Miss Hyland has been entertained informally during the past few weeks. She is an exceptionally pretty girl, and very popular. The wedding will be one of the most brilliant of the year.

Flowers and joyous messages of congratulation are pouring into Mr. and Mrs. Chester Griffin Murphy on the advent of their second daughter, Catherine Elizabeth, who was born Friday morning. The little maid has been named to honor her paternal grandmother.

One of the most interesting events of the week was the annual Valentine tea given for the benefit of the work of the Visiting Nurse Association Monday afternoon. The parlors of Hotel Portland were thronged with women, late in the afternoon many men braving the tumult of chatter and throng of women to give aid to the noble philanthropy.

Sufficient diversion was found at this tea to appease the most blase person. In addition to a prettily decked tea table, presided over by prominent and attractive matrons, who in turn were assisted in the service by pretty debutantes, flitting through the mad rush to attend to the comforts of the guests, there was instrumental music, dancing, vocal solos and general dancing to close the notable event. It was unfortunate that one of the soloists felt the buzz of voices too bravely to proceed with his delightful part of the interesting programme. Many of the women were not aware of the fact that one of the soloists was ready to start his programme, as the tea table was off in one corner, a distant corner being reserved for the musicians. They were almost as much surprised that Mr. Lind walked out as he was that they continued their talking.

Miss Aya Genevieve Paget and her partner, Mr. Unna, danced two dances in costume and were enthusiastically applauded.

Otto Wedemeyer sang three charming numbers, accompanied at the piano by Miss Constance Piper. Especially lovely was the last number, a zephyr-like, airy bit, radiating Springtime, entitled, "To a Water Lily."

Mrs. Sigmund Frank and Miss Wilson were stationed at the door to receive the silver contributions, and Mrs. A. A. Morrison and Mrs. James D. Honcyman presided at the candy table. It was a most attractive table, the containers and boxes being the gift of Mrs. Louise H. Tarpley, who also decorated the baskets and boxes with dainty old-fashioned designs of hand-painted flowers.

During the last hour of the tea general dancing was a feature, and as the men were in the minority the maids danced together. The tea table, adorned with a huge cascade of blue and pink flowers, was artistically combined with a wreath of primroses and pink petaled quince blossoms, tied with a fluffy bow of pink tulle.

The first hour by Mrs. Lewis Mills, Mrs. Kurt H. Koehler, Mrs. Solomon Blumauer and Mrs. C. S. Jackson. For the second hour Mrs. Helen Ladd Corbett, Mrs. Fremont O. Downing, Mrs. Edward Ehrman and Mrs. Henry C. Cabell presided. About two dozen fair maidens assisted boys in the sale of the delicious home-made candies and serving tea.

Mrs. Thomas Corrick Burke

Mrs. Thomas Corrick Burke is a frequent visitor in this city, and is the house guest of her sister, Mrs. C. H. Noble. She came to Portland to attend a family reunion in celebration of the fifth birthday of her father, Judge J. H. Woodward, which was held Wednesday evening. Judge Woodward is a senior member of the Oregon Bar Association, and is the oldest practicing lawyer in Oregon.

Mrs. Corrick Burke will return in a day or two to her home in Southern Oregon.

Mrs. Corrick Burke has been absent from Portland for some time, and is now domiciled in apartments at Hotel Nortonia.

Mrs. Corrick Burke is a frequent visitor in this city, and is the house guest of her sister, Mrs. C. H. Noble. She came to Portland to attend a family reunion in celebration of the fifth birthday of her father, Judge J. H. Woodward, which was held Wednesday evening. Judge Woodward is a senior member of the Oregon Bar Association, and is the oldest practicing lawyer in Oregon.

Mrs. Corrick Burke will return in a day or two to her home in Southern Oregon.

Mrs. Corrick Burke has been absent from Portland for some time, and is now domiciled in apartments at Hotel Nortonia.

