are we poor guessers. Kansas Majority Safe. Kansas-In 1912 the Republicans and Progressives cast 195,567, the Democratis 145,670 votes. Wilson carried the state by over 50,000 minority. Two years later the combined Republican and Progressive vote exceeded the Democratic vote by 151,900. Maine-I have placed Maine in the Re-publican column for several reasons. First, the state is normally Republican and sel-dom elects Democratic electors. In 1912, while Wilson carried the state, it was clearly the combined Republican and Progressive vote was 23,928 in excess of the Democratic vote.

velt. Michigan—The election returns of 1912 show a very comfortable situation in this state. Wilson had 150,751; Taft, 162,214, and Roosevelt, 214,584 votes. Minnesota—Even in a Democratic esti-mate this state would be placed in the Re-

Republican column in November next, Ohio Declared Safe: Ohio-This is another state carried by Wilson in 1912, although polling $2,241 votes less than Taft and Roosevelt combined. Two years later the Republicans carried the state by 31,000, and in addition the Progress-sives polled almost 61,000 votes, showing a difference of 92,000 votes. There is nothing to indicate that there will be a poorer show-ing in 1916 and I have no hesitation in placing Ohio in the list. Oregon, Pennsylvania and Rhode Island are generally regarded so safely Republican that it would be a wasts of time to discuss them.

is state. Utah and Vermont-These states are as Utah and Vermoni-These states are as certain to cast their electoral votes for Hughes and Fairbanks as is Pennsylvania. Washington-I might as well have added this state to Utah and Vermont and said no mire about it. However, Wilson carried the state in 1912 by almost 100,000 minor-ity. Two years later the combined Repub-lican and Progressive vote exceeded the Democratic vote by over 122,000. West Virginia-I regard this state as be-ing exceedingly close and it probably should go in the doubtful column. From

Wedding at Fair.

The campaign this year will be di-rected largely by the chairman and secretary of the county central com-mittee and the state and Congressional committeemen. J. C. Talbott, of Falls City, the chairman of the committee, plans giving much time to the actual work. Secretary Macken was formerly to the path of the presents which had been donated toom all sections of the harbor, and from all sections of the harbor, and was told that the bridegroom-to-be is prominent in fraternal circles of Aber-deen and the bride-elect equally well known. He then consented to figure in the nuptials by giving the bride away.

That postal receipts of the Baker post-office increased 37 per cent in the last year was the announcement of John G. Foster, postmaster, who showed that in August $2799.22 was collected, an increase of $815.22 over the $2184 col-lected in August, 1915. The parcel post business also showed a healthy growth, and is believed to be due to the growth of the city and better business conditions in this vi-cinity. July receipts also showed a gain over the same month a year ago.
