

FOES OF DIVISION TAKE BACK CAMPAIGN

Oregon City Mass Meeting Is Called to Oppose Plan for Cascade County.

CLUB COMMITTEE IS ACTIVE

Support of Senator Dimick to Defeat Measure Is Obtained and Small Towns Are to Be Called On to Fight.

OREGON CITY, Or., Jan. 13.—(Special.)—A meeting of the Commercial Club division committee was held at the Commercial Club parlors today. It was the unanimous sentiment that the committee is opposed to any county division, and that it was doing all in its power to defeat the county division measures. A meeting of the Commercial Club and the citizens of Oregon City has been called for Monday, January 15, at 8:00 o'clock, to consider the county division measures. This meeting will be held at the Commercial Club parlors. A meeting was held at Colton on Friday night, and was very enthusiastic, there being about 50 taxpayers in attendance. Those attending were unanimously against the county division. A committee was appointed to take up this matter and to circulate petitions against the movement.

Sentinel Dimick to Help.
J. W. Reed, R. M. Standish and Walter Givens, of Estacada, after a full attempt to gain the support of the Commercial Club committee for the creation of Cascade County, left for home tonight, and it is expected that a bill providing for the establishment of the new county will be presented in the House of Representatives early next week.

Members of the Commercial Club committee took the position that they had been instructed by the club to fight county division and in the absence of other instructions, the committee would feel that it was obliged to carry out the wishes of the body that created it. To the fight the Commercial Club will have the aid of Senator Walter A. Dimick, who is a member of the Senate committee on counties. It is believed the bill will be referred if it ever reaches the Senate.

Multnomah Not Touched.

Opponents to county division here argue that the lines are improperly drawn, and that if any county existed for the division of Clackamas County by carving out its eastern half, that the line should run north and south, through Multnomah County. Under the proposed division, a handle about four miles wide is left in Clackamas County, containing the Boring and Sandy districts and the Bull Run power plant. The divisionists are full of fight and, if they fail to carry their bill through the Legislature, then they will endeavor to secure the enactment of a law changing the existing method of creating counties under the initiative by leaving the matter solely within the hands of the voters of the district embraced within the proposed county, and specifying that a favorable vote of 65 per cent of those voting on the measure must be obtained. Under the present law 65 per cent of the vote cast within the boundaries of the proposed new county and 45 per cent of that within the part of the county left untouched is required before a new county can be created. The Estacada people say the time is ripe for the passage of such a measure.

Engle Creek Is Opposed.

It is a matter of common report here that residents of the Boring and Sandy districts would not object to being annexed to Multnomah County, though there is no program prepared to accomplish this object. Some of the oldest residents of Clackamas County living in Engle Creek, including Noah Stingley and A. D. Burnett, are bitterly opposed to a division of the county. It has been suggested that the division would be better geographically by running the north and south line to Multnomah County, but this proceeding would invite the opposition of Boring and Sandy residents.

C. D. Ely, chairman of the Commercial Club committee, addressed an anti-division meeting at Colton last night, and Joseph E. Hedges and Lily Stipp talked at a division meeting in Estacada. C. Schuchert went to the Kruse district tonight to address a meeting in opposition to the annexation of the Oswego territory to Multnomah County.

SPLIT IS EXPECTED TO SAVE

Estacada Meeting Declares County
Division More Economical.

ESTACADA, Or., Jan. 13.—(Special.)—A bill to create Cascade County will be introduced at the Legislature next week. It was announced at a mass meeting of voters of the district affected last night, that the Estacada people are in favor of the division. Hedges, attorneys of Oregon City, represented the opposition to the county division plans at the meeting. He brought out that 90 per cent of the voters already had signed petitions asking for the creation of the new county.

