

FIRE PRECAUTION TO BE HERALDED

Portland Will Hold All-Day Celebration Tomorrow to Impress Need of Safety.

PARADE WILL BE FEATURE

Demonstration of Fire-Fighting Appliances on Bill and Special Attention Will Be Allocated to Schools.

Portland's celebration tomorrow of Fire and Accident Prevention Day will be the elaborate Safety First principles will be advocated and placards before the public in impressive and interesting fashion.

The committee of 100, appointed some time ago by Mayor Albee to work up the celebration, reported to headquarters yesterday completion of plans, which call for morning, afternoon and evening activities.

The morning affairs will be at the public schools. A fireman has been assigned to each school to take on fire and accident prevention at special assemblies to be called by the school principals.

At Ladd school a fire drill will be held at 9 A. M., after which the Jaeger cup will be awarded to the school as the best drilled in the grade school class. At 10 A. M. the Public Safety Commission cup will be given the Jefferson High School, the cup having been won by that school again this year for speed in fire drilling.

At 10:30 o'clock a fireboat drill will be held in the river near Morrison bridge.

Luncheon on Programme.

At 12 o'clock a Safety First luncheon will be held at the Chamber of Commerce. Governor Withycombe, Mayor Albee, State Insurance Commissioner Harvey Wells and Fire Marshal Stevens will be the speakers.

A Fire Bureau exhibition will be held at Sixth and Pine streets, commencing at 1:30 P. M., and will be reviewed by Governor Withycombe, Mayor Albee and other state, county and city officials. Hose drills will be participated in by volunteer fire companies from Leata, Tremont, Woodstock, Corvallis, Woodburn, McMinnville, Vancouver and other neighboring towns.

At 3:30 P. M. a Safety First parade will start on a long course through the West Side business district.

The Portland Railway, Light & Power Company employees will make a big showing. They will turn out with their band and carry Safety First banners. Probably some of the railroad companies will be represented, also manufacturing concerns of Portland and other parts of the state.

Public Lecture Scheduled.

The line of march for the parade will be as follows: Starting from Fourteenth and Yamhill, east to Tenth, north to Alder, east to Broadway, north to Ankeny, east to Sixth, south to Taylor, east to Third, south to Jefferson, west to Fourth, north to Salmon, west to Broadway, north to Yamhill, west to Tenth and Grand.

The celebration will close with a public lecture at the Chamber of Commerce at 8 P. M. on the subject of Fire and Accident Prevention. This will be under the auspices of the Extension Bureau of the University of Oregon. The speakers will be Fire Marshal Stevens, Portland and Ben Williams, of the State Industrial Accident Commission. Fire and Accident Prevention Day will be observed tomorrow throughout the United States. It is a nation-wide movement, started this year.

As a prelude to the celebration arrangements have been made for Safety First sermons in all of the churches of Portland at the services today.

EXTENSION WORK OPENS

350 PERSONS APPEAR AT LIBRARY TO JOIN CLASSES.

Musical Course Enrolls 95, Child Psychology 100, Architecture 60, Philosophy Room Overflows.

Three hundred and fifty persons appeared at the Central Library Friday night for the opening of four more of the Fall and Winter extension courses of the University of Oregon. Apparently the university will have about 800 persons enrolled in Portland work this year.

Nine-five filled room A for the first of Dr. John J. Landsburg's lectures on "Musical Understanding" and "The Science of Music." A knowledge of music is not entirely essential for the work in "Musical Understanding." The next two lectures will come October 23.

Room B failed to accommodate many more than half of those desiring to hear Dr. George Rebeck's opening lecture on present-day philosophical thought.

More than 100 appeared for Dr. B. W. Busk's course in clinical child psychology, although, because it is a technical course, only two dozen were expected. The work is primarily for teachers. Dr. DeBusk will lecture each Friday evening until February 6.

Sixty appeared in North Gallery to enroll in architecture courses, which will be five in number—men and pencil, life and modeling, architectural design, descriptive geometry and graphic statics. All will be given in North Gallery, except possibly graphic statics, which is scheduled for the Labor Temple.

