

SEASHORE SEASON AT HEIGHT IN MONTH OF AUGUST

Inn and proceeded on toward Neahkahine Mountain.

Mrs. William Bollens, Jr., and two sons, William and John, are camping at the latter's content.

W. Helster and wife, who are located at Seaside for the season, had as a guest here at a dinner party at the Inn last Monday Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Moore, of Astoria.

Henry S. Westbrooke, grand master of the Oddfellows, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Stettler at Woodlawn camp last Thursday and Friday.

TWO BEACHES HAVE BONFIRE

Manhattan and Moroney Town Join in Frolic on Sand.

MORONEY TOWN, Or., Aug. 12.—(Special.)—One of the events of the week at this popular resort was a joint bonfire given by the residents of Manhattan and Moroney Town. The fire was built well out on the beach, and was of immense proportions, made possible by the quantity of fine wood that was lying on the beach at this point. A crowd of 100 Summer residents was there, and a programme of musical numbers and songs was given. The fire was lit by Mr. E. W. McEwen, of Portland, donated a quantity of fireworks, and the air blazed with the light of rockets and roman candles. The music was furnished by the Moroney Town band, and the dancing on the hard sands of the nearby beach, and a good lunch was served by Lester Moroney was prime mover in the affair.

George Butler, Mrs. Boyd and the Misses Zon, Bertha and Lucy Boyd, of Portland, are here for a couple of weeks camping in the grove.

Mrs. Claridge and family returned to Portland during the week after two weeks in a cottage.

Mrs. Clara Warren, who has been in Portland for the past week, returned recently to New York City. She will be here for the remainder of the Summer season.

Mrs. and Mrs. W. Reese, of Portland, arrived during the week by auto for a brief vacation in a camp here. Mr. Reese enjoys the distinction of driving the first auto into Moroney Town. This trip through the sand dunes was accomplished by use of burlap on the wheels.

Miss Otilie Shindler, of Portland, is here for a fortnight at the Belmont cottage with Mrs. Lofting and family.

Mrs. Banks returned Monday to Portland after a month here.

George Burns, of Portland, is here for a few days' vacation.

George Sigler, of Hillsboro, is here for an indefinite stay at a camp in the grove.

Mrs. Oliver and children, Mildred and William, of Hillsboro, are guests of friends here last Friday.

Miss Helen Matthews is here from Portland for a couple of weeks at the Belmont cottage.

Gerald Barr, of Hillsboro, is a guest at the Warren camp for an indefinite stay.

Mrs. James Sigler, a prominent Hillsboro matron, is spending a few weeks here. She will entertain several friends from Washington County while encamped here.

Lawrence Bailey, of Portland, visited here during the week.

Mrs. W. D. Hoag, prominent social figure of Hillsboro, accompanied by the Misses Muriel and Maud Hoag, came in during the week for a three-week vacation at their Summer camp here.

Mr. Hoag will join them later for a brief stay. Dennis Hoag preceded his wife by several days, coming with Vincent Boyd.

Harold Kellington, of Portland, was a guest of friends here Tuesday.

Mrs. Barthel and Mrs. Newcomb, of Hermiston, and the Misses Edith and Dorothy and Harold Barthel and Marshall Newcomb, of Portland, are here, quartered at the "I'm So Hungry" camp for a month's outing.

Mrs. B. Reese and wife returned by auto during the week.

They stopped at the Upper Neustoca River and enjoyed some good luck fishing while on the road home.

FISHING GOOD AT MANHATTAN

Summer Resorters Flock to Nehalem Bay Jetty.

MANHATTAN BEACH, Or., Aug. 12.—(Special.)—The proximity of the Nehalem Bay jetty to this Summer resort is one of the features that make it the mecca for so many of the sea food lovers.

From the jetty dunnies of the deep may be caught with hook and line, and sea trout, bass, perch, flounders and several other of edible fish.

Crabs also are here in abundance. Crabs also are here in great number and the people of the trip here have great times in making the trip here. The high tide is sure ally sliced when so much can be had for the taking and, as they say, when "the tide is in, the tide is set," certainly expresses the novel situation.

Among others to try their luck casting from the jetty were Mr. and Mrs. D. O. Webster, who are encamped here for the season at Our Camp. A good catch was made.

Mr. J. Ferrell, with his family at the Buena Vista cottage after a couple of weeks at Willhoit Springs.

Registered at the Manhattan Hotel are E. B. McCracken, Mrs. Charles S. Campbell, Charles W. Campbell, Mrs. Laura C. Brown, of Portland; Mrs. J. Brown, Astoria; Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Harriman and Mrs. W. Wilson, of Astoria; and Mrs. Verna, of Portland.

At a "500" party given by Mrs. Charles S. Campbell at the Hotel Manhattan Monday evening, Mrs. C. H. Withers, who is quartered at the Merry-makers' cottage, was the honor guest.

An event after the cards was the toasting of marshmallows in the huge fire place that adorns one end of the lobby.

Miss Ethel M. Goudy has returned to work as librarian at Hood River and Mrs. Goudy has left for Portland.

The rest of the family are still here. Mr. and Mrs. Edward Snyder, of Portland, were week-end visitors at the Dew Drop Inn Camp. Miss Agnes Anderson was also there for a few days during the fore part of the week.

Mrs. E. E. Schmidt, of Astoria, returned to Portland; Mrs. Joe Schmidt, of Bonaville, are guests for two weeks at the Summer residence of Mrs. Sophia Scott, of Portland.

C. Louis Barzee and son, Willard, and W. F. Marshall, of Latta, are guests at the Green Lawn cottage for a fortnight.

M. A. Welch is in from the Rose City for a few weeks with relatives at the Green Lawn cottage.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Naumann and Richard J. Marillit, of Portland, and Mrs. J. L. Ennis, of Aberdeen, Wash., were week-enders at the Green Lawn cottage.

Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Chervin are camping here with a couple of weeks' vacation. They are at this point.

Motoring in from Salem during the week for a vacation at Welkit Camp were August Cole, Mrs. Flora Cole and Kenneth, Burton and Dorothy Cole. They will remain for a few weeks.

C. B. Harrison, of Portland, who is a member of the Victoria Club, was here Thursday to catch the right tide for fishing and crabs. Mr. Harrison is an ardent Nimrod and is having good luck while here. He was accompanied by his chum and campmate, Edison Reynolds, also of Portland.

LIFE-LINE REASSURES BATHERS

Timid Swimmers at Bar View Bench Applaud Surf Addition.

BAR VIEW, Or., Aug. 12.—(Special.)—Life-line for the bathing place has been purchased and floats are being fastened on. This feature is a great drawing card for timid bathers, for while there is no danger to anyone accustomed to the water, the life-line feels safer when a rope is within easy reach.

Manville Robinson was instrumental in placing the line.

Mrs. Mabel Goss and son, Robert, and Mrs. Maude Gould and daughter, Marjorie, of Oregon City, are here for the season.

C. C. Whitmore and F. M. Hill, of Laurel, Or., were here for a few days. Arriving by motorcycle from Salem last Wednesday were George Cherington, Bert Victor and Al Cleveland. They will tour all the beaches.
