Mrs. Frank Bernes GROVE-PRATT

Miss Fanny Chamberlain, who accompanied her father to Washington D.C.

o'clock. Dr. Max Cushing will talk on his readings, discussing the original translations of dramas and stories.

Red Cross teas are gaining in popularity daily as the winter season advances. Several have been given recently by prominent women, among whom are Mrs. John G. Edwards. She opened the week's festivities with a Red Cross tea on Monday, which was attended by a large gathering of matrons and maids.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Bowles and daughter, Marion, will leave today for a month's visit in New York.

Interesting in every particular is the annual pre-Thanksgiving sale to be held by the board of directors and members of the Woman's Exchange on Tuesday. Tea will be served at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, and the table will be presided over by Mrs. Walter F. Burrell, Mrs. Harry Nunn, Mrs. John G. Edwards and Mrs. Allen Lewis.

Delicious jams, jellies, cookies, candies, cakes and many other delicacies will be furnished by the members of the Exchange from their choice recipes, as well as many wonderful articles of handicraft. These will be in addition to the regular splendid and large assortment of articles submitted by consignors, and the proceeds from the sale will go toward maintaining the fund for the consignors. Tables should be reserved as early as possible, as the sales always call forth a large attendance of purchasers.

A number of charming young girls will assist at tea time, and the event promises to be notable in every particular.

Miss Harriette Post, a charming young belle of Spokane, was formally presented to society by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Post, on Friday night, at a large and brilliant dance.

Miss Post is a charming girl and has visited in this city at different times. She is well known among the younger set of Portland. She was graduated from a fashionable finishing school in the East last June and is one of the popular and attractive maids of Spokane.

Mrs. Max Houser and Miss Mabel Neal are sojourning at Hotel Biltmore, in New York, where they will be joined by Mr. Houser shortly. The party will participate in the gaieties of the big metropolis and also visit in Buffalo before returning to their home here.

An event of vast importance in the musical field as well as society circles of this city is the vocal recital to be given this afternoon at Hotel Multnomah by Miss Caroline Lowengart at 4 o'clock. J. Hutchinson, the eminent pianist, will accompany the charming songbird.

Thursday's opening of the "Garden of Allah" at the Helbig Theater was one of the most notable events of the week and was responsible for the sudden burst of gaiety that enveloped society the latter half of the week. Many dinner parties and supper parties were arranged subsequent to the theatrical offering, important among which were those for which Mr. and Mrs. Lucius Allen Lewis were hosts, the dinner being at their attractive home, and the party later occupying a box at the Helbig. Their guests were Mr. and Mrs. William H. Warren, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ladd Corbett.

For a large dinner and box party Mrs. W. Burke Channing, a charming young matron of New York, was hostess at Hotel Portland. The party, numbering 18, occupied three boxes at the Helbig. Seated around the daintily appointed dinner table were Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Shevlin, Mr. and Mrs. Alma D. Katz, Mr. and Mrs. William Orange Van Schuyler, Dr. and Mrs. George A. Marshall, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar K. Menese, Mr. and Mrs. Walter F. Burrell, Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Burke, Mrs. Channing, her sister, Miss Blanch Burke, and brother, William Burke, Jr., and Jordan Zan.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Hirsch were hosts for a box party and Mr. and Mrs. Fremont Orlando Downing also entertained with a box party, preceded by a dinner party at the Portland.

A number of other well-known folk shared boxes with friends or made up line parties in the pit of the theater for the different performances. The sole was arranged for the occasion, the boxes added materially to the artistic play and made of the occasion a very brilliant one.

Miss Hazel Hall's sale and tea yesterday at the Hotel Portland proved one of the most delightful attractions of the week. It was attended by hundreds of prominent women eager to purchase the beautiful handiwork for which Miss Hall long has been noted. For a number of years she has been an invalid, but is remarkably clever which occurred recently, was not only a great grief but also seriously handicapped her finances, and yesterday's sale was arranged by Mrs. Harrison G. Platt to assist the plucky little girl in her efforts to earn her livelihood. Prominent society women, old friends of the Hall family, gladly availed themselves of the opportunity to secure some of Miss Hall's exquisite work and several of her importations. A feature of the affair was the graceful and artistic interpretative dancing by Miss Katherine Ladd, who contributed her services for the occasion. The pretty tea table was presided over by Mrs. Wheelwright, Mrs. A. E. Rocky and Mrs. Harrison G. Platt. They were assisted by Mrs. J. Westcott Ladd, Mrs. Joseph N. Teal, Miss Ella Stephens, Miss Ruth Teal, Miss Helen Platt, Miss Charlotte Ladd, Mrs. Allen Pendleton Noyes, Mrs. Jacob Gray Kamm, Miss Martha Hoyt, Miss Ethel Malcolm, Miss Evalina Magruder, Miss Elizabeth Jacobs, Miss Amy Robinson, Miss Dorine Wyld and Miss Katherine Hoyt.

