OREGON NORMAL SCHOOL RESTS ON FOUNDATION BUILT BY PIONEERS

Many Periods of Uncertainty Weathered by Institution Under Guidance of Ceaseless Workers Determined Solidly to Establish Temple of Higher Education.

Elbert House, Monmouth, Bazed in 1914, Built in 1857

Christian College, Monmouth, Built in 1871.

on the establishment of an educational institution, donated land for the campus, had not they given money to start the wheel moving, on what basis could the promoters have laid claims for a state normal school?

The story is simple: The pioneers first chose a central location in the valley. Then they set to work to found an institution of learning to meet the timely needs of the early people. They fixed the campus, erected the buildings and planted the trees. School was begun. The pioneers accomplished their purpose, educationally. It was left to