Mrs. Corrick Burke is a frequent visitor in this city, and is the house guest of her sister, Mrs. C. H. Noble. She came to Portland to attend a family reunion in celebration of the fifth birthday of her father, Judge J. H. Woodward, which was held Wednesday evening. Judge Woodward is a senior member of the Oregon Bar Association, and is the oldest practicing lawyer in Oregon.

Mrs. Corrick Burke will return in a day or two to her home in Southern Oregon.

Mrs. Corrick Burke has been absent from Portland for some time, and is now domiciled in apartments at Hotel Nortonia.

Mrs. Corrick Burke is a frequent visitor in this city, and is the house guest of her sister, Mrs. C. H. Noble. She came to Portland to attend a family reunion in celebration of the fifth birthday of her father, Judge J. H. Woodward, which was held Wednesday evening. Judge Woodward is a senior member of the Oregon Bar Association, and is the oldest practicing lawyer in Oregon.

Mrs. Corrick Burke will return in a day or two to her home in Southern Oregon.

Mrs. Corrick Burke has been absent from Portland for some time, and is now domiciled in apartments at Hotel Nortonia.

Mrs. Corrick Burke is a frequent visitor in this city, and is the house guest of her sister, Mrs. C. H. Noble. She came to Portland to attend a family reunion in celebration of the fifth birthday of her father, Judge J. H. Woodward, which was held Wednesday evening. Judge Woodward is a senior member of the Oregon Bar Association, and is the oldest practicing lawyer in Oregon.

Mrs. Corrick Burke will return in a day or two to her home in Southern Oregon.

Mr. and Mrs. William C. Knighton, of Salem, who have been visiting in Portland, will go to New York soon for a visit before returning West this Spring. A number of social affairs have been planned for Mrs. Knighton in the tropics. Mr. and Mrs. Knighton have been sojourning in Florida and at their former home in Birmingham, Ala. Mrs. Knighton left several weeks ago, going by way of southern California. Mr. Knighton, who was former State Architect, joined her in California, when they started for the East.

And still society aids and abets philanthropic deeds. The next large and important venture to take up their time and attention is the production of "Romeo and Juliet," which will be repeated for the benefit of the Baby Home on Thursday evening, February 24, at the Hellig Theater. The committee in charge of this production has arranged with all participating in the event to give their services, costumes, music, theater, lights, ushers' services, and all incidentals absolutely free so that the big deficit left from the last performance of this opera may be cleared for the Home, which is sadly in need of help.

Warren A. Erwin is general chairman of the event, and has the assistance of other prominent club and fraternal men, as well as women's clubs, musical societies, society maids and numerous and all civic organizations. The boxes have been reserved by many of the leading clubs, including the MacDowell, Portland Woman's Club, Laurelhurst, Monday Musical, Irvington and countless private parties.

The list of patronesses is the same as for the previous production, and represents the prominent and energetic women of the city, as follows:

- Mrs. A. A. Aya, Mrs. B. B. B., Mrs. C. C. C., Mrs. D. D. D., Mrs. E. E. E., Mrs. F. F. F., Mrs. G. G. G., Mrs. H. H. H., Mrs. I. I. I., Mrs. J. J. J., Mrs. K. K. K., Mrs. L. L. L., Mrs. M. M. M., Mrs. N. N. N., Mrs. O. O. O., Mrs. P. P. P., Mrs. Q. Q. Q., Mrs. R. R. R., Mrs. S. S. S., Mrs. T. T. T., Mrs. U. U. U., Mrs. V. V. V., Mrs. W. W. W., Mrs. X. X. X., Mrs. Y. Y. Y., Mrs. Z. Z. Z.

From the Irvington Club, the following matrons will act as patronesses: Mrs. A. A. Aya, Mrs. B. B. B., Mrs. C. C. C., Mrs. D. D. D., Mrs. E. E. E., Mrs. F. F. F., Mrs. G. G. G., Mrs. H. H. H., Mrs. I. I. I., Mrs. J. J. J., Mrs. K. K. K., Mrs. L. L. L., Mrs. M. M. M., Mrs. N. N. N., Mrs. O. O. O., Mrs. P. P. P., Mrs. Q. Q. Q., Mrs. R. R. R., Mrs. S. S. S., Mrs. T. T. T., Mrs. U. U. U., Mrs. V. V. V., Mrs. W. W. W., Mrs. X. X. X., Mrs. Y. Y. Y., Mrs. Z. Z. Z.

