

HUGHES APPEALS TO FARMERS FOR VOTE

Need of Preparation to Meet European Competition After War Emphasized.

ADAMSON LAW ATTACKED

Candidate Says If He Is Elected President He Will Protect American Rights on Land and on Sea.

OGDENSBURG, N. Y., Oct. 28.

Charles E. Hughes told an audience here tonight that if he were elected President he would protect American rights on land and sea.

Mr. Hughes was speaking before a large audience here. Earlier in the day he had asserted that he did not believe you can buy the labor vote in his discussion of the purpose of the enactment of the Adamson law.

"We want material advancement. We want to have the greatest prosperity we can achieve, but it is a mistake to suppose that with nations, as with men, great development and success can be attained if there are low and unworthy ideals which dominate action."

"If I am elected we shall have an American Administration with no deflection to serve any ulterior interests and with no deflection of the purpose of bending to the policy of any foreign power for the purpose of meeting any foreign machinery of any sort whatever."

"I do not want to be President of a people that are not ready to give their all for their liberty, their land, their country that they love."

"Now arises some one to say that there have been those going through the land who have said a vote for me is a vote for war."

"The manifestations of interest which have greeted me today show beyond any question, as it seems to me, that we are marching steadily forward to a decisive victory on the 7th of November."

"We must take a view of the primary duty of this country. What is it? The very words suggest the answer. He is primarily the executive. It is not his function to barter; it is his function to govern."

"Self-Respect Put First. A vote for me is a vote for peace, but it is a vote for the maintenance of American rights and peace with honor, and lasting peace. What a mistake it is to suppose that we can conserve our peace and forfeit our self-respect."

"What can be thought of any nation that fails to understand and appreciate the dignity of its citizenship? It cannot command respect. It is sure to invite insult."

"If we want peace, we must have the confidence and esteem of other nations. They must respect us. There is no hope otherwise. We shall be driven here and there. We shall forfeit our reputation for competency and understanding of our position if we are not firm in the maintenance of known rights."

"There is no basis for the suggestion that we should be drawn into complications. All we need to do is assert in a manner that will be convincing, what our rights are, and those just rights, properly asserted, according to correct standards, will be recognized. With it, however, must be the recognition of courageous spirit which will make our flag the symbol of peace, of power that is not misused, but of security for American citizens, lawfully prosecuting their business wherever they may be."

"Mr. Hughes campaigned today among the farmers of Northern New York. He spoke chiefly on Republican policies affecting agriculture, subordinating other campaign issues to the tariff, the need for preparation to meet the competition of Europe after the war, and the Adamson law were the nominee's chief topics."

"Timidity Is Criticized. 'We shall accomplish nothing in this country unless we have the driving power of patriotic sentiment,' he declared. 'There is no future for a decadent people. We do not want war. I am amazed at the audacity of the assertion that a vote for me is a vote for war. I am a man devoted to peace. As I look forward to the future there is nothing that I more keenly desire

CALIFORNIA TURNS TOWARD HUGHES

Quickening of Republican Sentiment and Result Is Believed Sure.

POLL IS ENLIGHTENING

Johnson Certain to Go to Senate, Only Question Being Size of His Plurality—Wet and Dry Situation Is Puzzling.

BY HARRY B. SMITH.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 28.—A quickening of the interest that naturally marks the near approach of election day, and claims on both sides of approaching victory, make up the sum total of activities in California during the week gone by.

Mr. Faulkner has been procured to direct the band and as soon as the music starts active practice will begin. The men that signed up were: Cornelia, Edwin Payne, Millard Doughton, Warren Stabaugh, Dow Bratters and Walter Doughty; clarinets, William Kelly and Merrill Ohling; saxophones, Francis Howard and Walter Mills; alto, Kenneth Legee; basses, Bernard Morse and Victor Taylor; baritone, Dean Pollock; trombone, Harry Crisp; drums, Derrill Rexford.

Shrewd judges declare that California at the present writing is safely within the Republican fold and that apparently by a safe lead. Investigations have shown, so it is declared, that the labor vote is not so solid on the eight-hour law as was presumed to be the case, and in some instances has broken away from Wilson to Hughes.

This is particularly true among the railroad men and there is a growing feeling that the Adamson eight-hour bill is more or less political "bunk," to use a slang expression that fits the case. This is particularly true of those railroad men who work under a scale that means shorter working time than the eight-hour basis.

Republican interests have taken a poll of the state that is particularly comprehensive and the leaders are assured in consequence. The poll has been taken to reach all classes of people. After such a plan there has been a poll of various San Francisco districts; the two great valleys, San Joaquin and Sacramento, the mining regions and Southern California.

There is shown to be a growing undecurrent of feeling in favor of Hughes. As has been hinted, the same thing stands for the city and while the city will likely give Wilson a majority, it is not expected that it will be nearly as large as has been claimed.

