CAPTAIN RENE REDMOND is with the Sixteenth Battalion now fighting in France. He went to the front with his brother-in-law, Captain the Hon. A. T. Shaughnessy, who was killed in action recently. Captain Redmond is married to a daughter of Lord Shaughnessy.

George W. Kyle is the member of the Canadian Parliament who preferred charges against the shells committee recently involving General Sam Hughes. A royal commission is investigating the matter. The shell committee made contracts for $22,000,000 worth of munitions, and Mr. Kyle charges that on these contracts E. F. Yorkum, J. Wesley Allison and Eugene Ligault divided $1,500,000 in middlemen's profits.

Captain the Hon. W. J. Shaughnessy, son of Lord Shaughnessy, has joined the 19th Irish Rangers, now in Montreal, which will be ordered to the front in the near future. Captain Shaughnessy is a lawyer, and was practicing in Montreal when the war began.

Aviator De Lloyd Thompson, who recently flew over Washington and New York and "bombed" both cities from his aero, has suffered considerably from the severe cold when flying in the higher altitudes. Admiral Peary, an excellent authority on Arctic climate conditions, has designed a costume considered the most appropriate dress for an aviator who must fly in the freezing cold of the higher aerial planes.

Lieutenant Arnold Whitridge, who has just received the British military cross, is a son of F. W. Whitridge, a well-known New Yorker. He is a graduate of Yale of the year 1914. He was one of several American college men who joined the British artillery at the beginning of the war. He was decorated for directing the fire of a battery close to the German trenches.

General Sir William Henry Mackinnon followed Lord Derby in charge of recruiting in England, but he does not appear to have succeeded any better than Derby. Known as Sir Henry Mackinnon, he was born 67 years ago in Kent. At 18 he entered the army, and served in the Grenadier Guards. He served in India and was decorated more than once. He was chief of the western command when the war broke out and still holds that office.

HON. ELAINE JENKINS is the only woman railway chairman in Great Britain. She is the daughter of the late Lord Glentworth, and has taken her father's place at the head of the Swansea & Mumbles Railroad. He gave his daughter a thorough business education.

Dr. Anna Manning Comfort, of New York, has just celebrated her 50th anniversary as a physician in New York. A dinner was given her by the New York Medical College and Hospital for Women, which is one of only two medical colleges exclusively for women in the United States. Dr. Comfort got her education at Bellevue. Dr. Comfort began practice in Connecticut, and was the first woman doctor in that state. After five years she came to New York, where she is now the oldest in practice of woman physicians.

Miss Alice G. Masaryk has been reported shot for treason in an Austrian military prison. It is believed that she has suffered the same fate as Edith Cavell, the English nurse, who was executed by order of the Germans in Belgium on the same charge. Miss Masaryk is well known for her social settlement work in Chicago. She is the daughter of an American woman, and her father is Professor Thomas G. Masaryk, leader of the intellectual democracy in Bohemia. It is generally believed that she was punished for be-

THE FOURTH AND LAST GROUP OF INITIALS IN FILET STITCH

These initials in filet are easily made and suggest many uses. The gift of a dresser scarf or other article of personal use with initials inserted neatly and a neatly crocheted edge added certainly has a touch of individuality when coming directly from giver to receiver.

The size of the letters depends upon the number of the thread used. No. 30 is always a good number, neither too coarse nor too fine for ordinary uses. The smallest possible square for the letters is 19x19 meshes and it is best to begin and finish with a row of plain meshes. All the letters shown are 19x21. If desired larger, crochet around the finished letter, adding any finish desired. A few rows of open meshes show the letter distinctly. By following the outline of the letter with a little practice a good initial is sure to result. Care is necessary to keep the letter well balanced with an equal number of meshes on each side.
