LINN COUNTY FORMS ROADS ASSOCIATION

Move Is Launched at Albany to Submit New Oregon Code to Next Legislature.

STATE MEETING PROPOSED

Portland Is Selected and Date Set for December 13—Systematic and United Improvement Efforts Are Object.

ALBANY, Or., Nov. 25.—(Special.)—Plans for the formation of a state good roads association to prepare and submit to the next Legislature a new road code for Oregon, with a view to systematic road improvement throughout the entire state, were launched at a meeting held in Albany today.

Today's meeting was called for the purpose of forming an association in this county, and this result was accomplished, but the movement assumed a state-wide scope when the need of a new road code for Oregon was pointed out, and owing to the nearness of the legislative session it was determined to call a state meeting at once.

Today's meeting was attended by delegates from all of the precincts of Linn County. They were chosen in meetings held in each precinct following a preliminary convention held here recently, when it was determined to form an organization with a view toward studying methods whereby roadbuilding could be put on a more systematic basis.

Harrisburg Man President. Rex W. Davis, of Harrisburg, was elected president of the Linn County Association; N. S. Allen, of Jefferson, first vice president; A. W. Cornack, of Tangent, second vice president; A. C. Schmitt, of Albany, treasurer, and John R. Penland, of Albany, secretary.

A resolution was adopted declaring that the purpose of the association was to study road-building methods, providing that the association should be controlled by 29 directors from the 29 road districts in Linn County, and that the membership fee would be $1 per year.

A resolution was passed declaring that some definite and uniform scheme of road construction affecting the state as a whole was needed in Oregon, there being many road associations today, each working toward different ends.

Portland Meeting Planned. In order to present to the Legislature a road bill that has the approval of all sections of the state, the resolution provides that the Linn County Association shall endeavor to arrange for a meeting of representatives of the different road associations with the County Judge and Commissioners' Association at Portland during their session there next month.

It is further planned to hold a second meeting early in January, when the bills during discussion of the bill. Other matters discussed and approved by the meeting were for the closing of the season on steelhead from November 1 to April 1, for protecting Chinese pheasants of the valley and to provide a more strict deer law.

Leon Edward Justin, Restaurant Man, Who Died Yesterday.

Leon Edward Justin, probably the best-known pioneer of the restaurant trade in Portland, died yesterday morning at 2:30 at his home, 115 Union avenue North. Death followed a stroke of paralysis, caused by injury to the spine.

Justin was born in Bordeaux, France, November 2, 1852. He came to the United States when only 3 years of age and his father was for a time connected with the hotel business in San Francisco. He was married at LaGrange, Cal., previous to coming to Portland.

He is survived by his widow, Lavina Justin, and a daughter, Miss Alice D. Justin, well-known contralto singer. Funeral services will be held today at 1:30 from Holman's chapel. Final rites will be at the Portland Crematorium Monday, and will be private.

Contract Held at Cascade Locks. During the years 1884 and 1885 Mr. Justin had charge of what was known as the Government messhouse at Cascade Locks, having a contract for feeding the men employed by the Government in building the locks.

It was while he was there that heavy snows caused a blockade and two passenger trains were held up. Mr. Justin came to the rescue and for a time fed 700 people at a time. He was thereby preventing the stranded travelers and the residents of that vicinity. For his work in that crisis citizens of the city of Portland rewarded Mr. Justin with a handsome watch.

Restaurants Are Opened Up. After his return from the Cascade Locks Mr. Justin opened up a restaurant at Fourth and Morrison streets, known as "Justin's Java." This was one of the most famous restaurants of that time. After conducting the restaurant with Mrs. Justin for 14 years he opened a new place on Fifth, between Alder and Morrison streets.

After six years at that location he moved to the Hotel Scott, at Broadway and Ash streets, and later to the southeast corner of Seventh and Alder streets, where he established "Justin's Restaurant."

Health Poor in Later Years. During the past few years Mr. Justin had been unable to give his business