Wagging on the eve of election has not changed materially from a week ago. There is plenty of Hughes backing at events that the Republicans will carry California. As is known, the enthusiastic Democrats are offering to wager even money Wilson will carry San Francisco by 12,000, which goes the setting of a week ago.

Republican headquarters assert that this confidence is misplaced. If it counts for anything, and sometimes straws show which way the wind is blowing, there is a healthier sentiment for Hughes in the moving picture houses where the candidate's face appears on the screen than earlier in the month. Three weeks ago, Hughes hardly had a handful of applause, while the appearance of Wilson on the screen was the signal for a hearty demonstration.

This week, as the writer can testify from his own experiences, Charles Evan Hughes was received in a fashion that might be considered extremely cordial.

So far as Hiram Johnson is concerned, it is simply a case of figuring how many votes he will receive. Already it is estimated he will lead Patton by 100,000 and perhaps far more. There has been no letup in the Governor's Senatorial campaign; he wants to make this as much of a personal triumph as is possible. His popularity seems to be growing and he will go into the Senate on a full tide.

Vote to Be Biggest in History. That California will turn out the greatest vote in the history of the state is the prediction of all hands. It is a Presidential year, and the popularity of Governor Johnson is another matter to be taken into consideration; the voters are urged to urge the voters out and the Democratic office holders, realizing it is up to them to make a showing, are doing their utmost to see that the registered vote goes to the polls in November.

Strangely enough the prohibition situation is as puzzling as it was the first of the month and no man has come forward with a prediction of any sort. It is quite generally conceded—even by the prohibitionists—that amendment No. 1, which would make illegal the manufacture of wines, beers and liquors, will fall of passage, but no one seems to know which way the vote is going to jump when it comes to amendment No. 2. This measure, as has been explained, will wipe out the saloons and force the bars out of clubs and restaurants. It will force those who care to drink to buy their liquid stimulants in two-gallon lots and take them to their homes.

UNIVERSITY TO HAVE BAND

Willamette Expects Organization of 20 Pieces Will Be Possible.

WILLAMETTE UNIVERSITY, Salem, Or., Oct. 28.—(Special.)—Plans are well under way for the re-organization of the university band which has been practically dissolved for the past two years.

A meeting was called for the past part of the week and 15 responded, and it seems certain that a band of at least 20 pieces will be organized within the next few days.

Mr. Faulkner has been procured to direct the band and as soon as the music starts active practice will begin. The men that signed up were: Cornelia, Edwin Payne, Millard Doughton, Warren Stabaugh, Dow Bratters and Walter Doughty; clarinets, William Kelly and Merrill Ohling; saxophones, Francis Howard and Walter Mills; alto, Kenneth Legee; basses, Bernard Morse and Victor Taylor; baritone, Dean Pollock; trombone, Harry Crisp; drums, Derrill Rexford.

BAKER COUNTY HOTBED

ELECTION EVEN OVERSHADOWS CROP'S SOARING PRICES.

Strong Hughes Vote Expected Though Community Is Democratic—Progressives With Republicans.

BAKER, Or., Oct. 28.—(Special.)—Baker County is finishing the National campaign in the greatest enthusiasm ever shown in a Presidential election since McKinley and Bryan contested over free silver and gold standards 20 years ago. Politics and issues of the campaign are practically the sole topic of discussion both in city and county, even overshadowing the soaring prices of the bumper grain crop in this vicinity.

Nominally this is a Democratic county and the Democrats are claiming it, some enthusiasts saying that it will slide their way by as high as 600, while those more conservative and probably nearer right think that if 100 or 200 majority is registered the party will do well. Republicans are not conceding this, however, for they claim a possibility of a strong Hughes vote, which has been silent but firm. Practically all the Progressives are with the Republicans and the combined vote of the two parties four years ago had a plurality of more than 400 over the Wilson vote. This lead must be overcome by the Democrats and Republicans say it will require more changes to Wilson by Republicans and Progressives than have been indicated on the surface.

Democrats started their campaign early in the Summer and whooped it hard. Republicans started early in the Fall and their followers have since been growing rapidly. Representative Sinsott will campaign for the Republicans in the county next week, starting at Haines Tuesday night, appearing at Sumpter Wednesday night and in Baker on Thursday night. These speakers probably will close the campaign in the county as far as outside speakers are concerned.

PURE RICH BLOOD PREVENTS DISEASE

Bad blood—that is, blood that is impure or impoverished, thin and pale, is responsible for more ailments than anything else.

It affects every organ and function. In some cases it causes catarrh; in others, dyspepsia; in others, rheumatism; and in still others, weak, tired, languid feelings and worse troubles.

It is responsible for run-down conditions, and is the most common cause of disease. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the greatest purifier and enricher of the blood the world has ever known.
