meet and discuss new plans. Portland Ministerial Association, will preside and talks will be given by many prominent clergymen and attorneys. Frank H. Hilton, chairman of the Progressive Business Men's Club, will give an address on "Jokers in the Proposed Amendment." Dr. J. E. Anderson, Mayor of The Dalles; Dr. John H. Boyd, of the First Presbyterian Church, and E. A. Baker will also speak against the amendment.

"Unless we start before the August vacations, we cannot start before the middle of September, only three weeks before the registration closes on Octo-ber 7—too late." Besides getting the plan laid out the ministers will elect a county chairman.

ministers will elect a county chairman, precinct chairmen and captains, who will have charge of groups of workers. A house-to-house campaign will probably be adopted. Printed circulars will be given out in the churches for distribution and workers will go to all the residences in the city with them. Ministers have entered into the spirit of the meeting and already are beginning the work in their own parishes.

Many Not Informed.

"Inquiry in numerous counties reveals the fact that if voted upon today, the brewers' amendment would probably carry by a large majority.

"Inquiry shows that many people are not yet aware that such a measure is to be voted upon, especially the dry farmers. Other drys believe it a harmless measure which would do nothing more than allow liquors now coming in in extremely small quantity from California to be made here.

"The wets know of the bill and are quietly but with exceeding efficiency spreading the most harmless explanations. Their appeal is to give 'equal rishts to home industries." The 'pull' which such an appeal has in these times of depression you can imagine.

"We have the fight of our lives on our hands against the most dangerous measure ever introduced. Our people stand idle, unconscious of danger.

Mrs. Florence Crawford will speak in the comforter headquarters, "Center of Applied Christianity," Women's Exchange building, Fifth and Yamhill streets, this morning at 11 and this evening at 8 o'clock. The topic for the morning lecture will be "Faith That Says Remove," and in the evening "The Unknown Law" will be considered.

The work at the comforter headquarinterdenominational. are held during the week.

Ministers have entered into the spirit of the meeting and already are beginning the work in their own parishes. A similar scheme was adopted last week in Clackamas County, when the ministers met at Gladstone. There is a plan afoot to make the various ministerial associations of the state work on similar lines and in harmony. This will be carried out as soon as the local plan is in full swing.
