

HOOD HOOS OBSERVE LOGGERS AT WORK

Freshly-Caught Trout Spur Appetites and Votes of Thanks Are Given.

RIDE IN PINES ENJOYED

Portland Party Leaves for Home After Banquet at Which Flood of Oratory Is Released, but Addition Bennett Fishes.

BY ADDISON BENNETT. BEND, Or., June 17.—(Special.)—The Hood-Hoos have had a busy day and have kept the Bend people stepping as entertainers. Considering the late hour kept by all parties at the Emblem Club rooms last night, where a dance was given for the delectation of the visitors, we were up betimes this morning and put in the time after breakfast in visiting about the city.

Loggers Seen at Work. At 10 o'clock today we were taken in automobiles out to the logging camps and from thence into the woods where the Brooks Canyon Lumber Company loggers are at work. After an inspection of the operations there we were brought back through town and across the river and about nine miles to the south, to the logging camp of the Sheelin-Hixon Company, where about 150 men are at present employed.

Freshly Caught Trout Served. Here we were met by Frank Jennings, the commissary of the Sheelin-Hixon Company, and at 2 o'clock we were escorted to the messhouse, where the party of 35 sat down to dinner. This dinner had been prepared and served by the Hood-Hoos, and was given. Many of us had often paid a dollar for a meal not nearly as good.

Votes of Thanks Are Given. It took us an hour to get away with the "feed" and then we resorted to speech-making and the slogans or hat calls of the Hood-Hoos, led by Chief Lockwood and nobly seconded by Fred Stanley, brother Zan and the other members of the Hood-Hoos.

Ride Through Pines Enjoyed. Then came another enjoyable ride back to town through the lovely pine forest, with its carpet of living green and its decoration of the beautiful manzanita bushes. Nature's own unparalleled handiwork of the blessed outdoors where the air is fragrant with the aroma of the pine and where the murmuring winds passing through the branches make a music above any produced by human throat or man's ingenuity.

TIMES HOME IS GOING UP

Seattle Paper Will Move In About September 20. SEATTLE, Wash., June 17.—(Special.)—The Seattle Times' new westery building, which is being erected on a site facing Times Square, has its steel and concrete in place and the installation of the five large presses is about to begin. The newspaper will move into its new home about September 20, according to present plans.

stallation of the five large presses is about to begin. The newspaper will move into its new home about September 20, according to present plans. Most of the space in the structure will be required for the various departments of the paper. The fourth and fifth floors will be used exclusively for the editorial and composing departments. The building occupies an irregular block of land in the new nearly level business district, made by the raising of Lenny Hill. The block is surrounded by Fourth and Fifth avenues, Stewart and Olive streets and its situation is comparable with that of the Herald building in New York. The business office of the paper overlooks Fifth avenue.

DAVID EBY IS AT REST

PIONEER WHO CROSSED PLAINS IN 1852, DIES AGED 87. Five Children Survive Man Who for Many Years Was Chaplain of State League of Oregon.

OREGON CITY, Or., June 16.—(Special.)—David Eby, who died at Cottage Grove, June 12, aged 87, was one of the well-known Oregon pioneers, who crossed the plains by ox teams from Monmouth, Ill., in 1852, and in the year of 1854 settled four miles east of Harrisburg. Mr. Eby married Miss Elizabeth Barger May 15, 1852. She died in 1900.

Mr. Eby was a charter member and master of Harrisburg Masonic Lodge. He was a member of the Grange, and was for many years chaplain of the State Grange of Oregon. After the death of his wife in 1900 he retired from active life and made his home with his children, residing for several years in this city with his son, Attorney O. D. Eby.

Mr. Eby is survived by the following children: F. G. Eby, of Sacramento, Calif.; O. D. Eby, of Oregon City, Or.; Mrs. Jennie Reed, wife of R. H. Reed, of Springfield, Or.; Mrs. Ida B. Maton, wife of George Maton, of San Diego, Calif.; Mrs. Merle Morrow, wife of T. L. Morrow, of Cottage Grove, Or. A son, David Eby, died at Goshen, Or., June 5, 1916, and was buried at Pleasant Hill, Or.

The body of Mr. Eby was taken to Harrisburg, where it was interred in the family lot, the funeral services being held on Wednesday afternoon, June 14.

GAME FARM IS PROPOSED

Start Made at Walla Walla Penitentiary With Pheasants. CORVALLIS, Or., June 17.—(Special.)—Gene M. Simpson, who for several years has managed the state game farm, but this year is selling birds to the state under contract, returned Thursday from Walla Walla, Wash., where he went to assist the officials of the Washington Penitentiary and Washington Game Commission in starting a game farm.

The Washington game farm will occupy about 20 acres of the Penitentiary farm, and pheasant raising will be the principal effort. Two thousand pheasant eggs will be put under setting hens.

About a week ago L. H. Darwin, state game warden, and other officials inspected the Corvallis plant.

Child Bitten by Dog at the Dalles.

THE DALLES, Or., June 17.—(Special.)—Alice Prantz, the 3-year-old daughter of J. E. Prantz, was bitten yesterday by a dog which tore two long gashes in the child's cheek. The dog is being carefully watched by local physicians for signs of hydrophobia.

