ONE OF THE WEEK'S BRIDES AND HER ATTENDANT

Mrs. Harry Nudelmann, (Irene Collins) Groom - Bride.

Mrs. G. Waldman of San Francisco

that she is giving up her residence in this city is the source of deep regret to her friends. However, her visits to her home will be looked forward to with pleasure. She is the only daughter of the late Colonel Jackson, whose death recently occurred here.

Friends of Mrs. Konrad Delbrueck (Miss Koehler) are extending a cordial greeting to her on her return to Portland from Germany. Mrs. Koehler and little daughter Malda arrived in town early last week, and will remain indefinitely with Mrs. Koehler's parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Burns have returned from a trip which included the Eastern cities, the former having made a flying trip abroad, in the interests of his business. Mrs. Burns, who was accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. Thomas Robertson, passed the time in New York, entering in the social gaieties of the Metropolis.

A group of friends enjoyed with Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ladd Corbett a delightful paper chase on foot Thanksgiving day, the puzzling rambles course being laid out over the hills and through the woods surrounding the Corbett place, Dunthorpe, near Oswego. The chase ended with a delicious and elaborate luncheon in the attractive residence of the hosts.

The annual sale and tea of the Women's Exchange, which was held Tuesday, was a notable event. Dozens of women thronged the pretty exchange during the hours chosen for the affair and many handsome articles were purchased and laid away for Christmas gifts. The sale was a special Thanksgiving one and consisted of articles donated by the directors and members of the Exchange. Serving at the tea table were: Mrs. Lucius Allen Lewis, Mrs. John G. Edwards, Mrs. Harry Nunn and Mrs. Walter F. Burrell. Several charming girls assisted in the dining-room.

A number of the younger set who are members of the Wednesday Night

Miss Elizabeth Malbosof, the Misses Diamond, Miss Mary Burns, Miss Gladie Burns, Miss Emily Cook and Miss Mary Cook. Richard Wilder is chairman of the floor committee, which includes: E. C. Menar, Frank Branch Riley, John Cronin, Charles E. Berger, Chester Griffen Murphy, Maurice E. Crumpacker, Irving L. Webster, Leland L. Smith, Maurice Dooly, Harry Stevens, Alan Green, Colin Livingston and Jervis E. Stephenson.

Society responded to the call of the most exhilarating and exciting game in the history of sports on Friday night when the hockey season opened at the big Ice Palace. The huge field was circled by a glittering ring of enthusiastic spectators, who were enveloped with luxurious furs and wraps and riotously applauded the goal makers. The brilliant uniforms of the "Canaries," as the Spokane team is known, made a striking contrast to "Uncle Sam's" more subdued colors. The swish and clank of ice skates was the signal for spirited discussions as to who would win and as many old favorites appeared in both teams, it was a difficult matter for the fair maids, who are devotees of the hockey game, to temper their enthusiasm when either side scored.

This opening of ice hockey has long been awaited by Portland society, especially the younger set, who are as eager for this amazing dashing game as the players. There were many box and line parties with the younger set acting as hostesses and these were preceded by dinner parties. Outside blinked the scintillating eyes of hundreds of motor cars and the hustle and bustle created an atmosphere that is only equaled by a big first night at grand opera.

As the opening of the series came during the Thanksgiving holidays, many of the nearby colleges were well represented. It was truly a gala night and one of the most spirited in the week's social calendar.

Another fair debutante to join the list of brides-to-be, is Miss La Yelle Young, niece of Mrs. D. C. Young. Her engagement to Frank Wellington Gilbert was made known yesterday at a charming luncheon by Mrs. Charlton, the guests including close friends of the bride-elect. Seated around the prettily decked table were Miss Young, Misses Mary Warrack, Marie Walker, Ruth Old, Mrs. Fraley, Antonine Mcra, V'ona Guthrie, Louise Caswell, Helen Honeyman, Esther Birrell, Katherine Twomey, Mrs. J. Russell Coffey and the hostess, Mrs. Charlton.

Miss Young was graduated from Portland Academy and has been making her home with her aunt for some years. Mr. Gilbert is a son of the late E. N. Gilbert, of this city. He is a Yale graduate, class of June, 1915.

The wedding will be a notable event of the Spring and Mr. Gilbert will take his bride to New Haven to make their home.

Miss Grace Kerns entertained on Friday night with an informal dinner honoring Miss Mary Meldrum in the dining room of the Hotel Multnomah. The affair was a dinner party at the Kern residence in Irvington followed by a box party at the Hillier Theater.

Miss Eleanor Vincent, of Pendleton, only daughter of Dr. Fred W. Vincent, of Pendleton, caused a ripple of excitement among her relatives and friends when her marriage to Theodore von Arnieler, of Salt Lake City, was solemnized on Tuesday. Not one of the members of the family or close friends had a suspicion of the approaching event and consequently her news was a genuine surprise. The bride passed four years studying music in Vienna, where she met her husband, who is a native of Austria. He is the son of Judge von Arnieler, of Vienna, and is now in the wholesale musical instrument business in Salt Lake City, where he and his bride will make their home. Mrs. von Arnieler frequently has visited in this city and is a sister of Fred Vincent and several other prominent residents of Portland. She has a host of friends here who will be interested in this announcement.

Miss Marjorie Hausman and mother, Mrs. Henry Hausman, are now planning to leave for the West, where the former will resume her vocal studies.

Mrs. Henry W. Metzger also will pass the winter in New York, city, in connection with one of the eminent teachers there. She left with her mother, Mrs. Marcus Fleischer, Saturday. Mrs. Metzger has a wonderful voice and has frequently been heard in this city, as she is most generous in contributing to philanthropic affairs. She is a popular socially and will be greatly missed from the season festivities.

