GLOBE PRESENTS WAR FILM

"A Daughter of the Hun" Is Unusual Seven-Part Feature.

"A Daughter of the Hun," an unusual seven-part feature showing scenes of actual warfare on land and sea, opens an engagement at the Globe Theater today.

This spectacular photoplay was made in France by the Film d'Art, with a noted cast of French players.

Through this series of war pictures runs a love-story involving a little French girl who lives with a Hun, an alien in the land of the French.

Lillian Hamilton, as a little girl, tolerated dolls not so much from the mother instinct, but because they served as a diversion from the drudgery she staged on the nursery floor.

John Bowers played opposite Mary Pickford in "The Eternal Grind," "Hilda from Holland" and other photodramas during an eventful screen career which includes services with Metro and World, as well as Famous Players.

Francis X. Bushman, star of Matero's new 14-episode photoplay serial, "The Great Secret," owns a lovely country home called "Bushman" at Green Valley Springs, Maryland.

Harry Lonsdale was born in Worcester, England, and was educated at the Worcester Cathedral.

Mary Birch Maurice, who is known to millions of fans as "Mother" Maurice, has been in the public eye since Civil War days.

Mae Murray, the Lasky star, will always be remembered for her terpsichorean antics at Ziegfeld's Follies and as a teacher of new dances before entering pictures.

Doll's House" and Kallich in "The Kreutzer Sonata." She joined Vitagraph in 1916 and is now with Trans-houser. She recently shone in "The Shine Girl."

Anita King enjoys the distinction of having been the first woman to motor across the continent all by herself, yet she is not a motorist.

Working with the conviction that the story itself is the most important thing in photoplay production, the new series of eight Crane Wilbur features which are being produced by David Horsley under the general title, "The Morals of Man," is expected to meet with great success.

Lillian Hamilton, as a little girl, tolerated dolls not so much from the mother instinct, but because they served as a diversion from the drudgery she staged on the nursery floor.

JOHN MASON IN "THE LIBERTINE"

Not a "White-Slave" Picture; an engrossing drama of today.

"The Libertine"

The Soul-Saving Drama, Delivered With Sledge-Hammer Blows

"The Libertine" is a story of modern life, strong and gripping. It brings home with grim realism the great lesson that "once in every man or woman's life comes the moment to decide in the strife for truth or falsehood for the good or evil side."

The heroine, a young girl, pure and lovely, who is the main support of her widowed mother, is engaged to marry a clean, wholesome young man, who has been her childhood's sweetheart.

EVERY School Teacher, Husband, Housewife, Clergyman, Mother, Brother, Shop Girl, Stenographer, Sister, Father and Every Sweetheart should see
