

FARMER SHIES AT TRIP TO HONOLULU

Roster of Beavers Who Will Brave Ocean Dwindles to Seventeen.

DISAPPOINTMENT IS FELT

Pitcher Fincher Asleep Way Down in Arkansas and so Will Not Train on Islands—Holdout Cases Are Pending.

The McCredies were much put out yesterday at receiving a telegram from Floyd Farmer, pitcher outsider, that he could not arrive in Portland from his home at Lebanon, Tenn. in time to make the trip to Honolulu.

Pitchers George Helfrich and Mark Higbee are scheduled to arrive tomorrow. Judge McCredie would like to have pitcher Johnny Brandt, Portland semi-professional, call and see him.

Fred Peters, Portland cigarman and schoolboy friend of pitcher Lyle Beebe, who was raised by Cleveland and Portland and then sold to Louisville, of the American Association, has received a letter from the veteran, wherein he asks Peters to ascertain just what the McCredies were willing to pay him if he signed a two-year contract.

At the time he wrote the letter, Beebe evidently did not know that he had been sold to Louisville. The cash received for him was paid to St. Louis, of the American League for First Baseman "Babe" Borton, who is now holding out for a Federal League salary.

"I didn't want to come to Portland for two reasons. I heard it was very damp and also the season is seven months long. I don't know you personally, what is the most he would give me to pitch with a two-year contract?"

"My record for the last three years is just as good as any pitcher in the country."

"Also hit well each year and was used as pinch hitter. I used to get $550 a month from Louisville before the Federal League made it pay."

"An Am feeding 50 head of steers and outdoors all the time. Have quite a business and can't afford to leave for a small salary. I rent 60 acres to go with my 35 of fruit and alfalfa and share with two brothers who work it for me. Write me the dope."

Fred L. Beebe's ranch is at Paonia, Delta County, Colorado. He appears to be a regular business man for he has his own letterheads. Before the Louisville deal was made, the 35-year-old chucker had written the McCredies saying that he intended to coach a college nine and would like to play in that vicinity.

He asked, as a personal favor, that a deal be made for him.

Nothing new developed yesterday on the cases of Holdouts Al Leake (Rocky Mount), L. D. Brenton (New Orleans), Borton (St. Louis), Paddy Slavin (Pittsburg) and Billy Southworth (holdover). Judge McCredie will write each of them before leaving Tuesday night.

All of the holdouts want more salary with the exception of Brenton secured from New Orleans for Kelly and Nixon. He won't sign until President Fultz, of the fraternity tells him it is liberty to do so.

Those reporting at Stockton will work out with Nick Williams' Spokane Indians until the crew returns from Kankasland.

"I've contended from the start," says Dr. Hardy, "that the rule now in force will cover any case of abusing privileges. We led the fight for three little fellows in the case of players employed only for their reputation as tennis players and who take off the whole Summer for tennis play, the National association can take action and ban them. The boys legitimately employed in sporting goods stores, however, should not be made to suffer for law in defense committed by the players of greater reputation."

At the annual meeting of the Pacific States Association on Thursday the going at the gathering will be discussed. Secretary J. C. Robie will return from the meeting and likely will have some views to present to the Coast tennis leaders. With the amateur question settled, however, the talk of the West breaking away from the East has died down a prominent San Francisco expert today said:

"The fact that the National doubles tournament will be contested like the singles title with no sectional elimination events is approved. The West wanted the old system to stay in force. It is probable that the winners of the Coast doubles will be sent East the same as usual to play through the tournament. Johnston and Griffin, the champions, also will have to play through and not defend their honors in one big match, as was the program heretofore."

West Feels Long Trip. "It makes quite a difference to the Western players. It is all right for the Easterners who are practically within a stone's throw of their homes, but the boys here have to make the long trip across the continent and then have to devote so much time participating in the many matches necessary to go through the tourney."

At a meeting on Thursday delegates from the clubs in the Intercollegiate League last season will be called together to organize another circuit.

The Pacific States Association will sanction the league competition. Clubs from Sacramento, Stockton, Berkeley, Alameda, Oakland, San Jose San Francisco and the universities of California and Stanford likely will be in the league again. The California club was the winner of the first league trophy.

Business of ranking the players on their performances of 1916, mapping out the fixtures for the coming season and other matters will come before the delegates.

TENNIS CONFERENCE OVER; BREAKS EVEN

West Successful in Defeating Rule Proposed to Limit Payment of Expenses.

AMATEUR RULE AMENDED

War Situation Recognized by Authorizing Executive Committee to Cancel All Tournaments Where Warranted.

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—The annual meeting of the United States National Lawn Tennis Association closed early today with a fairly even break between the East and West on questions which caused sectional divisions. The representatives from west of the Alleghenies defeated the proposed amateur rule which would bar from amateur ranks players in the sporting goods business; but all the important National championship tournaments with one exception, were awarded to clubs in the Atlantic states.

As a result of this action, the present amateur rule will stand. This rule permits an amateur tennis player to maintain a connection with a firm manufacturing or selling athletic goods provided he does not sell tennis goods to no greater extent than with any other line of goods. The West was successful also in defeating a rule proposed by the executive committee which would have governed and limited the payment of expenses of players competing in sanctioned tournaments.

A few minor amendments of the amateur rule were adopted. The most important of these provided that a player shall lose his amateur status by permitting or sanctioning the use of his name to advertise or promote the sale of tennis goods for pecuniary profits or by permitting his name to be advertised or published as author of books or articles on tennis of which he is not actually the author.

The meeting recognized the war situation by authorizing the executive committee to cancel all or any sanctioned tournaments in case such action appeared warranted.

The only sectional contest over the award of National tournaments was between the Longwood Club, of Boston, and the Onwentsis Club, of Chicago, both of which applied for the doubles championship. The Boston club won the event by a score of 2-1.

The National singles tournament and the junior and boys' National championship tournament were awarded to the West Side Club, of Forest Hills, L. I.; the women's National singles, doubles and mixed doubles championship to the Philadelphia Cricket Club, and the indoor championships to the Seventh Regiment Club, of New York; the Ohio Lawn Tennis Association, of Cincinnati, defeated the Rock Hill Club, of Kansas City, for possession of the clay courts championships.
