

HUGHES PARADE AS HELD IN SECTIONS

BIG CROWDS LINE AVENUE

Explosion of Flashlight Starts Rumor of Throwing of Bomb, but Result Is Not Serious and Hughes Is Unperturbed.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Charles E. Hughes closed his campaign for the Presidency in this city tonight with a big meeting at Madison-Square Garden. The speech he delivered was his fifth of the day and followed four in the open air in different parts of the city in the afternoon.

Before the night meeting Mr. Hughes rode at the head of a great torchlight procession called a "wheel of flame," the nine spokes of which converged on Fifth avenue. Many thousands of men, each carrying a flaming torch, were in line as the processions came together, one after another. So long was the parade that it was split into two sections, one of which marched up Fifth avenue and the other up Madison avenue to the Garden.

The broad avenues were filled with long ribbons of light as the Republican cohorts moved onward. Interspersed at frequent intervals were bands which played martial and patriotic airs. The car in which the candidate rode was the only automobile in line.

Flashlight Explosion Alarms. Much excitement was caused by an explosion in North street only a few feet from Mr. Hughes as he sat in his automobile waiting for one of the divisions of the parade to start. It was believed at first that a bomb had been hurled at the nominee, but Inspector Egan, of the Bureau of Combustibles, declared a photographer's flashlight powder caused the explosion. The only persons injured, the police said, were two newspaper men, who were slightly hurt.

With Mr. Hughes in his car were A. E. Hopburn and two detectives. The nominee did not seem perturbed by the incident and smilingly acknowledged the plaudits of the crowds through which he passed as the paraders moved on, it is stated.

A drizzling rain, which began falling just as the parade began, dampened somewhat the ardor of the demonstration which greeted the Republican candidate, but cheering crowds lined Fifth avenue from the line he passed under the Dewey Arch in Washington square.

Police Arrangements Improved. More adequate and elaborate police arrangements at Madison Square and in that vicinity prevented a repetition of the crush which greeted President Wilson Thursday night. The big building was comfortably filled at 7 o'clock, but most of the seats were unoccupied. Evidently wanted to see the parade before seeking admission. Every seat was taken, however, when the blare of bands heralded the candidate's coming.

Mrs. Hughes, accompanied by her three daughters, Catherine, Elizabeth, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Hughes, Jr., and several friends were among the early arrivals. They occupied a box in the center of the garden. The Columbus O., Republican Glee Club of 100 voices entertained the crowd inside the garden with patriotic songs prior to the arrival of the Presidential candidate.

William A. Prendergast, Controller of the city of New York, formally opened the meeting at 7:50 o'clock. Speaking of a re-united Republican party he referred to the "wonderful American," Theodore Roosevelt. Instantly the crowd began to cheer and the demonstration lasted several minutes.

Demonstration Lasts 40 Minutes. Mr. Hughes entered the hall at 9:15 while Governor Whitman was speaking. The Governor's speech was abruptly cut off by the cheering of the audience. The crowd then began to shout "Hughes, Hughes, Hughes; we want Hughes." The nominee waved a small flag. The crowd settled down after 15 minutes to a steady rhythm of "Hughes, Hughes, Hughes." The cheering had been going on for 35 minutes when Mrs. Hughes was escorted to the balcony beside her husband. At this the audience redoubled its noise. Charles E. Hughes, Jr., and his wife followed, then the nominee's daughters, so that the nominee's entire family was grouped around him.

At the end of 30 minutes the crowd had settled down to a steady stamping of feet in unison. A band played a verse of "Auld Lang Syne," and when it stopped the cheering and stamping began again.

A mammoth flag was unfurled from the ceiling, the band played the "Star-Spangled Banner" and the audience ceased cheering. Mr. Hughes was introduced at 9:55 o'clock after the demonstration had lasted 40 minutes.

"My voice is worn but my heart is stout and my confidence is complete that we are marching to a triumphant victory next Tuesday," began Mr. Hughes. "When I first heard your greeting it seemed to sound like a convention, but after a while I thought it sounded like an election."

National Prestige Desired. "It has been quite apparent for some time that the American people were about to record a very decisive conviction. I think I can forecast the determination which is to be recorded next Tuesday. I believe that the American people have determined that this Nation shall regain its international prestige and the rights of American citizens shall be protected throughout the world.

"The way to preserve peace is to deserve respect. It is idle for anyone to say that a criticism of the policies of the present Administration implies either a desire for war or a tendency to war. We propose that this Nation shall stand erect before the world with a conscious self-respect, prepared for every emergency, devoted to the ideals of justice, not truer, not threatening, but exhibiting firmness and consistency and indomitable spirit which will show that we mean what we say and that we say what we mean.