PORTLAND COUPLE ARE MARRIED AT PRETTY WEDDING.

A group of girls of the Phi Delta Sigma sorority, of which Miss Dorothy Elish is president, will sell home-made candy during the performance. The sale will be conducted under the personal supervision of Misses Mabel Korrell and E. Chamberlain.

Mrs. L. Carroll Day

A pretty wedding was solemnized in the presence of 60 guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Moorhead, 511 Margaret avenue, Saturday night, February 12, when Ella Mae Moorhead was married to L. Carroll Day, Rev. A. B. Calder officiating. The impressive rite ceremony was used.

The bride was charming in white satin with tulle overdrape and veil, with orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of white carnations and white narcissus. Miss Edwina Clough was bridesmaid and wore pink tulle. She carried an arm bouquet of pink carnations. Earl Martin was best man. Miss Maude Wells, niece of the bride, was flower girl and was pretty in pink tulle. Mendelssohn's wedding march was played by Miss Florence Cole, who also accompanied Mrs. Marie Fisher in "I Love You Truly."

The bride is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Moorhead, and is well known in musical circles, being one of Portland's promising musicians. She has an excellent baritone voice and is also a fine pianist. They have taken apartments in the Royal Annex, 35th and Morrison street, where Mr. Day has opened a studio for piano and voice. This popular couple have a wide circle of friends.

Advertisement for 'Like an Old-Time Garden - Lovely Flowers' by EMPORIUM. Includes prices 49c, 59c, 79c and address 124-128 Sixth St., Just off Washington.

social supervision of Misses Mabel Korrell and E. Chamberlain.

Charming and informal, with the glow of Spring radiating from the bowls and vases of flowers arranged artistically about the rooms, about 15 of the debutante set enjoyed tea with Mrs. Joseph Andrews and Miss Marian Smith at their pretty little home in Westover road.

Mr. and Mrs. James A. Beckett passed several weeks in Englewood, N. J., visiting the latter's family, where they were entertained. They also attended the latest plays and opera in New York.

The regular monthly dance of the Monday Night Dancing Club will be held as originally scheduled tomorrow night, at Hotel Benson, in the Crystal room.

Honoring Miss Elizabeth Bryan, of Baltimore, Md., who is visiting her sister, Mrs. S. Nichols, Mrs. John Latta presided at a charming luncheon on Tuesday.

Mrs. Charles Gauld and sister Mrs. James Cairns asked a few friends informally to play bridge and have tea Tuesday afternoon. Three tables were arranged for the games, and at the tea hour a few additional guests called. The attractive tea-table was presided over by Mrs. C. S. Jackson and Mrs. Walter F. Burrell.

A new bridge club has been organized among the debutantes, the first meeting being held Thursday evening at the home of Miss Katherine Graham. The personnel of the new club is: Misses Elizabeth Jacobs, Virginia McDonough, Nancy Zan, Katherine Graham, John C. Adams, Alfred Clark, Robert Stubbs, George P. Stanley and Graham Glass, Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Davidson were hosts for an informal supper party and musical Sunday evening at their home in Northrup street.

Lieutenant Henry Adair, of Fort Ethan Allen, Vermont, has been called to Portland on account of the illness of his mother, Mrs. Samuel Adair, who is at Good Samaritan Hospital. Lieutenant Adair arrived Tuesday and probably will remain for a few weeks with his family here.

Mrs. Ellsworth Mather Taylor (May Whidden), who has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William M. Whidden, for a short time, returned to her home in Los Angeles on Wednesday. During her brief visit here, Mrs. Taylor was entertained delightfully in an informal way.

