SUNNELL-APOTOS

SCHOOL bells will ring and wedding bells will chime this week and so society will be back in town once more. Another bell that called them all home with a rush at the end of the past week was that of the locomotive; for with rumor of a strike in the air, trunks were packed hurriedly, summer cottages were boarded up, and society, tanned by the wind and sun, returned to Portland.

This week will be filled with many interests. There will be the little folk to be sent to school; the older brothers and sisters to be prepared for college and finishing school and the brides-elect to be entertained.

Without doubt Miss Delberta Stuart has been the most feted of the engaged girls this past week and up to the very evening of her wedding she will continue to be showered with social honors. Miss Stuart is a lovable, sweet girl.

Charles Haddon Manners, who will claim Miss Stuart as his bride, is well known in business and college circles. Miss Stuart has been in Portland only a fortnight and in that time has had a continuous round of entertainings.

Miss Stella Wolfe will be another of the Fall brides. Miss Louise Burns will be married soon, and so the season gives every promise of plenty of social gaiety. The dancing clubs are not yet organized. The lists will be made out later on.

Everyone is delighted that the Waverley Country Club has resumed the dinner dances, and as the music is sure to be good, society hostesses will find entertaining at the club a most satisfactory manner in which to dispense hospitalities.

out and the latter in a lingerie gown. Large hats were worn by nearly all the guests. Corsage bouquets of pink roses, dainty place cards and appropriate favors were provided. Those present were: Miss Stuart, Miss Katherine Russell, Miss Louise Caswell, Miss Cecile Shea, Miss Phyllis King, Miss Margaret Porter, Miss Lavelle Young and the hostesses.

Mrs. Landon R. Mason, who has returned from a trip through British Columbia, plans to leave today for Boston. Railroad conditions, caused many to change their plans during the last few days. Miss Jean Lawton, who had intended to leave later, went away early last week. She was to have been one of the soloists in Miss Marion Bauer's recital at the Little Club and her going away necessitated a postponement of the event.

Miss Edith Nicholson and Miss Von Bolton entertained on Thursday at an informal tea for Mrs. Paul Giesy and Mrs. Pousland, of Salem, Mass. The affair was quite informal.

Mrs. Clifton N. McArthur (Lucille Smith) is here visiting her mother and other relatives and friends. Miss Shirley Eastham entertained for Mrs. McArthur on Tuesday and on Wednesday she went to Tigra for a short visit with Mrs. J. J. Reynolds. Miss Eastham's party was a small and informal affair, but decidedly delightful, for it brought together several old-time friends of the honor guest. There was a merry chat over the embroidery and knitting and then tea was served.

Miss Delberta Stuart, fiancée of Charles Haddon Manners, whose marriage will be one of the first of importance this season, was entertained at several festivities last week. The wedding is scheduled for September 6. The First Presbyterian Church will be the scene of the ceremony. Mrs. Jay Coffey will be matron of honor and Nathan Means, of White Salmon, Wash., will be Mr. Manners' attendant. Little Frances Kerr will be ringbearer.

Miss Helen Wortman and Miss Edith Olds entertained on Thursday for Miss Stuart. Their tribute to the lovely bride-elect was a luncheon at the Waverley Golf Club. Miss Cornelia Stanley gave a smart tea yesterday and on Tuesday Mrs. J. F. Coffey and Mrs. E. C. Coffey will give the final social honor before the wedding.

Miss Stella Wolfe's marriage to Edwin Neustadter has been set for September 14. The ceremony will be solemnized in the home of the bride and will be one of the charming events of the season. Many honors have been shown the bride-elect and several others are scheduled. She is indeed popular and is possessed of civility, charm and a grace that makes her a favorite among her girl friends. Miss Wolfe is one of the girls who is always thought of as the most popular in the city.

Miss Jane Norton, of Boston, will be honored on Thursday at a tea to be given by Miss Ruth Shull, Yewerday. Miss Cornelia Stanley honored Miss Norton and Miss Delberta Stuart at a smart tea.

Miss Helen Haller will leave about September 25 for Washington, D. C. to attend Mount Vernon Seminary, the finishing school from which her sister, Miss Marie Haller, was graduated.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ladd Corbett and Mr. and Mrs. Elliott Corbett enjoyed a delightful outing this season. They went with pack train into the mountains and camped out in the rougher spots. The outing proved a decided change from the routine of city life and was invigorating and inspiring.

