Mrs. Robert Skeen, one of the hostesses for the Scottish Rite Christmas party Thursday.

Miss Tirzah L. McMiller, whose engagement was announced last week.

Miss Arlene Slatten, who will leave this week for California, her new residence.

Clarence LeRoy Branch, of Denver, Colo. The wedding took place early in December at Denver, and was a complete surprise to both families and the many friends of both Mr. and Mrs. Branch, who formerly were in Portland. They will make their home in Denver.

and Mrs. A. R. Wollerberg and Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe M. Wright.

Miss Margaret Templeton was one of the hostesses of the past week, when she entertained the bridal party and close friends of Miss Ruth Fraley, who became Mrs. Eldon Furlish at the smart wedding Thursday evening.

Lovely pink begonias decorated the dining-room, and azaleas the drawing-room and library. The refreshments also carried out the color scheme.

Miss Templeton is a charming girl in her junior year in college. One of the most interesting features of the afternoon was the reading of a poem she wrote on the Fraley-Furlish wedding. The poem creates a great deal of merit, and showed her characteristic humor and talent in weaving the two names. A copy was presented to each guest, and was attractively ornamented with pink ribbon.

The Scottish Rite Christmas party was held Thursday night at the Cathedral on Morrison street. It was the second party of the series 1916-1917, and like its predecessor was a huge success. The decorations were unusual, consisting of a large Christmas tree with electric lights and handsome em-bellishments. This tree was erected in the southwest corner of the hall and 20 smaller trees were arranged at intervals around it, all the trees being decorated with electric lights arranged in varied colors, and appropriate lighting effects in a single color characterized the various dances.

Dr. E. A. Pierce impersonated Santa Claus, making a fine speech, and delivering the presents with a generous hand. The enjoyment was so keen that the members were loath to adjourn at the regular hour and the party was continued until 1 o'clock. Gifts and honors were won by Miss Ristig and Mr. Grombacher. Supper was served in the main dining-room. Robert Skeen, who had charge of the decorations and light effects, and the entire committee received warm credit for their work.

Those attending were: all the ladies Mesdames L. G. Clarke, C. E. Runyon, A. C. Callan, N. U. Carpenter, F. W. Skiff, F. L. Trullinger, W. J. Hofmann, George L. Baker, Bert M. Dixon, A. Miss Diantha Hubert, of Seattle, became the bride of Willard C. Keyes, of Seattle, Thursday night at the home of the bride's brother, Alexander L. Hubert, at 8:45 o'clock. Rev. Luther R. Drott officiated. The bride has been visiting in this city with her father, J. R. and R. C. Hubert, and their families for a few weeks. It was a simple ceremony with only a dozen close friends in attendance. The couple were unattended. Mr. and Mrs. Keyes left for their new home at Emmet, Idaho, Friday. Mrs. Keyes is a daughter of the late Francis R. Hubert, a well-known Seattle man.

A surprise party was given at the home of Mrs. E. C. Kroll Wednesday in honor of Mrs. Frank E. Diabrow, of Seattle, formerly of this city. A delightful luncheon 500 was played. Prizes were won by Mrs. G. Olliver and Mrs. Joyce, present were Mrs. J. C. Johnson, Mrs. Joyce, Mrs. E. G. Erickson, Mrs. J. Albright, Mrs. W. A. Gill, Mrs. B. F. Peardick, Mrs. D. L. Foyce, Mrs. C. In the evening Mrs. P. Boon also entertained at dinner for Mrs. F. E. Diabrow. Covers were laid for nine.

A New Year's ball will be given at Multnomah Hotel Thursday evening, January 4, by the Swedish Club. The committee, Dr. J. Emil Nelson, Conrad P. Olson and E. E. Peterson, have completed arrangements for a highly entertaining. The non-dancers will be entertained at cards. The members of the club and their friends anticipate a successful party.

Plans are being made for the annual Christmas party of the Daughters of the Confederacy, which will take place on Thursday night, January 19, at Multnomah Hotel. This is one of the notable events of the season.

The Alpha Chi sorority of the Oregon Agricultural College entertained Wednesday at the home of Mrs. W. O. Olson on Terrace Heights. The tea was given in honor of Miss Elaine Gelsinger, of New York, who is visiting the holiday season as the guest of Miss Alice Cornwall. The house was charmingly decorated with graceful clusters of narcissus and bows of tulle, yellow and white constituting the color scheme. The receiving line comprised the Misses Alice Cornwall, Ruth Kelly, Elaine Gelsinger, Katherine Warner and Mrs. Olson. Tea was served in the dining-room by Mrs. Dell Stuart and Mrs. Mary E. Fawcett, assisted by the Misses Marjorie Arnold, Barbara Nisley, Enola Bracons and Marjorie Crittenden.

Mrs. Joseph R. Bowles and daughter, Marion, have returned from a trip to New York and other Eastern cities. Mr. Bowles will join them this week, as business detained him in the East.

The engagement of Miss Beulah Hayes, which was announced Friday afternoon, to Malcolom Robert MacEwan was one of the most interesting surprises of the week. The news was told at an informal bride-tee for which Mrs. Seth Steven Hayes, mother of the bride-elect, was hostess. The guests being closest friends, Mr. MacEwan is the son of Mrs. J. W. Hill and is a popular and clever young man. He formerly attended Hill Military School here and is now with the United States National Bank at Eugene.

Miss Hayes is a charming and attractive girl and has a host of friends among the younger set. She was graduated from Portland Academy and also attended the University of Oregon. She is a Kappa Alpha Theta girl. The wedding will be a smart event of April only attended.

Miss Mary Meldrum and Frederick Shields, of Spokane, have chosen January 11 for their wedding day. The affair will be solemnized at the home of Miss Meldrum's cousin, Mrs. Joseph N. Teal, and will be very simple. Miss Trace Kern will be the bride-elect's only attendant.

Wednesday Miss Meldrum will be honored for a tea to be given by Miss Elias Parker, and tonight Dr. and Mrs. Frederick A. Kiehl have asked a number of guests to supper in honor of the bride-to-be.

Miss Margaret Ayer was the inspiration for a charming luncheon, presided over by Mrs. Luis Abell, on Wednesday, followed by an Orpheum party.