"We cannot maintain our peace if we let any nation be under an misapprehension as to the true sentiment of the United States. We ought not to permit misunderstandings of our true intentions and firm convictions. We should in that way merely aid in the creation of feelings which would indubitably breed resentment and in critical emergencies out would find that old spirit of American patriotism.

Unfit Men Merit Distrust. "I say to the American people that they cannot trust an administration which has permitted itself to place at the head of our great bureau of administration men conspicuously unfit

MONTANA WOMAN MAY BE FIRST OF HER SEX IN CONGRESS.

MISS JEANNETTE RANKIN.

CHICAGO, Nov. 4.—Managers of the Western Republican and Democratic National headquarters finished their work today and ended the National campaign in the territory under their direction, which embraces the States lying between Ohio and the Pacific Coast. Heads of departments in both headquarters left for their homes to vote next Tuesday. Alvin T. Hart, manager of Western Republican headquarters, issued his final statement on the outcome of the Presidential election, which reads as follows:

"Hughes and Fairbanks are sure to carry the following states, and thereby will secure a large majority in the Electoral college: Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware, West Virginia, Ohio, Kentucky, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa, Missouri, North Dakota, South Dakota, Kansas, Wyoming, Idaho, Utah, New Mexico, Washington, Oregon and California.

"The Republican ticket also probably will be successful in Nebraska. There is a good prospect of carrying in addition such so-called doubtful states as Colorado, Maryland, Montana, Nevada and Arizona."

Miss Jeannette Rankin decisively swept the state of Montana in the primaries for nomination for Congress on the Republican ticket. If she is elected she will be the Nation's first feminine Representative.

Here is the platform she expects will land her in Washington: National woman suffrage, child welfare, tariff revision, prohibition for state and National, greater publicity in Congressional records.

Miss Rankin is small, slight, with light brown hair—not red, so her friends say, rather heavily. She is a graduate of the University of Montana and of the School of Philanthropy of New York City. Congress would be greatly benefited by her beauty. Other accomplishments of Miss Rankin are the making of her own clothes—stunning ones, too—and her hats, and she is also an excellent cook.

to discharge the duties thus devolved upon them. "I think that the American people are about to record their dissatisfaction with the state of our industrial preparedness. I think that they are alive to the very serious situation in which we are placed at the time. It will not do to make light of it. It will not escape attention by various animus versions and destructive criticisms with regard to American business men."

Mr. Hughes referred in detail to the situation in Europe, reiterating his conviction that a protective tariff would be necessary to aid American industry in meeting commercial competition with Europe after the war.

"We are told that a tariff commission has been created. I believe in a tariff commission. But a tariff commission does not pass bills. Congress passes bills.

"Our opponents talk as though by creating an agency they had provided a remedy. They created an agency, which can be disregarded as they choose. Only today, in the face of these economic facts, did they engage thoughtful attention of the Administration, when every nation in Europe is adopting the protective principle.

"Let us not demagogue the subject with regard to the necessities of safeguarding the interests of American labor and American enterprise.

Class Bitterness Denounced. "I am not interested in a country devoted to the special prosperity of a few. That is not my conception of the aim of the administration of our country. I am interested in the welfare of the class bitterness, class antagonism and the lawful results of arraying group against group. I want him to take care that he does not stimulate that very class bitterness and class antagonism which is thus justly denounced.

Women's Leaders Summarize Result of Campaign—"Kept Us Out of War" Slogan Reacts Toward Campaign's Close.

CHICAGO, Nov. 4.—Managers of the Western Republican and Democratic National headquarters finished their work today and ended the National campaign in the territory under their direction, which embraces the States lying between Ohio and the Pacific Coast.

Headquarters left for their homes to vote next Tuesday. Alvin T. Hart, manager of Western Republican headquarters, issued his final statement on the outcome of the Presidential election, which reads as follows:

"Hughes and Fairbanks are sure to carry the following states, and thereby will secure a large majority in the Electoral college: Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware, West Virginia, Ohio, Kentucky, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa, Missouri, North Dakota, South Dakota, Kansas, Wyoming, Idaho, Utah, New Mexico, Washington, Oregon and California.

"The Republican ticket also probably will be successful in Nebraska. There is a good prospect of carrying in addition such so-called doubtful states as Colorado, Maryland, Montana, Nevada and Arizona."