Last night two more classes met for the first time—class in drawing and pencil, conducted by L. C. Rosenberg, instructor in architecture at the university, and class in pottery, conducted by Mrs. Mable Holmes Parsons, professor of English.

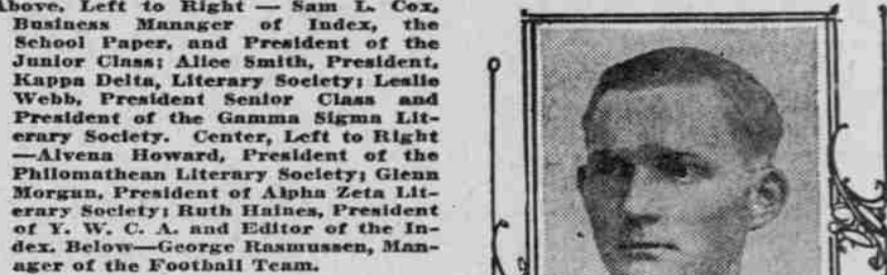

PRESBYTERY MEETING SET

Portland Body to Hold Fall Session This Week.

The Presbytery of Portland will meet in the First Presbyterian Church on Tuesday evening, October 10, at 7:30 o'clock. Rev. S. W. Freeman, D. D., of the Hope Presbyterian Church, will preach the sermon. A successor will be chosen to the retiring Moderator, Dr. H. N. Mount, who leaves for Chicago. Also a treasurer of Presbytery to succeed Dr. J. V. Milligan, whose death took place recently. This is the regular fall meeting, and one of the most important meetings of the year. The Presbytery will be in session Wednesday and Thursday. Each afternoon there will be a conference on Religious Education. Rev. William Ralph Hall, of Philadelphia, will be present and conduct the conferences. Dr. W. O. Forbes, of Seattle, will be one of the speakers, and also Rev. L. Myron Booser, of Grants Pass.

FOOD SHOW PLANNED

Grocers and Merchants Association Arranges Exhibits.

FETE TO CONTINUE 10 DAYS

Original Features to Mark Event and Dancing Will Be Enjoyed Each Night—King and Queen Are to Be Elected.

A pretentious food exposition will be held at the Ice Palace by the Portland Grocers' and Merchants' Association for ten days beginning November 9. Entertainment for the public in many forms will be incorporated into the arrangements for the exhibit of food products and a number of programmes for each evening will include all of the novelties that the public could desire.

A chrysanthemum show will be one of the features of the exposition, while a continuous dance at one end of the pavilion is to be included as an attraction to the younger people.

Pergolas arranged along new lines will change the aspect of the big building, the general scheme being intended to represent a huge garden. The usual rows of variously constructed booths are to be avoided in the plans for the show as are most of the ordinary features of food carnivals.

Show is to Be Festive.

The management proposes to include enough entertainment features with the programmes for the coming show to render it more of a fete than a series of food demonstrations.

The exhibitors already are making arrangements for individual displays. Most manufacturers with products to demonstrate are planning to introduce novelties into their demonstrations, so that no feature of the show will resemble the ordinary.

Pledges of reciprocal co-operation have been made in resolutions adopted by the Portland Grocers' and Merchants' Association.

men's literary society, is Glenn Morgan. Kappa Delta and Phi Kappa Phi, the women's literary societies, have elected as their respective presidents, Miss Alice Smith and Miss Alvina Howard. The student paper, the Index, has a particularly strong staff this year. The editor is Miss Ruth Haines and the business manager Samuel L. Cox. Miss Haines is also president of the Y. W. C. A. George Rasmussen has been chosen manager of the football team.

Association and by buying organizations, such as the United Grocers of Oregon.

Cooking lectures will be held each day and two lecture rooms are being fitted up for this purpose. A series of lectures on salesmanship are in contemplation, in which employees of Portland groceries may receive instruction in theory of salesmanship and then be trained in selling practice work in the food show itself.

Dancing to Aid Muts.

The dancing floor will be in charge of various commercial organizations and clubs and the profits derived will be turned over to the Muts for their charitable fund.

