Straight Football Is Used in Early Part of Nebraska-Aggie Game.

O. A. C. SCORES IN SECOND

Sensational Run by Halfback Conn Ties Count—In Last Quarter Visitors Get Place Kick and Touchdown.

Referee George Varnell called Captain Blissett, of the Oregon Aggies, and Captain Corey, of the University of Nebraska, to the center of the field, and, after tossing the coin, Captain Corey spoke up with "heads," and he won the right to choose the goal first.

Visitors March to Touchdown. The Corvallis athletes made yardage twice in succession with "Darkhorse" Newman and Corey going the brunt of the work.

From then on the Cornhuskers started a march which was ended by Corey going over the line for a touchdown and, after Dobson had caught the punt-out, Captain Corey made the seventh point by his goal kick.

Conn's Run Remarkable. Now comes the setting for the most remarkable run ever made on a football field, barring none. Unable to make yardage on their fourth down, the ball went over to the Aggies and on the first down Anderson punted 20 yards.

No Scores Made in Third. From then on the ball surged up and down the field and only a few minutes before time out Captain Blissett carried from the field and Jack Mott took his place for the locals.

Visitors Struggle in Fourth. Nothing even startling was recorded in the remainder of the period and no scoring was done by either squad.

Assistant Coach Rutherford, Nebraska. "Our boys disappointed me. There is much room for improvement in our offense. Despite the hard fighting, the Corvallis team's score should have been two touchdowns larger for us."

GAME'S RECEIPTS $6486

YESTERDAY'S CONTEST NETS EACH TEAM $2543. Expenses of Staging Aggie-Nebraska Affair Total $1000—Attendance Approximately 6500.

Statements by Coaches and Managers.

Coach Stewart, Nebraska. "WITH all respect to Coach Pipal's team, I think we should have run up a larger score. My backfield lacks the necessary punch to put the ball across in a pinch, but I'm well satisfied with the defense put up by our line."

Coach J. A. Pipal, Oregon Aggies. "We took $2543, but the odds were too great to overcome. Add to the weight and the experience of the Nebraska boys, and we were a little poor finish that was put on our offense and the whole story of the result is told."

Graduate Manager May, of Aggies. "To tell the truth, I expected the score would be closer. The fellows played a great game, and although they fought every minute their attack was not as effective as they are capable of making it."

George M. Varnell, Referee. "All in all, it was a clean-cut game, with very few causes for penalties. The Aggies put up a stubborn defense but did not play up to their form against Pullman last week."

TRAINING RULES STRICT

Both Cardinals and California Teams Prepare for Big Game. Cross-Country Run to Be November Event.

BY NORMAN ROSS. STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Palo Alto, Cal., Oct. 21.—(Special.)—The Cardinals are below the form of previous years. This much is admitted by those who saw the varsity struggle with the Berkeley High boys on Wednesday.

With the big game but three weeks away, Coach Floyd Brown is anything but eloquent over the situation. The news from Santa Clara is that Coach Charley Austin, ex-Stanford, has developed a fighting combination that never slows up till the final whistle blows.

Strict training rules are in effect at both schools, Stanford's training table being established Monday, with 13 men attending. Three weeks can work a wonderful change, however, and as soon as Brown plays the men in their positions with some degree of regularity, the supporters will begin to cheer.

It turned into a veritable gala day, the band, the fair supporters, and all a gigantic barbecue on the field at 4 o'clock ended the festivities.
