BEAVERS WOULD BE COUNTER-BURGLERS

Will J. Slattery Says Higg Is Only Pitcher Who Has Shown Anything.

OTHER POSTS WELL FILLED

Infield Regarded as Splendid and Outfield Dangerous—Guisto Is Hailed as Coming Star; Men Are Said to Be Willing.

(The Oregonian herebefore published the expert opinions of Romeo Fawcett, the Oregonian, Harry B. Smith, of the San Francisco Chronicle, and A. C. Joy, baseball expert of the San Francisco Examiner, on the week and appearance to date of the 1916 Beavers, and presented the opinion of Will J. Slattery, baseball expert of the San Francisco Call, regarding the Portland team.)

BY WILL J. SLATTERY.
SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., April 8.—(Special.) The fate of the Portland team rests with its pitchers, and unless those pitchers improve with age, it will be right up to Walter McCredie to beg, borrow, steal or import a flock of competent batters to help live Higg, both out and in the pinches, for he is the only Portlander who has yet shown the fans of San Francisco any regular stuff.

McCredie boasts a splendid, well-balanced infield, a run-getting, hard-hitting outfield and a pair of worthy catchers, but these men can't expect to keep up the pace unless dispensers of the batters round to form and show something.

McCredie has a fast team. There's plenty of young blood on it and if the Beaver boss runs true to form there are every reason to believe that he will be in line to give them all a battle when the season is well under way.

There are many new faces on the Portland lineup that the leader will be compelled to spend much time perfecting the organization needed. The hitters are doing enough, but they have not yet gotten used to one another and it will surely require at least a month properly to oil up the machinery.

It's a dangerous business to gamble from the top of the batting list right down to the catcher. Willie, Southworth, Vaughn and Warlick are good, but they are not yet proven. Guisto looks up like the making of a champion first sacker. Tell the Portland fans that this kid can eat the apple. He's absolutely without nerves, has the gall of a loco-motive and speed enough to entitle him to steal many a base.

Coast League Gossip.

EVER since baseball became a National issue, the players on the slope of the Pacific Coast always have set the opening pace, and they upheld their own reputations and those of their predecessors by ushering in the 1916 season last Tuesday. Naturally, the eyes of the fans throughout the length and breadth of the land were focused on San Francisco, Los Angeles and Salt Lake, the three opening batlegrounds of the Pacific Coast League.

The Pacific Coast League started, too, under conditions favorable beyond the dreams of managers, managers and players. The settings are ideal for record-breaking, and the thousands of rosters all along the circuit are now having their appetites satisfied by seeing the game or perusing the best scores after the long, dreary, dismal winter.

The loyal rooters of every city where the Coasters opened last Tuesday were out bright and early that morning, all decked and with their voices well trained to cheer. They favored a send-off which they all so well deserved. It was the greatest baseball day that three Coast League cities ever had.

When the Beavers come home one week from Tuesday and oppose the Salt Lake club at Vaughn street, the top record set by Los Angeles last Tuesday is likely to be smashed to smithereens, unless there were a lot out to welcome Frank LeRoy Chance and his crew opening day. The Portland baseball boosters are determined to have 20,000 out. Will they do it? They will if they receive the hearty co-operation of every Portland fan.

Eight more days and the Beavers will be home. Wolverton, wise old fan of the diamond and natural leader of baseball players, is his staid self. For the thousandth time he has assured all the members of the anxious squad that his men will prove loyal to the cause and that another pennant will decorate the San Francisco flagpole.

Wolverton started the season with the heaviest bundle of any of the managers on his shoulders. This bundle is the 1915 pennant which the gray-haired boss of the Seal squad landed for San Francisco fans after seven hard months of strife, most of the time against odds.

Roy Mitchell, the Vernon heaver, is another Coast League player who coached a college team before reporting for duty. He reported in first-class shape. There was only one thing wrong with Roy. That was his voice. He hardly is able to make his presence known and can hardly talk above a weak whisper. His voice is improving, however, but Mitchell won't tell his teammates what caused it.

It begins to look like Phil Koerner will play the entire season through at first for the Angels. It was thought that Chance would take a fling at the initial corner himself at different intervals, but this now seems unlikely. Koerner should prove to be a fixture there.

Manager Blankenship has announced that he will play for Second Base. Edman Morris Rath immediately and that he expects two right-handed pitchers from the Yankees for trial within a few days.

Joe Wilhoit, former Vernon outfielder, is making good with Haighton's Boston Braves. The California crack has been doing excellent work with the stick in Spring practice and looks like the logical candidate for one of the Boston garden positions. Wilhoit has not been doing wonderfully well in the fielding line, however.

on his pitching staff, there is a strong possibility that the young Glendale pitcher may land a berth with the San Francisco club. Ben Berry, proxy of the Seals, told Ehrhke that if he failed to make good with the Angels, the Bay City aggregation would give him a chance.

