The 1916 Horse Show, under the direction of the Portland Hunt Club, and given at the request of the business men of the city, is destined to open a brilliant Winter season of social functions. Boxes are being taken by social leaders and by citizens who will hang over the rail to watch the play of every rippling muscle under the glistening coats of the performers.

Foreign Herses Coming.

Foreign Horses Coming. A very large entry list is assured from Portland owners, many of the animals being ridden by their masters and mistresses. From Vancouver, H. C., and from Victoria, will come other horses of international reputation, while Seattle is sending a number of performers who have added to their own fewer and the cum-rioset of their own fame and the cup-closet of their Tremendous interests attaches to the exhibitions of the wonderful animal "Credential," who soars over the bars at a height of seven feet four inches when he is out for a record, and who commonly does six and a half feet for exercise. His owner, W. S. Holland, is bringing another horse that is almost as good and which will be used as pacemaker for Credential if Portland horses fall to make this great performer extend himself.

FRONT STREET HAS BLAZE Premises of Toft & Co. Threatened but Loss Is Slight.

Fire broke out yesterday morning at 16:30 in the commission-house of Teft & Co., at 101 Front street, but was subdued by the department before it had gained headway. The damage was slight.

The blaze had its origin in a pile of excelsior-filled boxes and cases, which were stored on a balcony above the main floor. Contact of the boxes with a chimney is thought to have been the cause. The George I. Smith Printing Company's plant, which occupies quarters above the commission firm, was also endangered.
