

JITNEY TO DECIDE FATE WEDNESDAY

Cars Can Accept or Reject City Regulation Intended to Protect Public.

BAKER ORDINANCE DUE

Operators Are Expected to Refuse Proposal and to Go Out of Business as Council Shows No Signs of Relenting.

Jitneys will become a thing of the past in Portland Wednesday unless between now and then they agree to comply with reasonable regulations as to service, safety and protection of the public, to be insisted on by members of the City Council.

"LAVENDER LADIES" HOLD CLUB MEETING FOR BUSINESS AND PLEASURE.

The Lavender Club met on Friday at the home of Mrs. C. E. Millen, 635 East Fifty-sixth street North. It was one of the merriest parties and meetings imaginable. The women of the club are all more than 50 years of age. One is 87, but all are young in spirit and know how to enjoy a meeting and a festivity. The club was organized two years ago. There are two divisions. One meets in the East Side Library and the other at the Peninsula Park clubhouse. Mrs. Cornelia Haynes is president of the latter club and Mrs. Burley of the former.

The members take box lunches and after the feast they have a business meeting. Then comes the social hour and the wind-up is a Virginia reel. Two other branches will be formed soon. Mrs. Burley was founder of the first club.

The Council has been waiting for several months for the jitneys to make a proposition. As they have failed to do this, the Council now proposes to tell them what they are having to do, and that they can take it or leave it alone.

City Commissioner Baker, who was authorized by the Council to prepare definite regulations, expects to have his propositions before the Council Tuesday. The proposals will incorporate the ideas of members of the Council expressed heretofore and other regulations which Mr. Baker deems advisable.

The Council's purpose is to frame a franchise which will place the jitney under regulations similar to those imposed on the streetcar company, the jitney and the streetcar being in the same business, and therefore being entitled to corresponding privileges.

Service Extension Probable. Commissioner Baker has not made public the terms of his proposed franchise as yet, but it is expected it will embody the general proposition of more extensive service, a transfer system and a bond of some sort so that persons injured by jitneys can recover damages. As the jitney is running now, the most of them have little or no responsibility, many of the cars not being their property and the drivers personally having little or nothing.

In the majority of other cities where jitneys are operating or have operated they are required to furnish a bond for the protection of passengers. The amount of the bond ranges from $500 to $10,000 for each jitney. The average for all cities is about $5000. Portland requires no such bond.

If the jitneys go out of business on Wednesday it will be merely the adding of another name to the long list of cities that have ousted them up to this time. It is said about 25 cities have put them out of business in the last two years.

DEMOCRATS MARCH TO TUNE OF CHANT

Banners Proclaim Success and Children Appear in Striking Costume, Some Carrying Flags—Most of Paraders Are Afoot.

Chanting "Four! Four! Four years more!" several hundred Democratic men and women paraded the downtown streets last night to celebrate the re-election of Woodrow Wilson. It was largely a parade of foot marchers, though there were a number of automobiles in line. Captain James P. Shaw was grand marshal, and marched on foot at the head of the procession.

His aides included W. E. Pinzer, Mark Holmes, B. N. Hicks, J. E. Neville, G. F. Livesley, Thomas J. Hammer, John A. Johnston, Charles E. Morgan, Harry Aldrich, Charles Miller, Jack Little, Robert Jacobs, Frank Berry, Charles M. Ross, R. M. Phillips, W. L. Rickman, George Watson and S. A. Morette.

Two Bands in Line. The paraders had two brass bands and Judge Samuel White, Democratic state chairman, and George F. Alexander, Democratic county chairman, rode in an auto near the head of the line.

The parade started at 8 o'clock from Broadway to Yamhill, moving north to Morrison, thence to Third, to Washington and west to Fourteenth, where it was supposed to disband.

Instead of disbanding, however, the paraders marched back to the Oregonian corner, at Sixth and Alder streets, where they interested in a noisy demonstration to the burning of red fire.

Presumably this was in celebration of the fact that the Oregonian's circulation field, including not only Oregon, but that part of Washington in which it circulates, went for Hughes.

Outside Towns Represented. The paraders included Democrats from outside towns as well as from Portland. Invitations to participate had previously been sent to Democrats in all towns as far as Corvallis, Eugene, Astoria and Pendleton, as well as in Vancouver, Wash.

