Sale House Dresses and Aprons

THIS is just about the time most women find their house and morning dresses becoming somewhat faded and worn in appearance—so this splendid sale of inexpensive house dresses is most opportune! In addition to that, cottons of all sorts are increasing so steadily in price that a good house dress at a low price is indeed hard to obtain.

—We have gathered all odds and ends—broken assortments of styles, colors and sizes and grouped them for this big sale. Included are a number of the famous "Dix" Dresses and many nurses' uniforms—both white and colored styles.

—There are ginghams, percales and chambrays, made with long and short sleeves—some trimmed with embroidery, others quite plain. Since quantities of each style are limited—early shopping is advised.
