CRACK CLUB TEAM LOSES TO PULMAN

Nine Hundred See Great Basketball Squad Perform on Multnomah Floor.

BOHLER STAR PERFORMER

Ten Fouls Converted and One Field Goal Record of Collegian, Whose Quint Runs Up Score of 28 to 12 for Clubmen.

Portland fans had the first opportunity of seeing the best basketball team that has been here in years when the Washington State College athletes paraded before the Multnomah Amateur Athletic Club representatives in the Winged "M" gymnasium last night. The final count was 28 to 12 in favor of the collegians and a crowd of more than 800 witnessed the defeat of the clubmen.

While the Multnomahs had considerable luck when it came to getting the ball to stay in the net, the visitors had the game so well in hand at all times that they apparently did not show the halfhearted George Dewey, former All-Northwest basketball champion who attended the Oregon Agricultural College, has played against "some" quintets, but he confessed last night that Coach Bohler's delegation was better than anything that he had run up against in many a day.

When the first half ended the register showed 18 to 6, mainly through the foul shooting ability of Captain Roy Bohler. He sank the ball eight times on free throws in as many shots. The Washington States made nine field baskets as against four for the Winged "M" hoopers. Xavier Dewey, who substituted for Captain Clayton Sharp in the first period, was high point-getter, with three field baskets, for six points, while George Dewey was next in line with five markers. Captain Sharp had managed to convert a foul prior to his leaving the floor. By shooting 10 fouls and throwing one field basket, Captain Roy Bohler of the Evergreens, finished as high man of the night, with 12 points. Two substitutions were made by Multnomah, none by Coach Bohler. Coach Bohler and his athletes will remain here today and tonight to take training camp.

The Multnomah Amateur Athletic Club squad will play Dallas at Dallas, Or., next Saturday night, but on the following Saturday night the university of Oregon quintet will be in Portland against the clubmen. Dean Bohler, former University of Oregon athlete, was referee last night.

The line-ups follow:
Wash. State (28) P. (12) Multnomah.
Prater (3) Capt. (3) Dewey
Moss (2) ... (5) ...
Copeland (2) ...
Sorenson ...
Sharp, Morton for M. ...
Walker, referee; C. R. Barton, timer; Harry Fischer, William R. Smyth and Milt Flinch, scorers.

HORSEMAN RECALLS RECORD OF THOMAS LAWSON AS BETTOR

Fred W. Kelley, Secretary of Pacific Coast Trotting Horse Breeders' Association, Says Boston Financier Wagered Thousands on Race.

THOMAS W. LAWSON once was as prominent in the sport light as he is now in the "dark" probe that has been occupying the attention of Congress. The Bostonian was once interested in the sulky sport and his name was represented by a string of blue-blooded trotters and pacers on the elite Grand Circuit.

It was as owner of the trotter Boralma that he established a reputation that still stands and was the sensation of the season of 1909. In the $5000 Transylvania stake at Lexington, October 1909, Lawson started by backing his favorite, Auction pools were the system of wagering, with bids received for first choice. He went up to $5000 to buy the first ticket on Boralma. For the second ticket Lawson paid another $5000.

This stands as the record price ever bid for a ticket on a trotting horse. Boralma took the first three heats and the stake. Lawson is reported to have wagered $10,000 on the side with J. Hubinger, another plunger.

After it was all over Lawson displayed his generosity by presenting all his winnings to charity.

Fred W. Kelley, secretary of the Pacific Coast Trotting Horse Breeders' Association, was present at the time and recalls many of the incidents.

"I can picture Tom Lawson in Congress as he was that day at the Lexington track," he says. "He took the business of betting thousands as calmly as could be imagined. The crowd marveled at his nerve in running the first two tickets up to $5000 each. He simply twirled his cane while betting the additional $20,000."

Leslie James Darcy says his main ambition is to knock out Mike Gibbons, and he is anxious to have a 20-round bout arranged. "In Australia they think Gibbons is the greatest man of his weight in this country," says Darcy. "Therefore they expect me to knock him out or they will think at home that I have been a failure here."

Friend fan maintains that Darcy doesn't have to do "very much" to make the folks at home believe he has been a success. Anyways, what does he care? According to all reports they don't want him back.
