Progressive Community Sing to Be Given at Various Playhouses. Patriotic Services Planned by G. A. H. and Churches.

Portlanders of all ages and all na-tionalities are to revere the memory of George Washington by numerous cele-brations held in honor of the 185th an-niversary of his birth next Thursday.

A number of unique plans for cele-brating the any have been arranged by different organizations of the city and in addition there will be the general round of addresses in the schools and the colonial parties. The variety and scope of the celebrations planned show that the memory of Washington still is that the memory of Washington still is held as dear by true Americans as when the darkeys of the Mount Vernon plan-tation first were called upon to sing "Massa's in the Cold, Cold Ground," accompanied by the mournful strumming of their banjos.

Washington's birthday will be observed as a holiday by all the schools of the city. Many business houses will be closed. The banks will remain closed all day.

Schools Plan Exercises.

A programme of a patriotic character will be participated in by the young Americans, who are being developed there from the various nationalities represented in Portland. An address on Washington will be given by M. Mosessohn.

A license system so, arranged that the city can control photographers who do business by sale of coupons is to be proposed by City Commissioner Bigelow as a result of a petition from photog-raphers asking that the city take steps to curb irresponsible photographers and

The measure would require the photographer selling coupons and the agents and solicitors for the photographer to obtain a license from the city before doing business. There has been considerable complaint of misdealings along this line of late.

She believes firmly in the home and what it stands for—but believes, too, that a woman can be even a better politician for being a good wife and mother. Mrs. Starcher espouses particularly the cause of working women, and reads omnivorously of publications along this line. She is intensely domestic, and an outdoor spirit. She has a riding horse, and drives her own car, 'but I love my horse best,' she admitted. The motto she has pasted in her hat is "Clean Politics." It takes time to convince certain thick-headed ones that suffrage and women in politics is right and desirable, and to secure the enactment of laws giving the ballot to women. I think the amiable picket workers should do their work, cleverly and quietly, around the halls in which the Representatives meet. Mr. Strahorn has advised his Portland office and the committee members that it would not be consistent to start the Portland campaign asking for financial aid until the various tormunities, which had already assumed certair responsibilities, had discharged them. That these responsibilities will be met satisfactorily in a short time is almost certain, because of the popular interest in getting a railroad through Central Oregon, but until that assurance is patent Mr. Strahorn prefers to hold off the Portland campaign. Programme to Be Carried Out.

"It has been understood all along that the surveys, rights of way, terminals and franchises and practically all other assistance asked for in the Central Oregon field would be arranged before Portland would be asked for its contribution." Mr. Strahorn ad-