A group of holiday-makers left yesterday for Seattle to be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Heller Ehrman over Washington's birthday, at the L. N. Felschner cottage on the south beach. The guests are Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Berg, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Schweitzer, Miss Marian Cliron, and Herbert Frank. They will return Tuesday night.

Coming as a genuine surprise was the news of the engagement of Miss Marcel Shields, of Tacoma, to Thomas A. Aye, of this city. The news was made known at a pretty card party for which Miss Grace Bingham was hostess Friday afternoon. Miss Shields has been visiting Miss Bingham for a few weeks, and is well known in this city, where she formerly resided. She is a niece of Mrs. W. Clarke, and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Shields. Miss Shields attended school in Portland, and later entered Dana Hall.

Mr. Auzen, who is associated in the lumber business. He is a popular clubman and also a social player. The wedding will take place about the middle of March, and the young folk will be showered with prenuptial affairs.

The Bingham residence in Lovelock street was aglow with Spring blossoms, a decorative scheme of pink being developed with tulips, favos, score cards and prizes, and bowls of daisies also were used about the rooms and on the pretty tea table.

Mrs. A. W. Clarke, aunt of the bride-elect, presided at the pretty tea table. Those playing cards were: Misses Marguerite Paltich, Marie and Helen Haller, Edith Prater, Alice Gadsby, Genevieve Caughey, Olga Spill, Emma Sorenson, Marjorie Citron, Marjorie Cameron, Marian Atwater, Kathleen Sealy, Katherine Knapp, Edith Fallin, Mrs. George Hoffman, Mrs. Earl Bernard, Mrs. Harold Baynor, Mrs. Wilbur Carnahan, Mrs. C. Elmore Grove and Mrs. Herbert Scott.

A. L. Mills and his daughter, Miss E. L. Mills, are passing a few weeks in New York, expecting to return to Portland the latter part of this month.

Another of the boxes on Wednesday night was occupied by Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Felschner and their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Solomon Blumauer. This affair also was preceded by an informal dinner party.

Mid-week is set aside regularly for many of the theater parties, always followed by dancing and suppers at the leading grill, which accounts for the many parties at the Orpheum Theater Wednesday night. One of the largest of these was that presided over by Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Berg, their guests numbering 28, being the married contingent. Later they entertained their guests with supper and dancing, at the bi-weekly supper-dance at Hotel Benson.

Mrs. William McGinnis, Miss Marian Bolin, Vice-President, President.

Officers of Women's Auxiliary Portland Social Turn Verein interested in exhibition at Hellig tonight.

An event of wide interest will be the exhibition which will be given by the Portland Social Turn Verein in the Hellig Theater tonight. The Women's Auxiliary, of which Miss Marian Bolin is president and Mrs. William McGinnis vice-president, will have an important part in the event scheduled. Many prominent women are members of the auxiliary and all are enthusiastic in the many splendid features that are offered in the Turn Verein.

Advertisement for HELEN IGOE, Shop for Women, Portland Hotel Court, Exclusive Styles Individual Models. Lists prices for suits, coats, dresses, evening gowns, blouses, and pattern hats.

Advertisement for Gill's Authority on High-Class Engraved Announcements Cards and Social Stationery. Located on the second floor.

Advertisement for S. ARONSON'S, 425 Alder St., Main 5210.

Advertisement for Spring Suits For Ladies by DE BLANCHE, 408 Washington Street, Globe Bldg.

Advertisement for Order Your Suit Now by A. LIPPMAN, Ladies' Tailor, 402 Morrison, Near Tenth.

Advertisement for EARLY SPRING NOVELTIES, Revealings Authoritative Fashions in Woolens, K S. ERVIN & CO., Ltd., Custom Clothing, Imported Accessories for Men, English Raincoats for Men and Women, Second Floor, Selling Bldg., Sixth and Alder Streets.

Advertisement for J. K. STERN Ladies' Tailor, 447 Alder Street, Advanced Spring Opening, Reduced Prices.