F. C. Burns is chairman of the food show committee, while Robert C. Duncan, as manager of the Grocers' and Merchants' Association will co-operate in the work.

Early measures to stimulate interest in the affair include a voting contest in which a king and queen will be elected. The monarchs of the festival are to have the titles of Epiurus II and Cleopatra, respectively. Tickets sold at grocers for 10 cents each will represent 100 votes and merchants will award prizes to purchasers of tickets through a numbering system.

CITY POLITICS BREWING

OREGON CITY MAYOR ASKED BY FRIENDS TO RUN AGAIN.

Dr. H. S. Mount and J. J. Toban Also Are Mentioned for Office Others Urged to Try for Council.

OREGON CITY, Or., Oct. 7.—(Special.)—City politics shrouded the interest of the people of Oregon City with state and National contests, although the city election will not be held until the first Monday in December, a month after the general vote.

Petitions were put in circulation today asking Mayor Hackett to run for re-election. The executive, who now is serving his first term, has announced that he would run if his friends insisted. Several names, including that of Dr. Hugh S. Mount and J. J. Toban, have been mentioned as possible candidates, but petitions for neither of these men are out.

James Roake, a Councilman, and C. W. Friedrich, ex-member of the Council, are being asked to run for the Council from the Second Ward by petitions now in circulation. Henry M. Templeton, from the First Ward, and E. B. Andrews, from the Third, both probably will run for re-election.

REED FACULTY ELECTS

President W. T. Foster ex-Officio Member of Organizations Named.

At the first election held under the new Reed College constitution, the faculty elected their governing council and two members to the welfare committee of faculty members and trustees.

Professor N. F. Coleman, Dr. F. L. Griffin, Dr. W. C. Morgan, Dr. W. F. Ogburn, Dr. Kelly Rees, Dr. H. B. Torrey, Dr. Eleanor Rowland and Miss Maida Rossiter were elected to the council, and Drs. Coleman and Morgan were elected to the welfare committee. President W. T. Foster is ex-officio member of both bodies.

NATIVE DAUGHTER PASSES

Mrs. Minerva Hemenway Dean Is Buried at Eugene.

SPRINGFIELD, Or., Oct. 7.—(Special.)—Mrs. Minerva Hemenway Dean, a native daughter of Lane County, died recently in the Eugene hospital. She had been in ill health at her home near Springfield for several months, and death came after an operation. She is survived by her husband, George J. Dean; her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Ansel Hemenway, and brother, Oscar, who lives near Springfield, also another brother, Professor A. F. Hemenway, of Lexington, Ky., and four stepchildren, Orville, Hazel, Raymond and Edward.

Mrs. Dean was born in Lane County September 23, 1869, and was married to George T. Dean October 18, 1908. She attended the University of Oregon for four years and was a teacher in the schools of Oregon and Washington for more than 18 years.

The funeral was held in the Christian Church in Eugene, with interment in the Masonic Cemetery.

ARMY SERVICE IS NOTABLE

Robert Young Who Was Buried Yesterday Enlisted at Age of 12.

Robert Young, who died last Thursday and was buried yesterday, was 17 years old and one of the well-known veterans of the Civil War. He was a member of Lincoln Garfield Post, Grand Army of the Republic. He enlisted in Company H, Forty-seventh Ohio Volunteer Infantry, as bugler at the age of 12. He soon tired of the bugle and was assigned a musket, which he carried through the war, being honorably discharged May 31, 1865. He was in many engagements, and among his friends and at various camp fires he was in demand as a good story teller of the events during the stirring days.

Besides his widow, Mrs. Mary L. Young, one son, Robert, and a daughter, Emma A. of this city, survive.

A Glimpse of the Finley Chapel.

THOSE who state a preference for holding services at home, usually do so because they only know of the old-style chapel, with its cold, suggestive surroundings.

But the Finley chapel is truly different. There is a homelike warmth, along with quiet and refinement. We offer the family rooms, the private drive, the absence of all publicity.

How much better this is than the old way. It takes the services into new surroundings. There is no additional cost for our chapel. Regardless of the cost of materials, Finley service remains the same.
