SEASON'S WORK ENDED

This Week Will Be Devoted to Examinations and Will Be Followed by Graduation and Accompanying Exercises.

WILLAMETTE UNIVERSITY, Salem, Or., May 27.—(Special.)—Willamette University closed its class recitations yesterday, and next week will be taken up with the final examinations. The following week commencement exercises will be held, with Rev. Luther R. Dvort, pastor of the First Congregational Church, of Portland, delivering the commencement address.

Willamette's affiliated college, Kimball College of Theology, will hold its commencement exercises next week. Rev. Robert H. Smith, pastor of the Sunnyside Methodist Episcopal Church, of Portland, will deliver the commencement address.

One of the added attractions at this, the 134th commencement of college of liberal arts of Willamette University, is the senior class play, which is to be presented on the night of June 6. The play will be in the form of an original scenic play and is the first of its kind to be presented by any graduating class.

Miss Frances Gittens and J. R. Bain, both members of this year's graduating class, have written the play, while Professor MacMurray has composed the music for Mr. Bain's lyrics. The play will deal with the founding of Willamette.

Following are some of the cast: Voice of the West: R. Bain, Spirit of the Wild: Helen Wastell; Wailulah: Frances Gittens; Snoqualmie: Arlie Walker; Edwards: Joseph Gerhart; Kelly: J. R. Bain; Young John Gary: Jason Lee (the founder of Willamette); P. M. Jasper: Slocum; Howard Jewett.

MOUNTAIN SCHOOL UNIQUE
Dozens of Teachers Produced by Douglas District.

OAKLAND, Or., May 27.—(Special.)—A mountain normal—such as has been district No. 12, Douglas County. Its alumni have had a sort of constitutional idiosyncrasy for teaching. This little school is near Peel Postoffice and 23 miles east of Roseburg. It is said it has turned out almost as many school teachers as the Drain Normal.

The schoolhouse was built about 30 years ago, has been moved twice and is still in pretty good condition. Teachers literally by the dozen point to this school as their alma mater. It never has offered any instruction above the eighth grade.

Following Douglas County teachers were educated in this district: G. W. Shrum, Steve Shrum, Ellen Shrum, Delilah Shrum, S. D. Chapman, Louetta Chapman, Mina Engels, Minnie Dieckman, Myrtle Williams, Floyd Watson, Nancy Watson, Waitha Watson, Aida Watson, Vivian Watson, Finlay Watson, Lena Watson, Bertha Watson, Leone Mathews, Gertrude Mathews, Clay Mathews, Adie Mathews, Joyce Mathews, Wilma Mathews.

In 1857 she was married to Robert Fulton Raines, who had a donation land claim near her father's. In 1865 they moved to the Willamette Valley and in 1868 settled on the Yaquina Bay, where the remainder of her life was spent. Fifteen years ago her husband died.

BABY, 3, DROWNS IN WELL
Youngster Strays Away From Grandfather While at Play.

ENTERPRISE, Or., May 27.—(Special.)—Straying away from his grandfather with whom he had been playing, Edward, the 3-year-old son of Mrs. Edith E. Minton, fell into well a few days ago and was drowned.

Mrs. Minton lives with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. Wilson, at the Butten, 20 miles from Enterprise.

A few minutes after the child was missed, Mr. Wilson found the body in the well, but it was too late to bring it back to life.

The well is inclosed with a wooden curb about three feet high and covered with a board door that is pushed off when water is to be drawn. The water is six feet from the surface and is three feet deep.

GRANTS PASS MAN DEAD
JOSEPH MOSS IS VICTIM OF SUDDEN STROKE.

Residence in City Begun 33 Years Ago as Machinist Ends With Big Estate Accumulated.

GRANTS PASS, Or., May 27.—(Special.)—In the sudden passing of Joseph Moss, who was stricken May 19 with apoplexy, Grants Pass lost a prominent citizen.

Hundreds of people were turned away at the funeral services last Sunday, this city never before having witnessed a funeral so largely attended.

The services were conducted by the Rev. Charles Wilson, pastor of St. Luke's Episcopal Church and at the grave by the Oddfellows.

Joseph Moss was born in Baltimore, June 29, 1837. He came to Grants Pass on the first train to pass the rails of the Southern Pacific system between Glendale and Grants Pass, 35 years ago. Ever since his name has been prominently connected with every constructive movement leading to the building of a greater municipality. For several years he was in the employ of the Southern Pacific and the Sugar Pine Door & Lumber Company as machinist.

In 1894 he went into business with H. C. Bobzien in the Bobzien & Moss grocery. In 1899 he sold his interest to his partner, Mr. Bobzien, and opened a real estate and insurance office, in which business he was engaged at the time of his death. He left a large estate.

He is survived by his wife and two daughters, Mrs. Howard M. Shearer, of Portland, and Miss Jeannette Moss, of this city.

Cottages, Tent-City, Amusement Places Are Going Up—Motor Road Is Repaired—Bathing Beach Is Good.