Among the features of the parade were small boys and girls attired in striking costumes, and several groups carrying outspread American flags. There were also many banners.

One banner was worded: "Brains, Not Whiskers." Another carried the inscription: "Wilson Kept Hughes Out of Washington."

Still others bore the following inscriptions: "The Sun Still Shines at Shadow Lawn"; "The People Put Humanity Above the Dollar"; "Wilson Won Without Wall Street"; "Firm Americanism, With Wilson, Marshall & Co., as the Firm"; "California Got Wall Street's Goat"; "Open Out of 12 Women Voting States for Wilson"; "The West Comes Into Its Own With Wilson," and others.

Poles Thank Kaiser. BERLIN, Nov. 11.—(By wireless to Sayville, N. Y.)—Representatives of the League of Polish Commonwealth today forwarded to Emperor William through the Governor-General a telegram expressing thanks for the proclamation of the Polish kingdom which is described as a guarantee of the fulfillment of the most ardent national ambitions of the Poles.

A diaphragm and horn resembling a photograph have been invented to make telegraph relay instruments audible and save the use of additional sounders.

Simple Way to End Dandruff. There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, common liquid arvon from any drug store (this is all you will need), apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single grain and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.—Adv.

MAJOR'S COMMISSION WON

H. L. Harries, of Portland, Enters Officers Reserve Corps.

VANCOUVER BARRACKS, Wash., Nov. 11.—(Special.)—H. L. Harries, of Portland, manager and vice-president of the North Coast Power Company, which owns public utility properties in the Northwest, has won a commission as Major in the officers' reserve corps of the Army. He took his examinations here a little over a month ago, and the notification of his success in the exams was received here today.

Mr. Harries had three years' work at West Point, served a year and a half as an enlisted man in the regular Army, and also was a Lieutenant in the militia of the District of Columbia.

CROWBAR ROLLS GLASS EGG

Settlement of Freak Election Bet Attracts Crowd of 500.

It is easy to draw a crowd nowadays. Five hundred people gathered on Washington street last night to watch W. L. Brown, of Sherman, Clay & Co., roll a glass egg from Sixth to Broadway with a crowbar. The excitement started at 9:40 when the egg, propelled by gentle strokes of the crowbar, began to roll up Washington.

The people who were interested in seeing the egg roll from one street corner to another blocked the streets and the traffic was momentarily suspended. During the 15 minutes that the performance was under way, lines of street cars and automobiles were strung along Washington street waiting until the feat should have been performed.

Participants were worn by Mr. Brown, who stated "I bet on Hughes," while R. Mitchell, his companion, wore, "I bet on Wilson."

SLOUGH SPANS GOING UP

Last Steel Erection on Interstate Bridge Now Under Way.

VANCOUVER, Wash., Nov. 11.—(Special.)—The last steel erection work on the Interstate bridge is now under way. It is the placing of the five-girder spans across Columbia Slough, near Columbia boulevard. The placing of these spans was delayed by the destruction of one of the piers by shifting sands from the approach fill, and the adverse conditions preventing the immediate reconstruction of that pier.

Three weeks will be required to complete the spans, but this will be in time so that the entire approach may be opened when the main bridge is completed, and the approach paved.

AUTO DRIVER SENTENCED

Year in Penitentiary Is Penalty for Killing Woman.

SEATTLE, Nov. 11.—W. H. Englehardt, of Tacoma, who was convicted of manslaughter last month for careless driving of an automobile, whereby Mrs. Minnie Hogg was killed on the Pacific Highway, was sentenced today to one year's imprisonment in the state penitentiary.

At the trial witnesses testified that Englehardt was intoxicated, which he denied, saying he had taken only three drinks.

KEEPS KIDNEYS ACTIVE WITH A GLASS OF SALTS

Must Flush Your Kidneys Occasionally if You Eat Meat Regularly.

Noted Authority Tells What Causes Backache and Bladder Weakness.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which clogs the kidney pores so they sluggishly filter or strain only part of the waste and poisons from the blood, then you get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which all regular meat eaters should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.—Adv.