Estacada country, it was pointed out, now pays one-fifth of the taxes of the county. Salaries now paid Clackamas officials reach $25,000, where the salaries of the officials of the new county would be only $800. Operation costs of the county now are $740,150; for Cascade they would be $145,796. Income from offices now is $25,000. For Cascade it would be $500. The budget for the county is $137,212; for Cascade it would be $45,550. A tax of 1.5 mills, as compared to 1.5 mills now levied, is estimated to be necessary.

It was also declared that Oregon City is under a misapprehension as to the boundary lines, and that the county which Highland, Clark's and Colton are not included in the proposed county.

LUMBERMAN IS SCALDED

Springfield Mill Superintendent Is Burned by Furnace Pit.

EUGENE, Or., Jan. 13.—(Special.)—Milton Bally, aged 40 years, was seriously scalded at the Fischer-Boutin Lumber Company's mill at Springfield at about 7:30 o'clock this morning when he entered a furnace pit for the purpose of cleaning it. He believed the pipes drained and as he turned a tap the steam burst upon him. Before workmen could come to his rescue his legs were cooked to the hips. He called for help and buried his head and face in ashes to keep from inhaling the steam. Mr. Bally was stockholder in the Fischer-Boutin Company and superintendent of the mill.

He was taken to the Springfield Hospital in an unconscious state. He is married and has one son, Ray Bally, a high school student at Springfield.

Von Herberg wires: Throngs come to see "Truthful Tulliver"—
All Seattle records broken—A play that arouses great enthusiasm—Most interesting character Hart ever portrayed.

Seattle, Jan. 13.—(Special.)—The play "Truthful Tulliver" by Von Herberg, which has been running at the Seattle Theatre since its opening, has broken all records for attendance. The throngs of people coming to see the play are so large that the theatre is unable to accommodate them. The play is a comedy and is full of humor and pathos. It is a story of a man who is a liar and who is eventually brought to his senses. The play is a masterpiece of the art of the theatre and is a must for all who love the stage.

YEAR'S WORK REVIEWED

Outgoing Administration Recommends
Building of New Home,
Street Light Installation and Planting of Flowers.

MULTNOMAH, Or., Jan. 13.—(Special.)—At the annual meeting of the Multnomah Commercial Club, held at Pfeiffer's Hall, in Multnomah, on Wednesday, the following officers took the chairs for the coming year: J. O. Stearns, Jr., president; Dr. J. L. Loomis, first vice-president; J. E. Ryan, second vice-president; C. L. Ziegler, secretary; Ned Burke, treasurer.

Dr. Douglas, retiring president, who has been president of the club for the last four years, was unable to preside. Ben Rieksland, first vice-president of the club, presided at the meeting. Secretary Ehle and Treasurer Estock made their reports, after which Vice-President Rieksland reviewed the work which had been accomplished by the club in the past several years.

He said, in part, that the Commercial Club was responsible for all progressive movements in Multnomah. It had obtained the reduction of fares from 10 cents to 5 cents on the Oregon Electric; had graded and macadamized Clinton street, connecting the station with the Capital Highway; had laid several miles of walks in all directions from Multnomah station, making it possible for the residents thereabouts to reach the station by comfortable and direct routes; had obtained for the citizens telephones, electric lights, Bull Run water, United States postoffice and the hard surface of the Capital Highway.

The five miles of cement pavement is really the greatest victory which the Multnomah Commercial Club has to its credit, the speaker said. By hard work and the cooperation of the club, assisted by the citizens of that section, induced the County Commissioners to include this road in its improvement plan at a cost of $25,000, and it is now possible to drive on hard surface all the way from the heart of the city of Portland, by way of the Terwilliger Boulevard through Multnomah, to the county limits.

A detailed report was made on the Fourth of July celebration which was held at Multnomah last Sunday. The club also fostered and developed a fine baseball diamond.

The outgoing administration recommended that the club apply itself diligently to the building of a new clubhouse, to be located on the Capital Highway, and the installation of street lights and the maintenance of a beautifying committee to plant flowers and shrubs in public squares and street parkings.

The meeting Wednesday night was very enthusiastic. Much development work is expected of the new officers.