The release by Salt Lake of the veteran pitcher Jack Killaly probably means that he is through. He was let go to make room for Tom Hughes, obtained from the Angels. Killaly was the leading pitcher of the Coast circuit when the Oaks won the pennant under Bud Sharpe four or five years ago. That was the same season that Gus Hettling won an automobile for being the most valuable man to his team.

The Chattanooga club has announced the signing of Pitcher Charley Smith, once with Chicago and later with San Francisco in the Coast League.

Soutar Wins Squash Title and $1000
PHILADELPHIA, April 8.—Jock Soutar, of this city, today defeated William

YOUTHFUL ATHLETE, WHO IS MASCOT OF LA GRANDE ELKS' BASEBALL TEAM.

Jack O'Connell, mascot for the La Grande Elks' baseball nine, is only 11 years of age. He is one of the youngest and best for his size. He is an all-around athlete in Eastern Oregon. Attending grammar school, he plays baseball, football and basketball and is real handy with the padded mitts.

Records of Both Men Good
Mr. Bohler is a graduate of Schuykill Seminary, Pennsylvania, where he was for a time physical director and coach. While a student at the University of Nebraska he assisted in physical education work and during eight years at Washington State College has trained and at different times coached all athletic teams.

Mr. Pipal has turned out four championship football teams at Occidental in five years. He received his college and athletic training at Beloit College, University of Chicago and Yale and is also a graduate of the University of Nebraska, where his teams won state championships in every major sport. Last Fall he was called to Harvard for a month to initiate his open style of football there.

RECRUIT TOSSERS GOOD

AGGIES HAVE FINE BASEBALL MATERIAL AMONG FRESHMEN.

Season to Open With Series of Games With High Schools and With Oregon First Year Men.

OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, Corvallis, April 8.—(Special.)—After having turned out mediocre teams in football and basketball the Oregon Agricultural College freshman class is, in a measure, atoning for early athletic defeats by producing one of the best first year baseball teams seen here in recent years. In the early season practice games with the varsity the scores have been close and several times the old timers have narrowly escaped defeat at the hands of the younger pastimes. With two pitchers of varsity caliber in the rotation the freshmen appear able to cope with all comers.

Games have been scheduled with Dallas high school to be played in Corvallis April 14, with Salem high school at Salem, April 15, and with the freshmen of the University of Oregon at Eugene, April 16. The return games with the university yearlings will be played in Corvallis, the dates to be arranged following rearrangement of the varsity schedule.

WILLAMETTE SHUT OUT

TUERCK, OF OREGON, HOLDS SALEM TEAM HELPLESS.

University Nine Wins 3-0 by Putting Up Errorless Ball—Methodists Get but Two Hits.

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, April 8.—(Special.)—Pitching his first game of the season, Bill Tuerck, veteran varsity pitcher, won from the Willamette University nine on the local diamond this afternoon in a shut-out game, 3 to 0. Bill allowed the visitors but two hits. In fact, Bill was the luminary of the afternoon's contest. He contributed two of the five hits secured by Oregon off Pitcher Adams and struck out eight of the visitors. Willamette University nine on the aggressive game, but was loose in fielding, making seven errors.

The varsity played the best game of the season, managing to get through the nine frames without an error. The runs were made by Medley, Huntington and Tuerck. Huntington was the star of the afternoon, securing two hits out of three times up. Score: Oregon... 3 5 0 Willamette. 0 2 7 Batteries—Tuerck and Huntington; W. Adams and D. Adams.

BOHLER TO DIRECT O. A. C. ATHLETICS

Oregon Aggies Elect Pullman Man as Head of All Branches of Sport.

NEW SYSTEM IS PLANNED

Intramural Games to Take Big Place at Corvallis—Pipal to Coach Football and Track and Field Teams.

OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, Corvallis, April 8.—(Special.)—J. F. Bohler, for the past eight years director of athletics at Washington State College, was today officially elected director of physical education at the Oregon Agricultural College. He signed his resignation from Washington State College, but reserved formal acceptance until after a conference with President Holland, of Washington State College, who was not in Pullman today.

It was also announced that Joseph Pipal, for the past five years in charge of athletics and physical education at Occidental College, Los Angeles, had been appointed head coach of athletics at the Oregon Agricultural College and that his acceptance had been received. Both men will be listed as professors on the college faculty.

Work is Divided.
In addition to the duties of director of athletics, Bohler will train all student athletic teams and will coach basketball and possibly baseball. Mr. Pipal will coach football and track. The duties of the department of physical education will include the institution of a system of intramural athletics, reaching every student and both men will direct a part of their time to this work.

