

Ax Sharpened for State Commissions by Numerous Legislative Aspirants.

RURAL CREDITS SUPPORTED

Of 180 in Race for Senatorial and Representative Posts 102 Declare Themselves Advocates of Lower Taxation Burden.

SALEM, Or., April 12.-(Special.)-Oregon's next Legislature will bend ifs efforts toward effecting economy in appropriations, reducing taxation and enacting a suitable rural credits law, if the pledges made by aspirants for party nominations in both houses are kent.

kepi. Scanning the statements submitted by the various candidates for the Leg-islature reveals the fact that 25 out of 18 persons running for the State Senate nomination have pledged themselves to labor for economy in appropriations and to keep down taxes. Nearly all of them are repeating the keynote slogan heard so frequently in the last Legis-lature: "Economy and efficiency." It is the same among the aspirants for the lower house, where 77 candi-dates for nomination out of the total of 142 are pledged for economy and reduced taxes.

of 142 are pledged for economy and reduced taxes. * The move for consolidation of boards and commissions and the elimination of those which may be deemed useless and extravagant, begun at the 1915 legislative session, promises to be con-tinued when the next Legislature con-tenes. Aiready there are five Sena-torial and 16 lower house candidates who have registered their opposition to the creation of additional commis-sions and in favor of cutting down or consolidating existing ones if found useless or costly. seless or costly.

Some Indorse Rural Credits,

The statements of 22 Representative and four Senatorial candidates register support to the enactment of a rural credits law at the coming session. Fif-teen candidates for the lower house make no promises, judging from the absence of any statement or slogans submitted to the Secretary of State for the hallot. the ballot, Certainty is only one part of good delivery. Outside of backbone, the great need is speed.

And the right type of truck is required, as well as the right make.

That's why there are seven sizes in the Packard line of trucks.

Packard makers haven't spent all their time over blue-prints. They have studied traffic from the driver's seat and from the loading platform.

They know that in light, fast hauling, mileage is money-any way you look at it.

They know that goods must cover ground, if the money coming in exceeds the money going out.

That's why the 1 and 11/2-ton Packards were added to the line-to give snappy, light service, at any speed within reason.

You can make a delivery for every promise-every day.

A truck that will give you hurry one day and worry the next, hasn't real speed.

These light Packards are healthy all the year around. They'll sprint any time you say-anywhere.

They are true Packards to the very ribs, of the same frame and fibre as the heavies.

They fill an acute need-it is no longer necessary to put your money on unknown lightweights, or those known too well.

The most exacting buyers saw the stuff in them from the first, and bought in large numbers-Marshall Field & Company, the Adams Express Company, the American Express Company and the United
