

FIGHT ON FOGARTY CARRIED TO WILSON

J. D. Trenholme Says Defeat of Democrats Is Due to Leadership of Party.

REMOVAL OF TWO ASKED

Customs and Internal Revenue Collectors Are Declared to Have Been Responsible for Loss of Senator and Representatives.

SEATTLE, Wash., Dec. 2.—(Special.)

J. D. Trenholme, who recently demanded that John B. Fogarty resign as chairman of the Democratic State Committee, has carried his fight to the National Capital. He has filed formal charges against Roscoe M. Drumheller, collector of Customs, formerly of Walla Walla, and David J. Williams, of Tacoma, collector of Internal Revenue. Trenholme asks President Wilson to remove both officials because of what he terms their pernicious political activity and violation of department orders forbidding appointees to take part in factional politics.

Seven specific charges are made against the two Federal officials, and Mr. Trenholme adds a lengthy statement reviewing each of the charges. The split in the Democratic party is declared to be responsible for the loss of at least two seats in the lower house of Congress and to be partly responsible for the defeat of George Turner, Senatorial nominee.

Another Active Worker Exempt. No attack is made on Henry M. White, immigration commissioner, who also was active in the fight that made Fogarty state chairman.

After formally setting up the seven reasons why he wants Mr. Williams and Mr. Drumheller removed from office, Mr. Trenholme goes into the situation in a direct appeal to President Wilson filed this week, and which reads:

In May, 1916, the Democrats of the state of Washington held their state convention in the city of North Yakima. At that time and place the above-named Federal officials were the most active delegates present, attempting to foist the candidacy of John B. Fogarty for National committeeman on the delegates there assembled. Their activities in his interest were incessant and notoriously scandalous.

Orders Violated, He Says. During the weeks prior to the state convention, in direct violation of orders from their superior officials they combed the state of Washington to secure pledges from county delegations for the support of their candidate.

As a result of a protest among the delegates at the state convention a conference was held by the leaders there assembled, which resulted in the election of Hon. Hugh C. Wallace in place of Mr. Fogarty as National committeeman, with the definite understanding that when the state committee met in September a progressive Democrat, satisfactory to Ernest Lister and George Turner, candidates for Governor and United States Senator respectively, would be chosen as chairman of the Democratic State Committee.

Further Intimidation Charged. The Democratic State Convention subsequently met in Seattle on September 29, 1916, for the purpose of selecting a chairman of the state committee to conduct the National and state campaign, when these two Federal officials above named appeared on the scene and duplicated their activity at the state convention by again intimidating and coercing members of the state committee to vote for John B. Fogarty as state chairman, disregarding the above mentioned understanding at North Yakima.

At this meeting of the Democratic State Committee Collector of Customs Roscoe M. Drumheller, head of the voted proxies of five members of the state committee, and Collector of Internal Revenue D. J. Williams cast his own vote as a member of the state committee and besides voted one proxy.

Threats Are Alleged. Collector of Customs Drumheller stated to R. W. Starr, member of the state committee from Okanogan County, who had repeatedly stated that he would not vote for Mr. Fogarty for state chairman, that if he did not cast his vote at the meeting of the state committee for Mr. Fogarty for state chairman he would not be appointed to the position of Registrar of Land Office, a Federal position to which Mr. Starr aspired.

Collector of Customs Drumheller also told C. L. Holcomb, representing Benton County, that if he did not vote for Mr. Fogarty for state chairman, a certain postoffice appointment which he desired for a friend of his in his county would be placed in Fogarty.

Collector of Customs Drumheller also warned United States Attorney Clark Allen, and practically threatened the security of his position as United States Attorney unless he lined up with the other Federal officials behind the candidacy of Mr. Fogarty. This United States Attorney Allen refused to do.

Candidates Reported Against. Expressions were obtained from George Turner, United States Senator, Ernest Lister, Governor, George Cotterill, candidate for Congress from the Willamette Valley, and other candidates, and every one of them, with but a single exception, vigorously opposed a selection of Mr. Fogarty and expressed a choice for Julius Ritter as state chairman, the man tentatively agreed upon at North Yakima.

Senator George Turner pleaded with these officials not to break the agreement made with the rank and file at North Yakima, but these Federal officials openly stated that their reappointment to the positions which they now occupied was more important to them than the election of a Democratic Senator or Democratic Congressman from the state of Washington, and consequently they were supporting a man for state chairman that they could depend upon to reappoint them to the President for reappointment.