BAR VIEW, Or., May 27.—(Special.)—Bar View as a summer resort will again be on the map this season. Since the storm period of last fall, when the high tides washed out the banks of the shore line for a distance of several hundred feet and did thousands of dollars' damage, it had been problematical whether natural conditions would justify the expense and investments of rebuilding the hotel, tent city, garages, dancing pavilion and several stores and dwellings that were washed out to sea. Since, however, it has been established that a good bathing beach will result from the ravages of the storm, local faith has been restored and the area of rebuilding and advertising the resort is well launched. At present several buildings are under construction, and while the resort will present a quite different scene to the returning pleasure-seeker, it will add some modern improvements to the natural attractions.

Motor Road Rebuilt.
Of especial interest to the motorists throughout the state is the rebuilding of the county highway through this place. During the stress of the storm, a quarter of a mile of the thoroughfare was destroyed by the waves and roadmaking experts were of the opinion that skirting the shore at this point would be impractical for the new road, due to the possibility of the breaking of the retaining wall constructed by the Southern Pacific Company.

This wall protects the property of the railway company along the water front here and has necessitated the expenditure of several thousand dollars. The new road is now well under construction, and will be ready by the first of July, according to present indications. Being well up on the side of the mountain, it not only is safe from storms, but presents a beautiful panorama of the undulating surf and the new Bar View.

Summer Homes Improved.
L. J. Tolls, who conducts "Villa Camp" at this place during the summer season, has added three modern cottages to his colony. Dr. W. A. Wine, who owned the hotel and other property that was washed out and who sustained a loss of several thousand dollars, will operate his tent city this year and have in connection a cafeteria service.

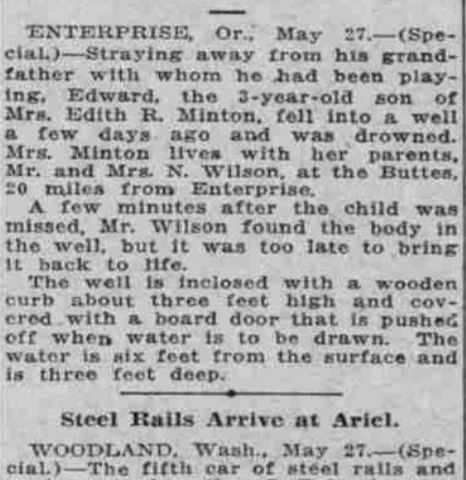

By process of sluicing off the low sand hills lying just west of the lake here, a nice site has been procured for the tented city, while the filled-in portion of the lake will be occupied by the dancing pavilion and bowling alleys of R. E. Jackson.

A number of other important commercial changes are taking place here, conspicuous among them being the removal of the large store of Fred Robinson to a new location at the intersection of Cedar street and the railway tracks. This site is opposite that of the proposed depot and is two blocks from the previous location. E. P. Carter, of Oregon City, is here making extensive repairs and improvements on SMALL CHILDREN, DISCIPLES OF THE MONTESSORRI SYSTEM, GIVE PRETTY ENTERTAINMENT.

The wee tots who are in the Hawthorne Montessori kindergarten class gave an interesting entertainment for the Sunnyside Parent-Teacher Association on May 18. Attired in quaint little Japanese costumes, carrying fans, and with hair high as all fashionable Japanese wear it, the children played a merry geographical game, "Japan."

The game was happy evidence of the progress that the youngsters have made during their winter of study. Mrs. Louis Peedycock gave a talk on the "Montessori Method," and explained the work that the children have done and their aptitude under the new system.

ALBANY GIRL IS BURIED

FORMER CLASSMATES ATTEND FUNERAL OF FIRE VICTIM.

Oil Thrown Into Stove at Loma, Mont., Results in Death of Miss Patton and Injury to Two.

ALBANY, Or., May 27.—(Special.)—The funeral of Lisa Patton, a former Albany young woman, who was buried to death near Loma, Mont., Sunday evening, was held at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Patton, of Halsey, yesterday. The services were conducted by Rev. J. H. Gray and most of the pallbearers were members of the class in which Miss Patton was graduated from the Albany High School.

Details of the accident which resulted fatally for Miss Patton, and in which Dolson C. Smith and Ernest Howard, former Albany young men, were seriously burned, were learned here Thursday from Mr. and Mrs. Glin Stalnaker, who accompanied Miss Patton's body to Albany.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard and Mr. Smith, all of whom reside on homesteads near Loma, and Miss Patton, who was visiting at the home of her sister, Mrs. Stalnaker, also in that vicinity, had been out riding, and when they returned poured coal oil in a coal stove, not knowing there was any fire in it, and this caused an explosion. The explosion occurred with such force that it tore the stove all to pieces and tore out a portion of the side of the house. Almost in an instant the building was in flames.

Howard was outside at the time, and in an effort to save Miss Patton was burned.

Captain Gray, of the steamer Etna, who is transporting the supplies, reports that the water in the north fork of Lewis River possibly might get too low for navigation. However, on account of the heavy snowfall last winter and heavy rains this spring, the river has been and now remains at a higher stage all the way up than for many years heretofore.
