PLANTS TO BE BACKED

MARSHFIELD CHAMBER TO RAISE $50,000 FOR ENTERPRISES.

Promoters of New Plan Believe More Industries Will Be Obtained Than by Hooklet Method.

MARSHFIELD, Or., Dec. 9.—(Special.)—The Marshfield Chamber of Commerce has set in motion a scheme of changing radically the methods which have been in force for the past ten years. Instead of depending upon printed literature the chamber will be organized as a corporation and proceed to gather an industrial fund to encourage prospective manufacturers in locating here and aid them in financing their industries.

The final report will not be submitted until the first meeting of January and in the meantime the details will be worked out by the judiciary committee and a special committee of five men appointed as aides, with Dr. E. Mingus, who suggested the change, as chairman. The new idea is a replica of the Madison, Wis. method. In that city a corporation was formed and a fund of $50,000 working capital was provided. The success attending the scheme was so marked the fund has been turned several times and industries have sprung up which furnish employment to many hundreds.

Leading members of the Marshfield chamber, such as President Hugh McLean, J. Albert Matson, E. M. Jennings, Charles F. McKnight, F. E. Conway, Charles Hall, A. T. Haines, I. S. Kaufman, J. S. Lyons, C. L. Reigard and others, indorsed the movement unqualifiedly.

During the discussions Dr. E. Mingus said the chamber in ten years' activity had not secured one industry that could be traced to the efforts of the chamber, although the organization had expended more than $40,000.

ANCIENT ORDER OF HIBERNIANS ELECTS NEW OFFICERS.

In Response to Appeal for Support of Christie Orphan Home Movement $220 Is Subscribed.

The annual election of the Ancient Order of Hibernians was held in Hibernian Hall, 340 Ross street, last Monday night. So keen was the interest in the election that the big hall was crowded to the doors.

P. J. Hanley was elected president for the coming year. Mr. Hanley is also past grand knight of the Knights of Columbus. Other officers chosen were as follows:

Francis J. McMenamin, vice-president; Edmund Murnane, recording secretary; Peter Shevlin, financial secretary; John Farrell, treasurer; P. E. Dougherty, sergeant-at-arms; Matt Frouman, sentinel.

J. L. Ledwidge was elected chairman of the standing committee. Other members chosen on this committee were William Drennan, Oliver Lynch, Jack Emmet and S. J. Kelly.

In response to an appeal for support for the Christie Orphan Home movement the Hibernians raised $220 at the meeting. The organization has given more than $800 for charitable purposes such as the Christie Home project in the past eight years. The Home was strongly indorsed.

It was announced that the Ancient Order of Hibernians is in a particularly flourishing condition, and that its finances are in fine shape.

Another big meeting is to be held at Hibernian Hall next Thursday night, December 14, when the Catholic Order of Foresters of Albina will give a benefit entertainment for the Christie Orphan Home. The entertainment will be given by home talent and all the proceeds will be turned over to the Home.

College Dance Well Attended.

A large number of the Reed College faculty and students attended the last formal dance of the semester which was given by the Conus Club, the organization in charge of all college dances, in the assembly hall of the arts building last night. Dr. and Mrs. Harry B. Torrey, Dr. and Mrs. William F. Ogden and Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Leigh were patrons and patronesses.

PIG AGENT GOES EAST

L. J. Allen Leaves for Convention of Workers at Washington.

L. J. Allen, who has been in the city for some time, is leaving for Washington, D. C., to attend the annual convention of the National Union of Agricultural Workers, which will be held in the city of the national conference of pig club agents to be held at Washington December 11 to 18. L. J. Allen, special pig club agent for this state, left Corvallis last Saturday to make the trip East to the conference.

Oregon is one of the 14 states that employ special agents in this work. Mr. Allen has only been directing the work one year, but already bankers and business men are backing up his efforts to produce a class of expert hograisers in the coming generation. Two hundred boys completed work in this line in the last year.

LOGGING CAMPS TO CLOSE

Many Men Will Be Out of Work on Lewis River.

WOODLAND, Wash., Dec. 9.—(Special.)—The closing down of the logging camp at Ariel last week will be followed by the closing of the Hina Logging Company at Etna about December 16, the former for the winter and the latter indefinitely. This will throw about 125 men out of employment. The Christensen camp at Yale, employing about 40 men, and the Tenny camp at Reno, with about 25, and the sawmill of Higdon & Bennett, employing about the same number, and a small camp of Andy Kramer, at Ariel, will be the only camps operating on Lewis River this winter.

It is estimated that the big log jam on Lewis River now contains from 12,000,000 to 15,000,000 feet of logs, and it is not expected that this jam can be broken until there is a heavy rise in the river.

CITY CHURCHES CLUSTERED

Six Places of Worship Within Two Blocks of Albany Courthouse.

ALBANY, Or., Dec. 9.—(Special.)—The Linn County Courthouse is in the center of an area in which most churches are situated than is probably the case with any other public building, or any building for that matter, in the state.

On three of the four street intersections at the corners of the Courthouse block a church is situated, and on the other corner there is a church only one block away. Within a distance of two blocks from the Courthouse in the various directions there are six churches; another three blocks distant and another four blocks distant. The churches situated in this area include all of the larger church edifices in the city.

HOTEL EMPLOYE PLAINIFF

Martha Kays, 60, Says She Was Beaten in Kitchen Fight.

A quarrel in the kitchen of the Waucenter Hotel at Astoria last June led to an assault by Mr. and Mrs. John Lang upon Martha Kays, a domestic, who is 60 years old and blind, with the result that an arm of the elderly woman was broken and she was bruised painfully. It is charged in a complaint filed in the Circuit Court yesterday, in which damages of $5000 are asked by Mrs. Kays.

The plaintiff was washing dishes at the time the altercation began, alleges the complaint filed by Attorney W. A. Burke.