A dinner and box party was given Friday night by Mr. and Mrs. John G. Edwards, the former at their home and the box party at the Helbig. Their guests were Mr. and Mrs. Peter Kerr, Dr. and Mrs. A. E. Rocky, Judge and Mrs. Charles H. Carey, Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Adams, Miss Failing and Hugh Hume.

Mr. and Mrs. James P. O'Brien were hosts Friday night for an informal dinner complimentary to Alexander A. McDonnell, of Chippewa Falls, who passed the week here.

Owing to pressure of business matters attendant on the Christmas party, the meeting of the Association of Collegiate Alumnae scheduled for Saturday will not be held.

The energy and enthusiasm of the members are being expended on the Christmas party which will be held the evening of December 16 in the ballroom of Hotel Portland. This party promises to be the most unique affair that this association has given. The performance will take place in the auditorium of the hotel with the guests seated in a circle ready to take part. Besides the singing of Christmas carols and the presentation of a prize to the winners of a play, "St. George and the Dragon," there will be old-fashioned English plays, "London Bridge," "Morris dances," the bear's head procession, and many other features of the early English celebrations.

Miss Dorothy Gilbert is chairman of the dramatic committee, Miss Elizabeth Burrows the pageant, and Miss Frances Gee the chorus, while Mrs. McCollister is in charge of the evening's pleasure in the proceeds of the scholarship which the association maintains at the State University.

Mr. and Mrs. John E. Latourette were entertained on Monday night by Mr. and Mrs. Dennison Clark with a dinner party, additional guests being Mr. and Mrs. Paul C. Giesy, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Green, Miss Katherine Hart and Alan Green.

Mr. and Mrs. Latourette (Sally Austin Clay) have only recently returned from their wedding trip and are temporarily domiciled at Portland Hotel.

Honoring Mrs. W. Burke Channing, Mrs. Walter F. Burrell entertained Thursday with a charming luncheon at her home, covers being placed for 12.

Friday Mrs. Kenneth Beebe asked a number of young matrons and maids to tea to meet her sister-in-law. It was a charming affair, the tea table being presided over by Mrs. Marion P. Dolph. The guests were Mrs. Beebe, Mrs. Guy Webster Talbot, Mrs. Jacques Andre Foulhoux, Mrs. Marion Dolph, Mrs. William H. Lines, Mrs. Clifton N. McArthur, Mrs. John Kerr, Mrs. Lewis A. McArthur, Mrs. Gerald Beebe, Mrs. J. R. Bowles, Mrs. Fred Strong, Mrs. Chester Murphy, Mrs. Herbert Nichols, Miss Isabella Gaud, Mrs. Donald Munro, Mrs. F. W. Grelle, Miss Eliza Grelle, and Mrs. Fran' Warren, Jr.

Miss Ruth Teal was a luncheon hostess Friday, complimenting Mrs. John Randolph Latourette (Sally Clay), formerly of Seattle, covers being placed for 10. The table was decked artistically with bronze chrysantheums and was circled by Mrs. Latourette, Mrs. Maurice E. Crumacker, Mrs. W. Dennison Clark, Miss Katherine Hart, Mrs. David Milton Clay, Miss Rhoda Rumell, Miss Isabella Gaud, Miss Cornelia Cook, Miss Nancy Zan and the hostess.

A merry children's party was given yesterday afternoon at the Waverly Country Club by Mrs. Sherman R. Hall, which was participated in by 30 little girls and boys. Games, dancing and a feast of goodies were the diversions of the afternoon.

A number of the graduates of Miss Porter's school at Farmington were the guests of Mrs. Henry Coultter Cabell and Mrs. Lucius Allen Lewis on Friday at a charming luncheon at the University Club. It was a reunion of the students of the famous old school, the same day being set aside each year in New York for a reunion of the students. Covers were placed at the luncheon table for Mrs. Mary Trevett, Mrs. W. H. Nunn, Miss Lucy Trevett, Mrs. Stephen Penrose, of Walla Walla, who was the guest of Mrs. Cabell for the day; Mrs. Margaret Burrell Biddle, Mrs. Charles F. Beebe, Mrs. William L. Brewster, Mrs. Herman N. Burpee, Mrs. Sherman R. Hall, Mrs. Gordon Voorhies, Mrs. Lee Hawley, Hoffman and the hostesses.

Interest of the college set and their numerous friends centered in the
