Princess Silverware advertisement. 'Of Interest to the many who admire and possess our beautiful Princess Silverware is the fact that its price is not affected by the general advance in plated and solid silverware. We believe the "PRINCESS" to be the most charming of patterns, and superior in finish and plate to the commonplace, which has a tendency to scale. The graceful contour and beauty of design have made it one of the most popular of patterns. In fact, many of Portland's leading families find that it accords most harmoniously with their best sterling silver. "PRINCESS" prices are as much in favor as the pattern itself. 25 YEARS AGO

From Sunday Oregonian, January 24, 1892. Miss Sallie Lewis' German. Miss Sallie Lewis gave a delightful collation on Friday evening, which was one of the most enjoyable affairs of the season. The spacious residence was beautifully decorated with love roses, rare exotics and tracteries of graceful stulax. The large drawing-room and the library adjoining were canvassed and devoted to the dancers while the musicians were stationed in the music-room. At 9 o'clock the German began, led by Lieutenant Fred W. Sladen and Miss Phyllis Lewis. Lieutenant Sladen had arranged a number of very pretty and attractive figures, several of which were composed expressly for the occasion, and they were most successfully carried out. Some of the evolutions were extremely effective and the entire German was one of the most brilliant ever given in the city. The favors were supplied with a liberal hand and were unique and pretty, while the silver seven favors were beautiful. At 11 o'clock a delicious supper was served, after which dancing was resumed.

Leap Year Party.

On Thursday evening last the Pleaser Club gave their fourth party of the season at the Marquam Grand Hall. It being leap year, the affair was wisely in the hands of the ladies. The young gentlemen were received by the reception committee, composed of Mrs. George Hazlett, Mrs. H. W. Cardwell and Miss Eva Davenport, while the four committee consisted of Miss Maud Kellogg, Miss Agnes Dunbar, Miss Bertha Burkhardt. Much credit is due the young ladies for the perfect manner in which they performed their duties. About 12 o'clock the guests all partook of a light supper, which had been prepared for them in the cafe below, after which all continued tripping the light fantastic until a late hour. Those present were: D. J. Zan, Edward Davies, William M. Kapsus, George W. Kiefer, for a few weeks' party; Mr. Mottet, H. P. Pilkington, H. F. Clark, Edward F. Hooker, R. F. Prael, Sherman D. Brown, E. L. Powell, A. J. Conlan, Otto Burkhardt, J. C. Davis, E. T. Chase, Edward Norton, Percy Edsall, F. N. Henion, M. S. Jameson, J. B. Carroll, George Lawrence, J. S. A. Herrine, Walter C. MacFarland, Otto Bierback, Thomas Farrell, F. W. Leadbetter, A. L. Parkhurst, Ned Lawrence, George N. Wolfe, V. C. Lewis, J. G. Dardur. The escorts of the evening were: Miss Maud Kellogg, Miss Etta Moore, Miss Etta Bailey, Miss Clara Pitcock, Miss Frankie Jones, Miss Florence
