

TWO HUMAN ROSEBUDS TO EXPLOIT FESTIVAL

Grace and Orajane Cordson Tomorrow Will Leave Portland to Travel Alone to Savannah, Ga., in Interests of Rose Carnival.

TWO of Portland's human rosebuds will exploit the coming Rose Festival when they leave Portland tomorrow to travel alone to Savannah, Ga.

Savannah, and to friends in the Georgia city. Grace, 10 years of age, will pilot her sister, Orajane, 9, on the long trip.

CAMPUS DAY ARRANGED

REED STUDENTS WILL CLEAN UP COLLEGE GROUNDS APRIL 5. Working Crew and Leaders Have Tasks Assigned—Co-eds Will Help, and Also Serve Meal.

Every student of Reed College will lay aside his or her college work on April 5 and devote the day to hard manual labor, for it is a tradition of the college that every year one day should be set aside for the beautification of the campus and its environs.

On Campus day every student will have a particular task to do under the supervision of a committee chairman. The work has been so divided that the whole Campus day may be benefited in appearance and usefulness.

Crystal Springs Lake, on the lower edge of the campus, will be cleared of derelict logs and all of its submerged stumps will be charred and marked by buoys so that canoes will no longer have the unwelcome surprise of seeing an ugly black snag poke its way through the bottom of his craft, accompanied by a gush of water.

The canoe house at the lake will also be repaired and a permanent well-trimmed path from the campus will be built. Archibald Clark will be chairman of the lake committee and will be assisted by a company of men and women.

Roland Bristol will have charge of a committee of huskies who will drag the remaining logs from the swimming pool, repair the rustic bridge and mend the dam. With the aid of a block and tackle they hope to manage some of the great logs which proved too much for last year's Campus-day workers.

Under the guidance of Dean Webster, the paths of the campus will be repaired. Calvin Hirsch will superintend the renovating of the tennis courts and their surroundings. Alvin Shagren and a crew of young athletes will put the baseball diamond into condition and clean up the athletic field.

Some committees will have such arduous duties as the planting of flowers, the beautification of the lawn and the preparation of the viands for a big banquet for the hungry workers at the noon hour. These delicate duties will necessarily be entrusted to the co-eds.

All the students will be expected to dress for the occasion, and working clothes will be the only costume tolerated from chapel in the morning until the day ends with the special entertainment which is being planned by Beas Haverly and a secret band of entertainers.

Campus day has always improved the looks of the campus and its surroundings immensely, and Professor H. B. Hastings has estimated that the work done on these occasions has been worth more than $350 to the college.

J. K. BANGS TO LECTURE

HUMORIST WILL SPEAK AT LINCOLN HIGH SCHOOL TUESDAY. "We, Us & Co." Will Be Subject of Entertainment to Be Given Under Education Body's Auspices.

John Kendrick Bangs will deliver his lecture, "We, Us & Co.," Tuesday evening, March 28, at Lincoln High School auditorium at 8 o'clock. The appearance of the noted humorist in Portland on this occasion is under the auspices of the Portland Education Association and the lecture is for the benefit of the Vista House memorial fund.

"We, Us & Co." is a new lecture concocted by Mr. Bangs and is said to excel in entertainment his now famous "Salubrities I Have Met." Mr. Bangs is a Yankee and a graduate of Columbia College in 1882. His father was an eminent member of the New York Bar Association and his grandfather was at one time president of Wesleyan College, in Middletown, Conn. The last decade has brought unusual distinction to him on the lecture platform and in the literary field. He has lectured before more than 500 audiences and in every state in the Union. He has held responsible editorial positions, among which were editor of Life, humor editor of Harper's, editor of Literature and editor of the Metropolitan Magazine. He has taken a dip into politics, but, above all, he has hobnobbed with the most prominent characters of the Nation. His lectures are intimate in-

MADAME JOMELLI HEARD

Large Audience at East Side Baptist Church Concert. The beautifully decorated auditorium and lecture-room of the East Side Baptist Church were well filled at the concert given under the auspices of the young people's society of the church, Friday night, when Madame Jomelli, soprano, donated her services for the occasion of helping to raise the young people's budget for missions and charities.

Madame Jomelli sang five exquisite songs. Mrs. Boughton, the soloist of the church, sang two beautiful members. Leslie J. Werachuk played her accompaniments. Harvey Hudson, Miss Irene Strawbridge and Miss Irene Kessler sang several pleasing solos, and Mr. Hudson and Miss Kessler a duet. Mordant A. Goodnough contributed "Aid de Ballet."

Change of Street Name Urged. GRESHAM, Or., March 25.—(Special.)—If the City Council adopts the suggestion of the residents living on South Roberts avenue it will be rechristened Chestnut avenue and the residents will plant chestnut trees on both sides of the thoroughfare, alternating red and white, then when the road is made the leading way to Mount Hood by the county it is the intention of the property owners to request the county to follow the same scheme.

LOTTERY KEEPER FINED

Municipal Judge Gives Jitney Offender Another Chance. Lee Foo, who aspired to easy affluence, was fined $25 in Municipal Court yesterday for conducting a lottery. Ernest Johnson, charged with having lottery tickets in his possession, was given a suspended sentence. Two visitors of the gambling house, H. Love and C. Beck, were each fined $5. Edmond Chausse, a motorcyclist, was fined $5 for speeding. Thomas Gekas, jitney driver, who has repeatedly been in court for violations of the traffic ordinance, was given another chance and a suspended sentence of 10 days. Several "jags" received light fines and suspended sentences, but Adolph Johnson drew a 10-day jail sentence. Former Vice-President of the United States Fairbanks once worked as a carpenter for $125 a day.

CLEAN MANHOOD DEMANDED

Father's Speech Applauded at Hygiene Meeting in Troutdale. Emphasizing parental responsibility, speakers of the Oregon Social Hygiene Society addressed good-sized meetings at Troutdale on Friday, despite stormy weather.

Dr. Amelia Ziegler and Mrs. G. H. Pettinger, of Portland, spoke to mothers and other adult women at 3 P. M. Dr. J. M. Short and A. F. Engel, of Portland, and George Lumsden, of Troutdale, spoke at a large conference of men at 8 P. M. Applauded greeted one of the speakers when he said: "I have some fine daughters, and when the days come when some young men will want to take them to the marriage altar, they will first have to show me a clean bill of health and I will want to know the name of the physicians who examined them."

Mrs. J. A. Larson, Mayor of Troutdale, presided at the women's meeting.
