What's rheumatism? Pain only!
Stop drugging! Not one case in fifty requires internal treatment. Rub the misery right away! Apply soothing, penetrating "St. Jacobs Oil" directly upon the "tender spot" and relief comes instantly. "St. Jacobs Oil" is a harmless rheumatism and sciatica relief which never disappoints and can not burn or discolor the skin.

Limber up! Get a small trial bottle from your druggist, and in just a moment you'll be free from rheumatic and sciatica pain, soreness, stiffness and swelling. Don't suffer! "St. Jacobs Oil" has relieved millions of rheumatism sufferers in the last half century, and is just as good for sciatica, neuralisis, lumbago, backache, sprains and swellings.—Adx.

SALEM, Or., Feb. 3.—(Special.)—But little mention of county division was made at a mass meeting of the people of Eastern Polk County at West Salem, but resolutions were adopted urging that the Polk County Court fall in line with the recommendations of the State Highway Department on construction of an inter-county bridge across the Williamette River here.

The department recommended a steel bridge, which meets approval of the Marion County Court, but is opposed by the Polk County Court, which declared in favor of a concrete structure.

About 250 persons attended the meeting today.

JUDGE GANTENBEIN RULES

Circuit Judge Gantenbein yesterday ing newspapers of Oregon their con-tention that the corrupt practices act, which forbids electioneering or solici-tations of voters on any election day, tations of voters on any election day, does not apply to newspapers.

It has been the practice of The Oregonian and of other such newspapers to publish news and pictorial matter, advertisements and editorial comment in the usual fashion on election days, on the assumption and understanding that it was their constitutional privilege, as well as their public duty. The Journal, evidently inspired by a purpose to prevent a morning newspaper from having the supposed advantage of the "last say," made frequent protests in its columns and recently took its complaints to the grand jury of Multnomah County.

The grand jury made a presentment

Multnomah County.

The grand jury made a presentment of the facts to Presiding Judge Gantenbein, citing a suppositious case and naming a hypothetical newspaper, the "Courier," all based upon the publication by The Oregonian on November 7, 1916 (the day of the Presidential, Congressional and state elections), of a cartoon and various news items, advertisements and recommendations to voters. An explicit ruling by the judge that the law had not been violated and that the law had not been violated and that The Oregonian (described, how-ever, as the "Courler" in the present-ment) was proceeding within its rights was the result. The judge so notified the grand jury

Opposing Brief Submitted.

"Under an interpretation of the law, which arrived at the home of a voter in any section of the state after 8 c'clock on the morning of an election, would be guilty of a violation," argued Attorney Logan.

Deputy District Attorney Hammersly presented the desire of the grand jury for interpretation of the law.

R. W. Hagood, attorney for the Oregon Dally Journal, which had accused The Oregonian of violating the provisions of the act, submitted a brief in the case favoring Indictment of The Courier, but did not appear for argument.

The law for which interpretation was sought was section 3518 of Lord's Oregon Laws, holding that "it shall be unlawful for any person at any place on the day of any election to ask, solicit, or in any manner try to induce or persuade any voter on such election can be unlawful for any person at any place on the day of any election to ask, solicit, or in any manner try to induce or persuade any voter on such election can be unlawful for any candidate etc."

Assertions of Mr. Logan, based on court rulings, were the following:

"A thing may be within the letter of the statute and yet not within the statute, because not within its meaning, nor within the intention of its makers."

"Every case must come, not only within the letter of the law, but within its spirit and purpose as shown in a rational construction of the law."

The advantages of the location on the heights have been pointed out in detail. The position could not be more healthful. The splendid laboratories of the medical school would be available to the hospital, and the poor of the county could have advantages which only the rich can now afford.

There is a macadam road to the medical center site now, and its improvement would be at small cost. Increased cost of construction for a hospital located on Marquam Hill could be more than overbalanced by the sale of rental of the present hospital property at Second and Hooker streets by the county.