Mr. Pipal will come north some time next month and will probably institute Spring football practice. Mr. Bohler will remain at Pullman until the close of the college year.

Changes of applications for the positions open at Washington State College had been received from men in nearly every state from Maine to California, after the resignation of Dr. Stewart was announced. President Kerr said today that the combination elected was the best possible to be obtained to meet the peculiar needs of the proposed reorganization of athletic work. Many candidates were interviewed by President Kerr during his recent Eastern trip.

PIPAL TO COME NORTH SOON

Contract Said to Be at Salary of $3500 or $4000 a Year.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., April 8.—Joseph Pipal, who signed a contract last night as director of athletics at the Oregon Agricultural College, is expected to arrive here soon to take charge of the early football training there. His resignation as coach at Occidental College after the resignation of Dr. Pipal refused to give the details of his contract. It was understood to have called for three years' service at an initial salary of $3500 or $4000.

GUISTO'S WORK PUZZLES

SAN FRANCISCO FANS DIFFER AS TO RECRUIT'S FUTURE.

Home After Floral Horseshoe Presentation is Credited to Lack of Dope on Ball.

BY HARRY B. SMITH.
SAN FRANCISCO, April 8.—(Special.)—Local fans are divided in their opinions as to what Louis Guisto will do in the Coast League this year. There was, of course, a lot of enthusiasm presented with a floral horseshoe and then walloped the ball over the fence. But shrewd judges started to figure that the recruit had been fed nothing but straight fast ones. They commenced to argue as to what would happen when the curves were flung and the novice tangled up.

Indeed Henry Berry won a bet with Hal Chase by wagering that Guisto would land a safety against Toll Perritt in the second set-of-of the week.

There is a chance that Guisto may be a flash in the pan, but it must be remembered that McCredie, who has proved himself a mighty good judge of ballplayers, has put himself on record to the effect that Guisto is the best prospect he has looked over in many a day.

The next month should tell the story. If Guisto can keep up the performance of last Tuesday and Thursday he will be a marvel and they will have to take off their hats to him.

Bill Collins Seeks Games.
Bill Collins has gathered together quite a likely looking bunch of junior ballplayers averaging 15 years of age. He wants to schedule games with teams of an average age of 15 in the city. To reach him, call Marshall 359.

FANS WATCH BEN KAUFF

MANY WONDER IF PLAYER WILL BE WORTH PRICE.

New Outfielder of Giants Counted on to Be Near Top of His League in Batting and Base Running.

NEW YORK, April 8.—Benjamin Kauff, the sensational young player who set the Federal League afire with his playing, both at bat and on the bases, and who was sold to the New York Giants by Sinclair, real owner of all the players left by the Federal League, brought a sum that startled everyone connected with baseball.

The question is being asked every day among fans—will Benjie be able to hold his end up in the major league. In the opinion of many followers of the game the answer is yes. Kauff is one of those natural batmen who can hit any pitcher, and when a man can lead the Federal League two years at the bat he should be able to get many hits in the National League.

He may not be the batter in the senior league that he was with the Peds, but he is almost sure to make his presence felt. Kauff is but 26 years of age; was born in Middletown, O., January 5, 1890; stands five feet seven inches and weighs 170 pounds. He bats and throws left-handed.

While with Indianapolis in 1914 he stole 76 bases and hit for an average of .366, having 210 hits, 45 of them being doubles. Last season he had 168

STANFORD FRESHMAN TAKES 23 POINTS IN FIELD MEET.

California Yearlings, by Victory in Relay, Take Exciting Contest—One Record is Equalled.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 8.—(Special.)—Meredith House, who entered Stanford University last Fall from Riverside, was the whole show at the Berkeley cinder path this afternoon, although his Cardinal brothers lost the annual freshman track meet to California by the score of 85-1-3 to 56-2-2. The Southern youngster established a wonderful record for the scoring of individual points and incidentally set a new freshman record of 24:2-5 in the low hurdles.

House gathered 23 points, taking first places in the 220-yard hurdles, 100 and 220-yard dashes and broad jump as well as running into second place in the high sticks.

California surprised the Palo Alto athletes with the unexpected on the track as well as in the field. It had been figured that the Stanford team would sweep the day before it without much trouble, but when the Cards failed to place in the two-mile race it was all over but the shouting. The relay decided the meet.

The summary:
100-yard dash—Won by House (S.), Pur-nell (U. C.), second; Fiske (U. C.), third. Time, 19:3-5.
220-yard dash—Won by House (S.), Work (S.), second; Pur-nell (U. C.), third. Time, 24:2-5.
440-yard dash—Won by Moody (U. C.),