Fogarty Elected by One Vote. Therefore, when the state committee took a vote on the candidates for state chairman, on account of the pernicious activity of these two Federal officials as leaders, and on account of the above mentioned threats Mr. Fogarty was elected by a vote of 19 to 12.

Immediately upon the selection of John B. Fogarty as state chairman, Governor Lister, who was a candidate for re-election, repudiated the selection of Mr. Fogarty and declared that his selection was procured by coercion and threats by Federal officials, trickery, broken promises and violated pledges, and that as Mr. Fogarty was not in sympathy with the progressive ideas of the Governor the latter could not recognize Mr. Fogarty in the conduct of his campaign for re-election.

Governor Lister immediately appointed his own campaign manager and selected a campaign committee of his own, which successfully conducted the Governor's campaign for re-election.

As a result of the election of Mr. Fogarty as state chairman the campaigns of the Congressmen and the campaign of Senator Turner were left for the individual candidates to make themselves and Senator Turner feel that this pernicious political activity on the part of these Federal officials in selecting a state chairman primarily for their own benefit and in disregard of the interests of the candidates for elective positions, is largely responsible for the state not electing several Democrats to Congress.

Another Active Worker Exempt. No attack is made on Henry M. White, immigration commissioner, who also was active in the fight that made Fogarty state chairman.

5 LINN CITIES TO ELECT

BALLOTING FOR MUNICIPAL OFFICERS TAKES PLACE TOMORROW.

ALBANY, Lebanon, Scio, Sweet Home and Sodusville Will Vote to Fill Various Offices.

ALBANY, Or., Dec. 2.—(Special.)—Five Linn County cities will hold municipal elections on Monday. Some will choose a full complement of city officers, while others will fill only a few offices.

Three Councilmen are the only officers to be chosen in Albany and there is no opposition to the three men whose terms expire. They are P. D. Leigh, of the First Ward; W. C. Tweedale, of the Second, and Henry Lyons, of the Third. The other members of the Council and all of the elective city officers were chosen a year ago for two-year terms.

Chief interest in the election in Albany centers in three measures on the ballot. Two of these, submitted by the Council, are proposed charter amendments relating to bond issues to cover warrant indebtedness, and the third is an ordinance providing for an appropriation to remodel the old Central School building for use as a City Hall.

Lebanon will elect a City Recorder, a City Treasurer and one Councilman from each of the three wards in the city. For City Recorder, S. O. Wallace, who was appointed by the Council to serve out the unexpired term of Rev. W. A. Atkins, is opposed by C. H. Wiley, and Rev. Charles E. Bennett. R. Wayne Greene is unopposed on the ballot as a candidate for re-election as City Treasurer.

Scio will elect a full set of city officers. W. A. Ewing and P. T. Thayer are opposing candidates for Mayor. J. S. Sticha has no opposition for re-election as City Recorder, and Roy W. Shelton is unopposed for Treasurer. There are three candidates for Marshal. Seven Councilmen are to be chosen from a field of 19 candidates.

Sodusville will also hold city elections Monday.

TWO-PERIOD PLAN PRAISED

Hogquam School Head to Speak at Portland Convention.

HOGQUAM, Wash., Dec. 2.—(Special.)—Superintendent McDonnell, of the Hogquam public schools, is to be a speaker before the superintendents' section of the Oregon State Teachers' Association convention in Portland January 29, on the topic of the "Double Period System in the High School."

Hogquam High School, at the direction of Superintendent McDonnell, is the second school in the Northwest to adopt the double period. The plan amounts to supervised study. In the place of the time being devoted practically entirely at school to recitations, half the time is devoted to recitations, and half to study under the direction of instructors. The pupils are taught how to study, and has little chance to shirk his lesson. Superintendent McDonnell said the system has raised efficiency in the Hogquam school, and made failures practically impossible.

exhibits far surpassed those of any previous year, and the attendance broke all records. The annual exhibition held large crowds with absorbing interest throughout the entire week, and yesterday's crowd was the greatest of all.

Preparations for shipping the show animals is now in progress. Many of the herds at the show grounds have been away from home quarters since the beginning of the late Summer fairs in August. Some of the big herds will be shipped to Portland to be entered at the Pacific International Show next week.