'47 PIONEER LAID TO REST

Death of Mrs. Matilda Wood Severs Romance of the Plains. SHERIDAN, Or., June 17.—(Special.)—Mrs. Matilda Wood, wife of Ed Wood, who died at her home a short distance above Willamina, Thursday, and was buried Friday, before her marriage was Matilda Shuck, daughter of Andrew Shuck, first Sheriff of Yamhill County and a member of the Territorial Legislature.

Her husband she met as she was crossing the plains in 1847, then a child of 3 years. The childhood romance began when the Wood party from Missouri met the Shuck party from Iowa on the Sweetwater. The marriage took place in the Fall of 1847. Three children of Oregon streets, this afternoon, Nettle Carr, of Willamina; Grover Wood, of Sheridan, and Andrew Wood, of Willamina.

Mr. Wood survives his wife, and, though at the advanced age of 81, retains much of his youthful enthusiasm for politics. He frequently relates stories of the early gubernatorial campaigns in which he took active part.

MEDIATOR GOES NORTH

SEATTLE STRIKE SITUATION IS REPORTED TO BE ACUTE. Executive Board Declares It Will Satisfy No Settlement That Fails to Protect Workers.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 17.—Henry M. White, who was named as mediator by the International Longshoremen's Association and the Waterfront Union, arrived here tonight to attempt to dissolve by conference the differences between the International Longshoremen's Association and the Waterfront Union. J. E. Frost, who was named as mediator by the International Longshoremen's Association and the Waterfront Union, arrived here tonight to attempt to dissolve by conference the differences between the International Longshoremen's Association and the Waterfront Union.

Mr. White was unable to tell what features of the working conditions in Seattle had proved distasteful to the men, merely saying: "I believe Seattle would be the proper place for me at this time."

Mr. White's decision to leave San Francisco came tonight after a number of conferences and meetings with representatives of the owners' union and the Federal mediator. The executive board of the Pacific Coast district of the International Longshoremen's Association adjourned, setting June 20 as the date of their next meeting. Before adjournment was taken the board adopted the following resolution:

"Whereas, the members of the Pacific Coast district of the International Longshoremen's Association are on strike for better conditions and wages; and

"Whereas, many of our fellow-unionists have, without solicitation on our part, refused to do any work that would in any way assist the employers, and as we recognize that we are under obligations to all such men and to all employers; therefore be it

"Resolved, By this board, that we will include no settlement that does not include and protect our fellow-unionists who act as union men during the strike."

FOURTH IS GOING AHEAD

PLANS FOR PARADE AND FIREWORKS ARE PROGRESSING. Dozen Sub-Committees Are Preparing Programme That Will Cover Almost Every Hour of Day.

If Portland does not have a glorious Fourth of July it will not be the fault of the general committee on arrangements. Reports from sub-committees yesterday showed that every detail of the big programme being prepared is working out well and that Portland business men and houses and the public generally is coming forward with the all-essential financial aid.

A dozen or more sub-committees are working on various angles of the celebration plans. The programme, as it is being worked out, will be spread out to cover the entire day from 6 A. M. when the city will be awakened by whistles and bells, until well after dark, when fireworks and sensational fire features will be staged somewhere along the river.

Sandwiched in between the opening and closing of the day will be a big military fraternal, civic and industrial parade; a military tournament, several patriotic mass meetings in the parks and plaza blocks, sensational fire drills and races in the business streets, and a long list of community celebrations.

The next meeting of the general committee on arrangements will be held Tuesday at 5 o'clock at the Press Club, at which all the sub-committees will make progress reports. At that time the financial status will be reported on, as well as progress in the preparation of details for the various features of the celebration.

Because of the big celebration, the board of directors of the Irvington Club has called off the annual Fourth of July celebration there. Instead, arrangements are to be made for the annual Irvington children's floral parade. A meeting has been called for 7:30 P. M. tomorrow at the clubhouse to discuss plans.

EMMETT GETS SAWMILL

BOISE-PAYETTE COMPANY WILL BUILD $500,000 PLANT. Output Will Be 200,000 Feet for 10-Hour Day and Operation Is to Be Day and Night.

BOISE, Idaho, June 17.—(Special.)—The Boise-Payette Lumber Company has announced it has selected Emmett, the county seat of Gem County, on the Idaho Northern Railroad, as the place for its new lumber mill, the cost of which will be $500,000. There is a slight amount of timber to keep the mill operating 10 hours.

Dion & Horakotte, an architectural firm of Spokane, has the contract for the plans. The plant will consist of seven large buildings, besides a number of smaller ones. The site of the mill is on a 400-acre tract bordering Emmett townsite.

The mill will have a capacity of 200,000 feet every 10 hours and will be worked day and night. It will furnish Emmett with a monthly payroll of $25,000. The sawmill proper will be 72x196 feet. All the machinery to be installed is of the latest design. It will be electric lighted and operated. The logs for the mill will be brought down from the vast timber area owned by the company along the Idaho Northern Railroad in Western Idaho.