Mrs. J. Coulson Hare and Mrs. W. B. Hare will be joint hostesses on Tuesday for a bridge party, which is one of the series they are giving this season.

Congratulations are being showered upon Mr. and Mrs. Ralph E. Williams, on the advent of a daughter, Wednesday morning. This is their second child, the first being a son named for his esteemed father, who is Republican National committeeman for Oregon.

Thanksgiving dinner parties were the main diversions of the week, in most instances being family reunions. Mr. and Mrs. William MacMaster were hosts for one of the largest of these. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wilder, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wilder, Mr. and Mrs. Noyes, Mr. and Mrs. John S. Napier, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Morison, Mrs. Hazel B. Litt, Misses Katherine Holbrook, Alina MacMaster, Frederick Ames, Leland L. Smith, Robert Magill, Searles Bragg and MacCormac Snow.

Mr. and Mrs. Osker E. Huber were hosts for a family party, Tuesday, and Mrs. A. E. Rocky also entertained various members of their family at dinner. Mrs. S. D. Smith was another hostess for a family dinner, Wednesday, and Mrs. Charles F. Beebe asked their family and additional friends to dine with her on Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. A. Wood entertained relatives at a large dinner party; Mrs. Helen Ladd Corbett was hostess for a family gathering; Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Ayer also were hosts, and the C. E. S. Woods had their large family with them for the holiday feast.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Henry Davis, of St. Paul, arrived early in the week to visit their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Henry Davis, Jr., over the Thanksgiving season.

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Gilman and daughter, Miss Alice Gilman, returned recently from a trip to Honolulu and left for Seattle for a short visit with friends.

It is rarely that a church bazaar is anticipated with such eagerness and pleasure as the Trinity Guild annual bazaar. It will be an event of Thursday at the Parish Hall and will call forth a large attendance of prominent women from all over the city. The bazaar is noted for its marvelous display of articles and delicacies. This year an innovation has been introduced—serving luncheon from 11:30 until 1 o'clock. Mrs. Warren E. Keeler is chairman of this committee and will be assisted by Mrs. A. A. Morrison. The morning will be charge of the tea party which will mark the afternoon. This year's assortment of articles surpasses any yet introduced.

Mrs. William Gadsby was hostess for the members of her bridge club on Monday for a luncheon. Covers were marked for 15, and the afternoon was devoted to bridge. Card honors fell to Mrs. Frank A. McCullis and Mrs. McKinley Mitchell.

At a charming tea for which Mrs. W. J. Hawkins was hostess Friday afternoon the engagement of Miss Ruth Cornelia Fraley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Fraley, to Mr. William Eldon Furnish, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Jeffers Furnish, was announced. The bride-elect, who is called to greet the young bride-elect and were received by Mrs. Hawkins, Miss Fraley and Miss Margaret Hawkins, daughter of the bridegroom's uncle. The drawing-room, which was filled with the prettily gowned women, was attired in the most charming and festive atmosphere, similar blossoms adorning the library and hall. In the dining-room a golden color scheme was developed with yellow chrysanthemum, and the tea table was presided over by Mrs. Stewart J. Moore, sister of the bridegroom-to-be, and Miss Eleanor McClain, Silverton. They were assisted by Misses Myrtle Smith, Louise Manning, Julia Platt and Bernice Lucas, all college graduates of the bride-elect.

Miss Fraley was graduated from the University of Oregon and is a popular Kappa Alpha Theta fraternity girl. Mr. Furnish attended Stanford University and joined the Chi Psi fraternity. The wedding will be a smart event of December 28.

Yesterday Miss Myrtle Smith entertained in honor of Miss Fraley with a linen shower.

Mrs. Evva L. Nickum and W. U. Sanderson, formerly of Australia and now of Portland, were quietly married Saturday, November 18, at the residence of Washington. Mrs. Nickum has been teaching dancing at Hotel Nortonia and is a charming young woman.

The wedding was very simple, the couple being unattended. They at once returned to Portland and are at home in the Nortonia.

Mr. and Mrs. August von Roosendaal entertained with a delightful dinner at Hotel Portland Tuesday in celebration of their second wedding anniversary. Covers were placed for ten at a table decked with violets and Cecil Brunner presided in the main dining room, permitting the guests to enjoy the dancing. Corsage bouquets marked places for Misses Dorothy Strowbridge, Nancy Zan, Miss Myrtle Smith, Zola Parker and Henry Goode, Claire Charman, Clark Burgard, Jack White and the hosts.

The Pan-Hellenic Association cleared more than $200 from its bazaar last week.

A farewell reception was given Rev. William G. Moore and family November 22 at the Mount Tabor Presbyterian Church. Miss Charlotte Sherlock, the well-known young violinist, played a selection. Duets by the Edwert sisters, Marie Stewart and Lucille Howell were enjoyed. Dr. John H. Boyd gave the assembly a cheery talk.

Dr. S. H. Montgomery and others also gave addresses. S. W. Lawrence presented Dr. Moore with resolutions and a gift. A set of silversware was given to Mrs. Moore. Then Dr. Moore spoke a few words. Madames Fleck, Dentler and Walker presided over the punchbowl.

Dr. Moore and family left by boat for Stockton early Saturday morning. A delightful "Thanksgiving dinner party" was that given by Mr. and Mrs. (Continued on Page Four.)

Because "Liebes" stands for superiority on furs, it does not necessarily mean that they are costly!