The climax of the week's festivities was reached last night, when the annual horse show was held at the exposition grounds. Not only was it of great interest to stockmen, but it formed one of the striking social events of the season. More than 10,000 persons were in attendance, and the scene presented was one of unusual splendor. Bunting and flags were in profusion, and myriad electric lights turned the night into day. In the arena was a marvelous representation of the livestock world, where the prize stallions danced and pranced to the choice selections rendered by military bands from neighboring towns. Howard Turnley, of Rosalia, acted as ringmaster, assisted by Mr. Krantz.

Queen Letitia and her court entered on a throne attractively draped in white and drawn by four great black horses. As the float entered the band played the "Star-Spangled Banner," and the audience rose in tribute. The young women comprising Queen Letitia's court were Misses Grace Phillips, Lewiston; Daisy Zieger, Clarkston; Agnes Prichard, Astoria; Eleanor Stacy, Walla Walla; Margaret Exaby, Douglas; Clara Dahler, Sities; Myrtle James, Ilwaco; Gladys Armstrong, Lapwai; Ruth Reinro, Pullman; Lucille Bloom, Colfax; Audrey Botham, Coeur d'Alene; Lola Ramey, Nez Perce; Elizabeth Rehall, White Bird, and Lydia Horn, Rosalia.

Thomas Wren, of the firm of Wren & Greenough, having large holdings in the Grangeville country, was elected president of the ensuing year; D. S. Wallace, of Lewiston, was elected vice-president.

Upon further consideration, at another meeting of the Board, held two days later, it was decided to eliminate every possible item from the budget and endeavor to bring it down to $2,705,000, the amount that could be levied under said 6 per cent tax-limitation bill, and, if we succeeded in doing so, to certify said amount to the State Tax Commission as the state budget; but, if the expenses could not be brought down to that amount, or less, we would refer the matter to the Attorney-General for his opinion as to whether the Board should proceed under the above-cited amended sections, 3643 and 3644, or

SALEM, Or., Dec. 2.—The following letter has been sent to the Portland Journal: Salem, Or., Dec. 1, 1916.—Editor Portland Journal, Portland, Ore.—Dear Sir: My attention has been called to an editorial in your issue of November 29, in which you state, "It is not fair nor just for Governor Withcombe and State Treasurer Kay to attempt, by indirection or evasion, to cast the entire burden of the 6 per cent tax-limitation amendment upon the counties and other taxing districts of the state," and I desire to state that I most emphatically agree with you in this assertion, and repeat what I stated to you in a communication under date of November 17, as follows:

"Since the voters of the state have expressed their desire to have the expenditures limited to 6 per cent in 1917, I shall seriously oppose any act that, by subterfuge or otherwise, will thwart the will of the people expressed by their ballots at the recent election," and I have never, at any time, had any intention of, in any manner, doing likewise.

whether the same was abrogated by the Board (Secretary Oloct being present) were unanimous in deciding to certify to the State Tax Commission the amount of money we believed would be necessary for the expenses of the state, as required by the Board, under the provisions of sections 3643 and 3644, as amended in chapter 193, Laws of Oregon, session of 1915; it being considered that the 6 per cent tax limitation amendment did not change the duties of the Board under the above-cited sections.

LARGER HATCHERY SOUGHT

Grays Harbor Interests Want Chellis Plant Improved. ABERDEEN, Wash., Dec. 2.—(Special.)—Enlargement of the Chellis salmon hatchery so that it will ultimately hatch and care for 100,000,000 baby salmon is being seriously considered by the fishing interests of the harbor. The chief improvement needed is the building of a large rearing pond where the small fish can be kept. The hatchery now incubates 35,000,000 eggs annually, but nearly half of the fish are set free in streams outside this county.

HOW TO BE SLIM

If you are too fat and want to reduce your weight 15 or 20 pounds, don't starve and weaken your system, or think you must always be laughed at on account of your fat, but go to any good druggist and get a box of Oil of Kerein capsules, take one after each meal and one before retiring at night.

DRINK HOT TEA FOR A BAD COLD

Get a small package of Hamburg Breast Tea, or as the German folks call it, "Hamburg Brust Thee," at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water on it, pour through a sieve and drink a teacup full at any time. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores, relieving congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus breaking a cold at once. It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore harmless.—ADV.
