

MORE PROTECTION FROM FIRE ASKED

Several East Side Districts Organize Move to Secure Additional Truck.

ONE HELD INSUFFICIENT

Favorable Action Is Expected of City Commissioners — Increase of Taxes Opposed as Not Needed for Purpose.

People in Laurelhurst, in Rose City Park, Sunnyside, Irvington, Alameda Park, Beaumont and other East Side districts want better fire protection. They have presented their requests to the City Commissioners and are looking forward to favorable action. They point out that the immense territory east of the river has the service of but a single automatic fire truck with ladders long enough to reach the roof of an ordinary two-story dwelling. The movement for a new truck was started several months ago by the Laurelhurst Club and now has been joined by various other civic organizations east of the river.

A meeting of interested persons was held in room 400 Oregonian building a few days ago. Organized effort was started for additional apparatus. J. C. English was elected chairman of the committee and Herbert S. McCutchen secretary.

Tax Increase Opposed.
It was plain from expressions of nearly everyone present, that the people back of this movement are opposed to any increase in the tax rate. They think the desired improvement can be had without raising taxes. Moreover, they point out that more than $15,000,000 worth of property is in constant danger of serious fire under existing conditions.

Present at the meeting were: Fire Chief Dowell, Fire Marshal Stevens and Battalion Chief Holden. Others present were: J. C. English, F. R. Reed, H. S. McCutchen, N. E. Pike, C. Holmes, Dr. J. P. Tamslele, B. L. Hanson, C. W. Hayhurst, Dr. J. Emil Nelson, S. B. Cooke, Conrad F. Olson, Hugh L. Glendon, Mount Tabor, Rose City, Sellwood, Stephens, Sunnyside, Woodmere, Woodstock, Reed College, Sellwood Hospital, Alameda German Home, Oddfellows' Home, Father Gregory's Schools, Onne Jarvis Sanitarium, the French Catholic schools and convents at Seventy-sixth and East Morrison and East Salmon, Fraser Home, Boys' and Girls' Aid Society, Allen private school and many others.

An instance of the disastrous effects of inadequate fire protection in this territory was the recent fire at the home of J. M. Leiter in Laurelhurst. The available ladders were not long enough to reach the roof of the building and the building was almost destroyed.

The recent meeting arranged for the appointment of a committee of one representative from each of the following organizations to confer with the City Council on the subject: East Side Business Men's Club, Irvington Club, Rose City Club, Alameda Park Club, Hawthorne and Belmont-street organizations, Mount Scott, Mount Tabor, Sunnyside, Woodstock, Reed College, Beaumont Club, Sellwood Club and the various Parent-Teacher Associations.

Sutherland Gets China Pheasants.

SUTHERLIN, Or., Oct. 21.—(Special.)—Sixty young China pheasants were received at Sutherland, this morning from the state game farm at Corvallis and they were liberated by the local Rod and Gun Club. Owing to the wholesale killing of the birds by hunters last year and the unfavorable winter and spring, pheasants were particularly scarce here this season.

MEDFORD SOLOIST WHO ACCOMPANIES MRS. E. B. HANLEY ON EASTERN OREGON CAMPAIGN TRIP.

MRS. BERT ANDERSON.

Although political campaigning for a President is new work for Mrs. Bert Anderson, of Medford, she has taken to it with a will and is aiding Mrs. E. B. Hanley, now on a speaking tour of Eastern Oregon, to win votes for Hughes. She is doing it, however, with songs, not speeches. She gives solos at the meetings Mrs. Hanley holds and the greetings both are receiving in the interior are most hearty.

Mrs. Anderson is a dramatic mezzo-soprano with a voice of splendid range, that is said to have operatic quality. She has a great interest in the campaign and is anxious and willing to work hard for the election of Mr. Hughes. Personally, she is unassuming and attractive and comes of distinguished ancestry. She is a member of the Daughters of the American Revolution. On the present trip she is abandoning her usual adherence to the classics in her musical programmes and is giving campaign songs.

On the testimony of Edward Kellner, a young harvest hand, of Bellingham, Wash., Morris Z. Brown, clothier, of 46 North Third street, was held to the grand jury by Municipal Judge Langguth yesterday afternoon on a charge of larceny. Brown was permitted to go on his own recognizance.

Seeking work in the shipyards, Kellner came to the city on Friday. He maintains that he exchanged a suit of clothes in Brown's store, forgetting to remove $100 in currency from the vest pocket. On his return for the money he was told that it had not been found in his clothing.

STUDENTS VISIT PLANT

PHARMACY CLASS SEES WORKINGS OF BLUMAUER-FRANK HOUSE.

Oregon Agricultural College Party After Inspection of Laboratories Guests at Luncheon.

Football wasn't the only attraction that brought the boys and girls of the Oregon Agricultural College to Portland yesterday. Some of them combined study with their quest for pleasure. The class in pharmacy, for instance, devoted the morning to an inspection of the Blumauer-Frank drug laboratories. About 70 students were in the party.

