

NORTH BANK HEADS ARE SHIFTED ABOUT

W. F. Turner Takes C. O. Jenks' Post as President of Railway System.

A. J. DAVIDSON COMES HERE

Latter Will Be General Superintendent—W. G. Davidson Is Named Secretary and Treasurer, All to Be Effective at Once.

Owing to the recent resignation of C. O. Jenks, vice-president and general manager of the North Bank Railroad, a number of important changes in the executive staff of that road were made yesterday.

A. J. Davidson, general superintendent of the Spokane & Inland Empire road, at Spokane, as previously indicated in The Oregonian, will succeed to Mr. Jenks' operating duties, with the title of general superintendent. Mr. Davidson arrived in Portland yesterday to take up his new duties.

W. F. Turner, controller of the North Bank system for the past seven years, will succeed to the office of vice-president, but will retain his place at the head of the accounting department. He will, however, relinquish his office of secretary, which he has held for a number of years.

W. G. Davidson, treasurer of the company, will succeed Mr. Turner as secretary, with the title of secretary-treasurer. All these changes will be effective immediately.

Mr. Jenks Gets Token.

Mr. Jenks left yesterday for St. Paul to take up his new duties as general manager of the Great Northern Railroad. Before leaving the attaches of his office in the Pittock block presented him with a handsome leather traveling bag as an appreciation of their association with him. Mr. Jenks had been with the Great Northern operating department for a long period of years before he came to Portland last year as the successor of the late W. D. Scott. In his St. Paul office he will succeed G. M. Emerson, who has been appointed a member of the railroad managers' committee to confer with the trainmen on the eight-hour day dispute.

Mr. Davidson, the new head of the operating department, is well known in Portland, as he has been connected with the North Bank office for the last five years in various operating capacities. He went to Spokane only a year ago. The Spokane & Inland Empire is a subsidiary of the North Bank. He is a former president of the Frisco system.

Mr. Turner Is Exception.

Mr. Turner is one of the rare exceptions to the rule that railroad accounting officials never advance to executive positions. His first experience was with the accounting department of the Southern Railway at Washington, D. C. He came West about 19 years ago for a time was connected, in an official capacity, with the construction work on the Pacific & Eastern, another subsidiary of the North Bank, operated eastward from Medford to Butte Falls. In becoming vice-president of the North Bank Road Mr. Davidson also takes similar title on the Oregon Electric, the United Railways, the Pacific & Eastern, the Spokane & Inland Empire, the Oregon Trunk, the Great Northern Pacific Steamship Company. W. G. Davidson, the new secretary-treasurer, has been with the North Bank system for several years. He was in the accounting department of the Spokane & Inland Empire at Spokane before coming here nearly two years ago. Mr. Davidson will succeed Mr. Jenks on the board of directors of the North Bank and its allied lines.

Agricultural College's Annual Picnic Held at Newport.

OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, Corvallis, May 27.—(Special.)—Today was declared a holiday by the students of the Oregon Agricultural College and with lunches, Indian robes and other accessories of full picnicking equipment, several hundred chartered a Southern Pacific excursion train and journeyed to Newport for a day on the beach. The picnic was for several years an annual event under the auspices of the senior class and was one of the most pleasing of the student body traditions. This year, however, the excursion was made a student body event.

Picnic campfires along the beach, swimming in the surf and in the natural hot springs, and a number of nearby points of interest were among the diversions of the excursionists. Russell J. Carr, of Portland, a senior, managed the excursion.

FIRECRACKER PLEA MADE

Vancouver Chamber Seeks to Bring July 4 Joy to Small Boy.

VANCOUVER, Wash., May 27.—(Special.)—Firecrackers may again be allowed to be exploded here July 4, and again they may not, but a determined effort will be made by the committee from the Vancouver Chamber of Commerce to get permission from the City Council for this joy to the younger generation.

Vancouver has had the lid on firecrackers for the past two years, but before that Vancouver was always "open" and hundreds of boys came from Portland, accompanied by their parents in most cases, for no other reason than to shoot firecrackers.

Vancouver will have a big celebration this year, extending over three days, July 3, 4 and 5, and has a number of committees working hard.

SAVING DAYLIGHT PLANNED

High Schools Will Set Clocks Ahead One Hour.

"Saving daylight" by turning the clocks an hour ahead will be the practice followed in the high schools on Monday morning. School sessions will begin an hour earlier, 8 o'clock instead of 9, and dismissal in the afternoon will come earlier by a corresponding period.

School clocks, however, will register 8 o'clock instead of 9 o'clock when the school sessions start, this being necessary to prevent a mixup in the school programme. Both principals and students are said to favor the plan of beginning work sooner in the day, and this method of readjusting the working hours will continue until the end of the school year.