Miss Harriet E. Vittum, director of the women's department at Western Republican National headquarters, issued the following statement analyzing the situation in the 12 woman suffrage states.

"The swing of the last 10 days to Mr. Hughes has been perhaps more noticeable in the women's departments than in the rest of the reports come daily from the 16 Western states, they are more and more convincing. Thousands of women who three weeks ago were accepting Mr. Wilson because they believed he had kept us out of war have been influenced by the presentation of facts and perhaps more than anything else by the statement of the judge-advocate of the Army that legally and technically we are at war.

"Out in Wyoming the 'kept-us-out-of-war' cry had its effect until a few weeks ago, when their own boys were ordered to the front in the doubtful column, but the women of those states had responded to the cry of their unenfranchised husbands. All gain Congressional seats in Arizona, Kentucky, California, Colorado, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Dakota, Tennessee, Utah, Washington, West Virginia, Georgia, and Hawaii.

"California early swung into line, and the women of that state, Republican and Progressive, are working together in a campaign for the election of Mr. Hughes."

The following statement was issued by John C. Everman, secretary of the Republican Congressional Campaign Committee, which has directed its fight for a Republican Congress from Chicago.

"The next House of Representatives will be Republican by a margin of at least 45. Most of the gains will come from the Western states. This estimate gives the Democrats the benefit of all doubtful districts. I have received reports indicating Republican will gain Congressional seats in Arizona, Kentucky, California, Colorado, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Dakota, Tennessee, Utah, Washington, West Virginia, Georgia, and Hawaii.

"Our hopes are high for victory for President Wilson. As the campaign draws to a close I think it will be conceded that one of the outstanding features of this Presidential election has been the fact that the woman vote is the balancing factor.

Women's Vote Held Decisive. "In many of the 12 voting states, notably Illinois, it is admitted that 'as women, so great is the state.' Illinois, perhaps to a greater extent than in any other state, the women have been and are the unknown quantity.

"Our literature dealing with President Wilson's record in keeping us out of war and his successful efforts to pass the child labor law and other humanitarian measures has been especially sought and our supply has not been able to keep up with the demand.

"Our reports, based on the best sources of information available, have been encouraging from the best states. At the very outset there was a marked drift of the Progressive women toward President Wilson. We have tried to grasp to these about President Wilson and his splendid record before the women voters and leave the rest to their understanding of the need of continuing his Administration."

Walsh Predicts Victory. Senator Thomas J. Walsh, manager of Western Democratic National headquarters, said his detailed tabulated prediction regarding the outcome of the election in the Western states had been incorporated in the statement issued by James C. McCormick, chairman of the Democratic National Committee in New York.

SHIPS SINK IN GALE

Two Steamers in Collision Off Coast of Ireland.

92 DROWNED, TWO SAVED

Storm Is One of Worst Ever Known in Irish Sea—Many Bodies Are Being Washed Ashore and Some Cattle Are Alive.

LONDON, Nov. 4.—In one of the worst gales ever known in the Irish Sea, the British steamship Connemara, with passengers and a cargo of cattle from Greenore, Ireland, for Holyhead, Wales, collided last night just outside the Carlingford bar with the British steamship Retriever, loaded with coal. Both vessels sank immediately. Ninety-two lives were lost. Only two persons, a member of the crew of the Retriever and a passenger on the Connemara, were saved. There were 50 passengers and a crew of 31 on board the Connemara and the Retriever's crew numbered 12.

Many bodies are being washed ashore on the Irish coast. Numbers of cattle are being washed up, some alive.

The Connemara, 1165 tons gross and 272 feet long, was built in Dumbarton in 1896.

The Retriever was 120 feet long, of 674 tons gross and was built in Greenore, Ireland, in 1909. She was owned by the West Coast of America Telegraph Company of London.

A steamer service is maintained by London & North-Western Railway between Holyhead, Wales, and Greenore, Ireland, a distance of about 80 miles across the Irish Sea.

Ocean Vessel Takes to Water at Superior, Wis.

SUPERIOR, Wis., Nov. 4.—Anna Konkel, 9-year-old daughter of Mayor and Mrs. J. S. Konkel, today christened the Cleveland, the first ocean vessel to be built at the head of the Lakes. Plans were made as soon as the vessel was off the ways for laying the keels of two more boats for unnamed owners. The Cleveland is to be operated by a Norwegian company. To get it in service this winter, it was launched without machinery and will be towed down the lakes ahead of the freeze-up, to be finished at Detroit.