Dean and Mrs. H. M. Ramsey were honor guests on Wednesday night at a large reception given at the residence of Mrs. Herbert Holman. The parishioners of St. Stephen's pro-Cathedral were in attendance to bid farewell to their rector and dean. Mrs. Holman was assisted in receiving by Mr. and Mrs. Ramsey, Bishop Sumner and his mother, Mrs. Sumner, Mrs. E. T. C. Stevens, Mrs. Frank, Mrs. H. L. Ramsdell and others. In the various rooms members of the clergy greeted the guests and showed their appreciation of the work done by Mr. Ramsey by presenting him with a handsome traveling bag from the Clericus. Rev. John D. Rice made the presentation speech and interspersed wit with his tributes. Bishop Sumner gave a short talk and in the name of the parishioners gave Dean Ramsey a purse.

Yellow flowers were used in decoration. Mrs. Ramsdell, Mrs. Ramsey's mother, presided at the table and cut the loaves. Assigning about the room were Miss Ethel Malpas, Miss Amy Robinson, Miss Charlotte Benfield and several other attractive girls. Archdeacon Chambers and Mrs. Chambers and many of the leading clergymen of the city called to pay their respects to Dean Ramsey and his wife. They will make their future home in Minnesota, where the dean has received an appointment of distinction as member of the faculty of a theological college.

Mrs. Dent Mowrey, who will make her home in Seattle this season, was honored at several delightful parties given last week. On Tuesday Mrs. Donald Spencer was hostess at a tea for Mrs. Mowrey. A number of friends of the social and musical set were invited. Mrs. H. C. Wortman entertained on Thursday at her home on Vista avenue, King's Hill. The affair was informal and included as guests a coterie of friends of the honor guest.

Mr. and Mrs. Mowrey will be greatly missed in the social and musical sets this Fall and Winter. As Thursday was an ideal day for a lawn party, and as the Wortman garden is an ideal place for entertaining, the festivity was held there. Presiding at the table were Mrs. Folger Johnson and Mrs. Harold Sawyer. Assisting about the garden were several attractive young matrons and maids, among whom were Miss Mabel Neal, Miss Marjorie Noble, Miss Constance Piper, Mrs. George E. Hood, Mrs. Ralph Fenton and Mrs. Donald Spencer.

Miss Ruth Hotel will have charge of the Rivera private school that will open on September 11. This school will be for the children of the families living in that neighborhood.

Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher Linn and their house guests, Mr. R. B. von Klein Smid and daughter, Elizabeth, of Tucson, Ariz., have returned from an interesting trip to Tellico Lake, near Marshfield, Or., where they enjoyed fishing, boating and tramping.

Mrs. Morris Whitehouse and Mrs. Max Houser returned to Cloud Caplin and back during the week. Mr. and Mrs. Guy Webster Talbot and family returned during the week from Gaurahar, where they have passed the Summer.

Mr. and Mrs. William MacMaster have returned from British Columbia. Mrs. John S. Napier has returned from a fortnight's visit at Vancouver Island.

Another society beam was added to the list early last week when Master Edgar Dean Crumpacker arrived to gladden the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice E. Crumpacker. The only son named for his paternal grandfather. The first son was named for the late James W. Cook, Mrs. Crumpacker was Cully Cook. She was one of the best-loved society girls, always a leader and an inspiration for entertaining. As a young matron she has just won of her popularity. Her genuine sweetness makes and keeps for her scores of friends who rejoice with her over the advent of the new baby.

Mrs. A. C. Leonard, of Kansas City, has been a visitor in Portland this Summer. On last Saturday she was honor guest at an informal tea given by her aunt, Mrs. A. L. Maxwell.

Dr. and Mrs. E. S. Sparna are back from an auto trip on which they went 1077 miles. They camped out at nights and had a delightful Summer outing, visiting many places of scenic interest. Miss Jessie Lane was their guest on the trip.

Miss Martha Coman and Miss Ethel Patterson, of New York City, will arrive in Portland, probably tomorrow. Mrs. F. C. Schramm (Wynn Coman), of Salt Lake, will also be a visitor here this week.

Miss Cornelia Stanley's tea yesterday was one of the smart social events of the season. Sharing the honors with Miss Jane Norton and Miss Delberta Stuart was Miss Christiane Tait, the house guest of Mrs. C. A. McKenna. The Stanley residence in Park avenue was attractively decorated with cut flowers and ferns. Presiding at the table and assisting were Mrs. Guy Standiford, Miss Christine Case, Miss Ruth Shaw, Miss Virginia McDonough and Miss Dorothy Strawbridge.

Society friends of Mrs. Benyo Mitsui will be interested in her progress in music. Mrs. Mitsui is a charming little Japanese matron who has lived