They were conducted through the great plant from beginning to end. They saw drugs in the process of manufacture and observed how a big wholesale drug house is operated. The class was in charge of Professor Adolph Ziefle, head of the department of pharmacy.

CURED HIMSELF OF DRINKING

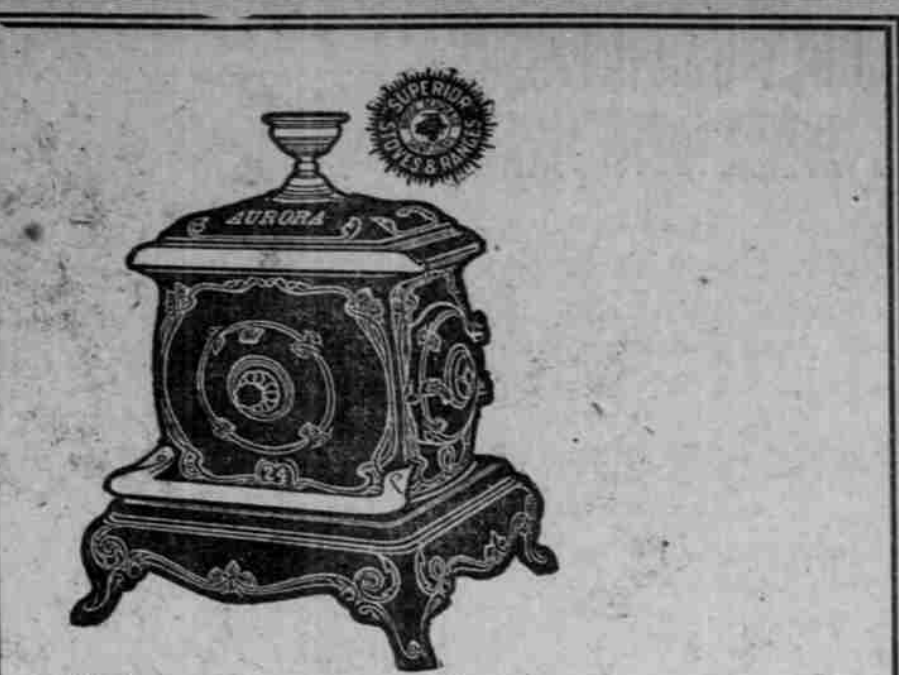

Los Angeles Man Gives Out a Simple Home Recipe That Banished His Desire for Liquor.

Mr. Carl Smith, living at 615 S. Grand Avenue, Los Angeles, Calif., cured himself of the liquor habit with a simple home recipe. In a recent statement Mr. Smith said: "I took two high-priced treatments for the liquor habit, both of which failed. Then I heard of the following simple recipe which I tried. It quickly banished my desire for liquor and greatly benefited my health. To 3 ounces of water add 20 grains of muriate of ammonia, a small box of Varlex Compound and 10 grains of pepsin. Take a teaspoonful three times a day. It is perfectly harmless and as it has no taste, color or smell it can be given secretly in coffee, tea, milk or in food. Any drug-gist can put up this recipe at very little cost, and it is a wonderful remedy."

VASSAR GIRLS BILLED

"PAGEANT OF ATHENA" IS TO BE SHOWN HERE.

Celebration of 50th Anniversary of Founding of College for Women to Be Featured at Globe. An institution once there was of learning and of knowledge. That had upon its high brick front a Vassar Female College. The maidens fair could not enjoy their bread and milk and porridge. They graven on their forks and spoons was Vassar Female College. What happened to the "female" in the sight and on the spoons, those who visited the Globe Theater the afternoon of Saturday, October 28, will discover. At 3 and 4 P. M. moving pictures are to be shown of the "Pageant of Athena," written and produced by the students of Vassar College to commemorate the 50th anniversary of the founding of Vassar by Matthew Vassar. There will be pictures of the commencement of the 1916 class, of which Miss Margaret Montague, of Portland, was a member. Views of the grounds and college activities will precede the pageant film.

The days when "female" adorned the spoons and bootlocks were supplied to each student marked the opening of the first large college for women, just at the close of the Civil War, when to go to college was an unwomanly thing for a woman to do.

The delightful way in which college men and women from all over the country gathered to pay honor to Vassar in the celebration of her 50th birthday was deeply appreciated by all her alumnae and students.

The most striking feature of the celebration was the "Pageant of Athena," but the students' conference held during the week was noteworthy.

Well-known alumnae of Vassar are: Maria Mitchell, the astronomer; John Lathrop, chief of the children's bureau; Katharine B. Davis, head of the parole board of New York City; Ellen H. Richards, the pioneer in household economics; Mrs. Eva Perry Moore, president of the National Council of Women of the United States; Eva March Tappan, Edith Hooker, Elizabeth Woodbridge Morris, Jean Webster, Margaret Sherwood and Juliet Wilbur Tompkins.
