REED SENIORS BUSY

Graduating Class Divides Time in Pleasure and Work.

MOST STUDIED WHEN 7

Some of Members, Representing Many States, Have Completed Course in Three Instead of Four Years.

Light has been shed on the true characteristics of Reed College seniors taken from questionnaires issued to obtain material for the 1916 class book. It has been revealed that only six out of the 45 graduates do not dance and that only one of these considers dancing immoral. Eight of the dancers learned their art after entering college. But to show that their interests are not trivial 25 of the class express a determination to take up graduate work at universities and only four say definitely that they will not. Eleven states and three nations are represented in the class. Oregon has 23; Washington, 5; North Dakota, 2; Idaho, Colorado, Wyoming, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska, Ohio, New Hampshire, Scotland, and Finland, 1 each. The average age of the class member is 22 years. Twenty-six have voted—13 voting the Republican, 2 the Democratic, 1 the Independent and 1 the Progressive tickets. The rest have split their votes at the elections. Most Started School at Age of 7. Most of the seniors started their education at the age of 7 and spent from two to 10 years in grammar school and from two to five years in high school. Four have completed their college work in three years. If they hadn't attended Reed, 15 would have gone to the University of California, four to Stanford, four to the University of Oregon, four to the University of Washington, and Wellesley, Cornell, Washington State College, Gustavus Adolphus and Bryn Mawr would have claimed the rest. The class claims to be distinctively

SUICIDE IS ATTEMPTED

THOMAS LEWIS, 32, ILL, USES RIFLE AND DEATH LIKELY.

Shot Not Heard by Mother-in-Law and Several Hours Emerge Before Aid is Given.

Thomas Lewis, of 408 Jessup street, attempted suicide yesterday at 11 A. M. by shooting himself in the right ear with a .22-caliber rifle. At 1:30 he was discovered in a semi-conscious condition and taken by the ambulance service to the Good Samaritan Hospital. His condition is considered so critical that death is expected to ensue. His health had prevented Lewis from working for some months, and his inability to provide for his wife and children is thought to have led him into the suicidal despondency. He made his home with his father-in-law, Andrew E. Dahlberg, at the Jessup-street address. His wife is said to be employed in a downtown restaurant. He is 32 years old, and there are three children—two boys and a girl, the eldest aged 15. Shortly after 11 o'clock Lewis went to an upstairs bedroom. It is presumed that he immediately carried out his intention of suicide, although the report of the light rifle was not heard by Mrs. Dahlberg and the children, who were downstairs. Groans, however, attracted Mrs. Dahlberg, who attempted to enter, but found the door bolted. When her husband returned, at 1:30, she told him of the circumstance, and he broke the lock and entered the room to discover the tragedy. Lewis is said to have written a note in explanation of his act. John W. Long, patrolman, resides across the street from the Dahlbergs home, and he summoned the ambulance service. At Good Samaritan Hospital Lewis was attended by Dr. A. E. Rockey and Dr. F. J. Laird.

THEATER PARTY IN TOILS

COLUMBIA HIGHWAY VISITORS "PINCHED" FOR SPEEDING.

I. P. Wilkerson, Monologue Artist, Has Chance for Originality as Witness Before Judge Jones.

I. P. Wilkerson, monologue artist and lecturer, had a chance to put over something original in District Judge Jones' court yesterday morning when he appeared as a leading witness in a speeding case. H. Haines, electrician, was arrested Thursday by Deputy Sheriff Lockwood and Marks while he was taking a party of theatrical people over the Columbia River Highway. Included in the party were Warren F. Lenson, assistant manager of the Pantages Theater, and Mrs. Lenson, Mr. and Mrs. I. P. Wilkerson, and H. W. Winston, sea-lion trainer, who was featured at the Pantages last week. The deputy sheriffs testified that Haines was driving 37 miles an hour when they arrested him. This declaration was protested in various keys by the members of the party, all of whom were certain they were not going more than 25 miles. All admitted, however, with the exception of the driver, H. Haines, minor cross examination by Deputy District Attorney George Mowry, that they had not looked at the speedometer. "I asked the driver just before we were arrested how fast we were going," declared Mr. Wilkerson, in his best stage voice. "He replied that we were going 25 miles or maybe 26 miles an hour. 'Well,' I said, 'what is detaining you? Are you afraid that you will run over someone? When I am at home in Oakland I go faster than that on the streets there.' District Judge Jones, however, decided in favor of the less volatile but more direct testimony of the patrolman and decided that it was worth $15 to go at that rate over the Columbia River Highway.

The reasons for Battalion Chief Young, of the Fire Bureau, having failed to order the fireboat Campbell to the aid of the steamer Bear when it got loose and came near crashing into the Broadway bridge may be the subject of an inquiry by Mayor Albee when he returns tomorrow after a week's auto trip out of the city. It is reported that when the steamer became endangered an effort was made to get the fireboat to go to the rescue. The lieutenant of the boat declared that he lacked authority to go out and he had Battalion Chief Young called, the boat being in his district. WIFE CHARGES GAMBLING

Divorce Is Asked From Man Who Stayed Out, Even on Christmas.

On Christmas eve—that time of all times that most families gather about the home firesides—Edward Cornell was out with friends, gambling and drinking, leaving his wife, Cleah, and 3-year-old son, Edward, at home alone. At least this was the assertion of his wife, who was awarded a divorce from her husband by Circuit Judge Morrow yesterday morning. Cornell lost nearly $8,000 that night in 1914 at the gambling table, recounted the divorce complaint, and midnight drink-filled hours were the usual thing a few years after marriage in 1909, said Mrs. Cornell.
